It Takes Something To Be a Crusader

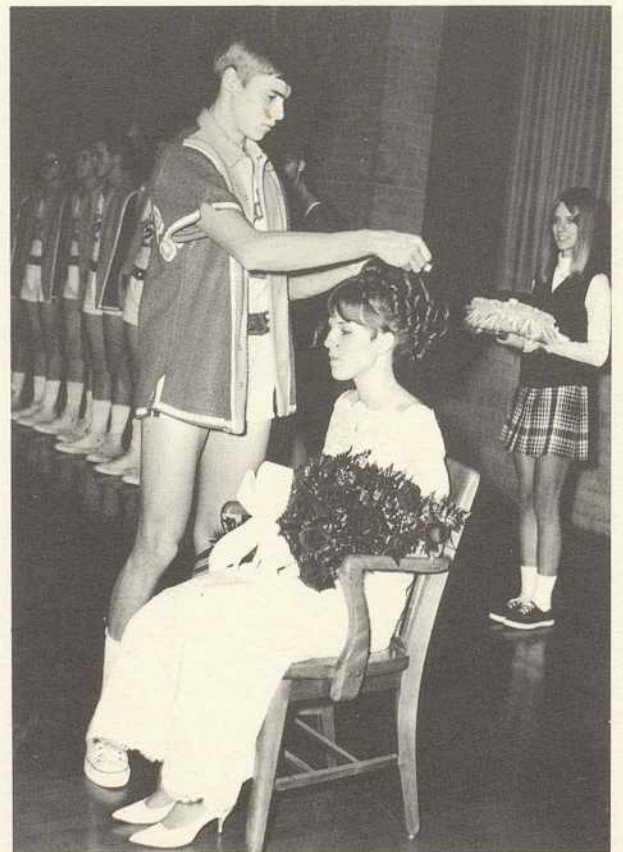

IT TAKES SOMETHING TO BE A CRUSADER. They have the true spirit; they excel in it. They are active in all ways—academically, socially, and athletically. Their lives are filled with classes, sports, friends, work, dances, events, studies, hobbies, clubs, and fun. Crusaders maintain an interest in everyone and everything around them. They have pep and a certain vitality about them. Crusaders have pride in their school and in themselves. They show it in everything they do and say. Crusaders aren't afraid. They try hard. They do their best at all times. They will challenge the world and face the results. At FHS they have it.

Debbies Majestic Moment

At far right, Miss Debbie Brahm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hank Brahm of Ferdinand, reigned as the 1969-70 Crusader Basketball Queen. Above, members of Senior court were: Marlene Daunhauer, Clara Hagedorn, Linda Lueken, Patty Nord, Carol Oeding, Rachel Verkamp, Jane Welp and Darla Werne. The Court, along with other Seniors, created and arranged their own setting for "Debbie's Majestic Moment." At right, Chet Schuler, president of the Student Council and senior varsity play, crowns Queen Debbie.

Historical and Contemporary Aspects of Christmas Portrayed Through Music

Shepherds, Mike Steckler and Eugene Kerstiens, adore the Christ Child, along with Mary (Kathy Knust) and Joseph (Rick Fleig).

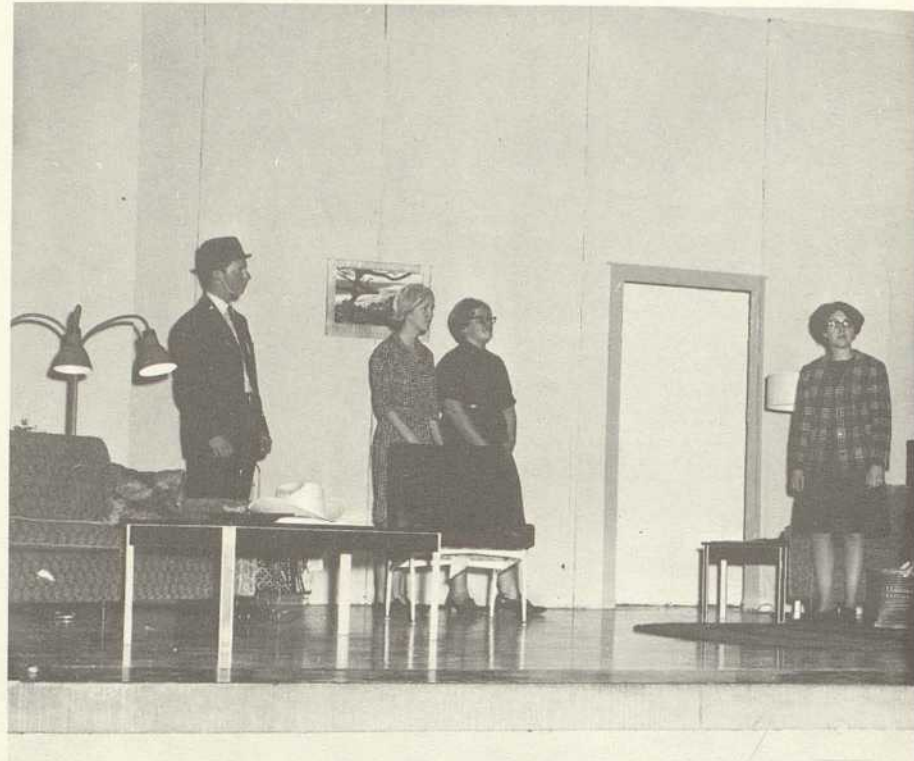

The Chorus, accompanied by Marilyn and Barbara Snyder, sings a religious selection.

The Glee Club and Band of FHS, under the direction of Sister Dolores Marie and Mr. Keusch, jointly produced the Christmas musical entitled "Christmas Is," which was given December 21. Included in the repertoire were songs of both religious and contemporary ideas. The program ended in a three-dimensional effect with the Glee Club and audience singing "Silver Bells" to the accompaniment of the Band.

Seniors Display Talents in Comedy

"Deadly Ernest"

Above: "I'm breathing right down your neck,"—Sleepy. "I knows that. Would you mind stepping back?" Bumpus (Ken Schipp) retorts. Below: Dan Schipp and Ken Schipp discuss current events on a lonely park bench in the class play "Deadly Ernest."

Band Displays Talent in Annual Spring Concert

"The Spring Concert," held May 8, was the last public performance of the FHS band and drill team. Selections ranged from popular tunes by Glen Campbell to classical works by Tchaikowsky. Upper left: Mr. Gene Keusch directs the band in the selection "I do I do." Lower left: Drill team perform routine to "The Stripper." Below: Percussionists Barbara Snyder, Margie Pund, Carol Oeding and June Greenwell drum out the rhythm. Right: J. Ebert, J. Nord, D. Schipp, R. Nord, and Ken Schipp provide the melody and harmony.

"Colonial Cotillion" Provides Southern

June Greenwell, Elaine Becher and Elaine Zink serve punch to Jerri Kemper.

Rick Wendholt escorts Kathy Knust and Rick Fleig to their table. Vicki Erhart and Gene Braunecker enter the "Colonial Cotillion."

Spring Atmosphere

Below: Sylvia Zink, Janis Kemper, Sue Johanneman hang crepe paper in preparation for the prom. Right: Linda Lueken dances with date.

"Colonial Cotillion" provided the appropriate atmosphere for the annual Junior-Senior Prom held April 25, 1970. Chosen by the Juniors to serve as King and Queen were seniors Tom Wyeer and Connie Bolte. The grape arbor, weeping willow, dogwood, the mural with the colonial scene, and the ceiling which blossomed with pastel shades of green, pink, and yellow constituted the main decoration theme. Colonialism was emphasized by the old-fashioned dress of the girls who served refreshments and the ushers. Highlights which will smilingly be recalled were the falling of part of the ceiling decorations, forgetting the crowns for the King and Queen, the fact that no one danced for the first half hour, and the ushers who took the girls' arms instead of offering theirs.

Scholastic Achievers Receive Recognition, Honors

Accepting awards for Shorthand I and German II is Mary Jane Schlachter.

The seventh annual Honors Assembly was held in Ferdinand High School gym on May 6. Awards were presented by Principal Dennis E. Tyring. High scholastic achievement awards were presented to Rachel Verkamp and Gene Olinger, respectively. The following received special awards: Service, Mary Sue Schuler; "I DARE YOU" Leadership, Rachel Verkamp and Gene Olinger; Citizenship, Rachel Verkamp; Betty Crocker Homemaking Award, Debbie Brahm; Drill Team Captain, Linda Lueken, LANCE Co-editor Donna Hancock; Yearbook Editor, Patty Nord.

Principal Dennis E. Tyring pronounces Rachel Verkamp Valedictorian and Gene Olinger Salutatorian as rewards for highest scholastic achievement. Below: Joe Vaal accepts U.S. History, advanced algebra, chemistry, and book-keeping honors.

Duane Meyer conveys the message of "Holly Holy" with the musical accompaniment of his fellow classmates.

Pop Concert Features Contemporary Music

The first pop concert was held at FHS on March 13th. The band, chorus, and other contemporary musicians joined to display their idea of music the way it is today. Immediately after the concert, a dance was held featuring the "Soul Society," a pop group from Jasper.

Seniors Take Final

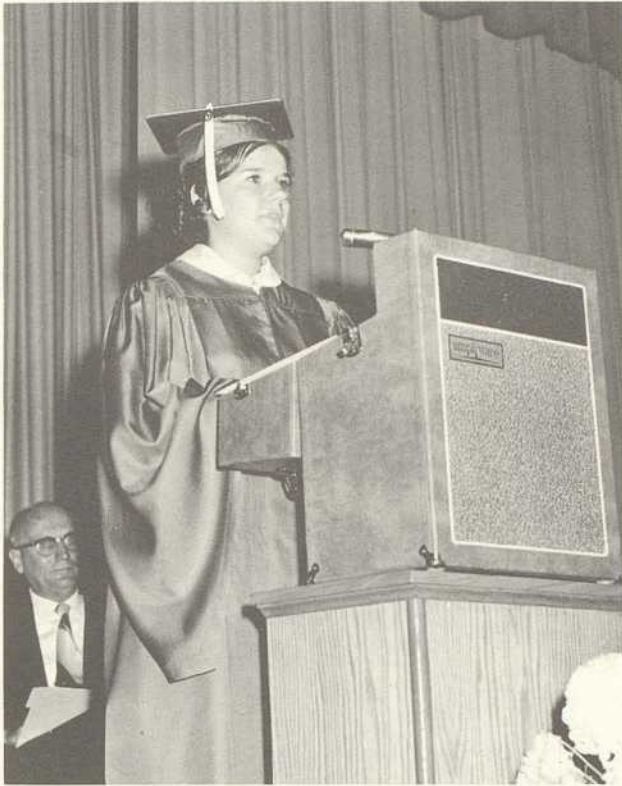

Above: Dr. Orley R. Herron, Jr., Assistant to the President of Indiana State University, delivers his address, "The Challenge of a Cataclysmic Age." Lower right: Mary Gerber and Ed Gudorf turn their tassels as the commencement exercises come to an end.

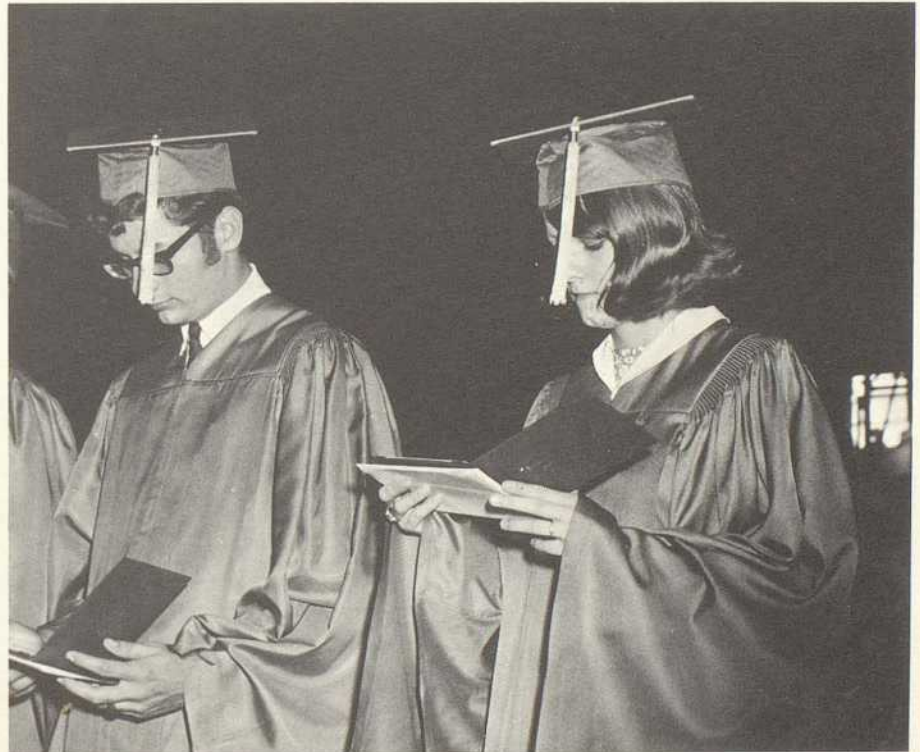

Graduation Day is one which is looked forward to by many. It is a day which brings a sadness and a fear of leaving old friends and making new ones. In another way, it brings on joy and anticipation of looking forward to a new future. For everyone, it is a day that will always be remembered as the last time the class of '70 will be together as one body working together.

Step to Graduation

Responsibility, Creativity

Superintendent Buechler stresses responsible leadership.

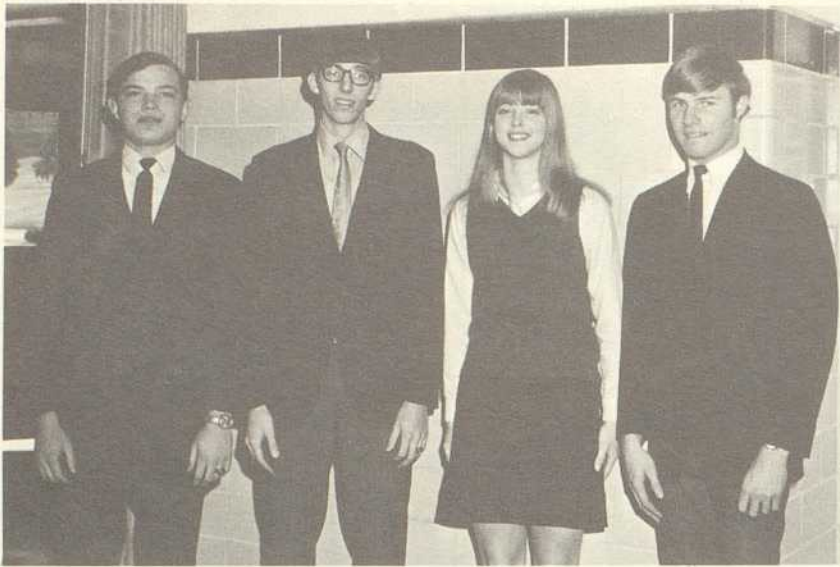

Chet Schuler, President; Rachel Verkamp, Vice-President, Kathy Kippenbrock, Secretary; Ed Gudorf, Treasurer conduct meeting.

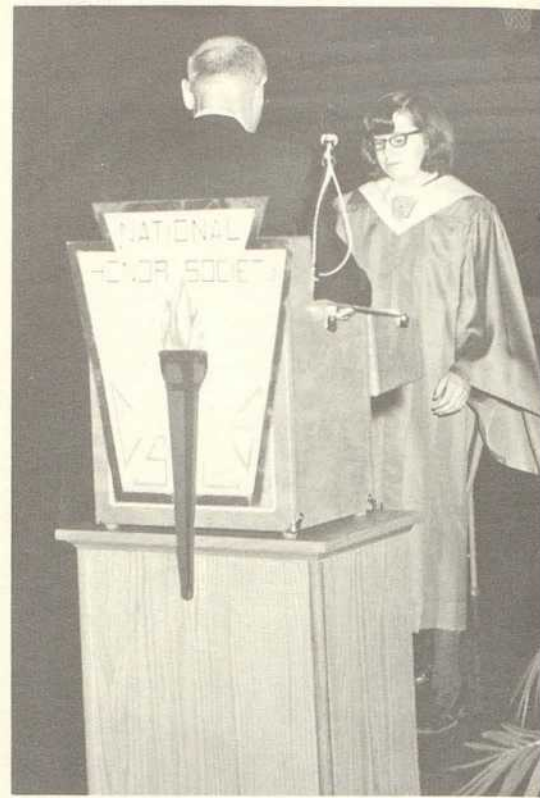

The installation of Student Council Officers was held October 17, 1969 in the high school gym. Dave Seng served as master of ceremonies for the occasion. Mr. Earl F. Buechler, Superintendent, addressed the student body, pointing out the need for responsible leadership. Principal of FHS, Mr. Tying, administered the oath of office of President to Chet Schuler, who in turn administered the oaths of office to the other members.

Activities for which the Student Council was responsible include the Halloween Dance, The Christmas Ball which was renamed Victory Ball to honor the basketball team, sock hops after basketball games, and the Morp.

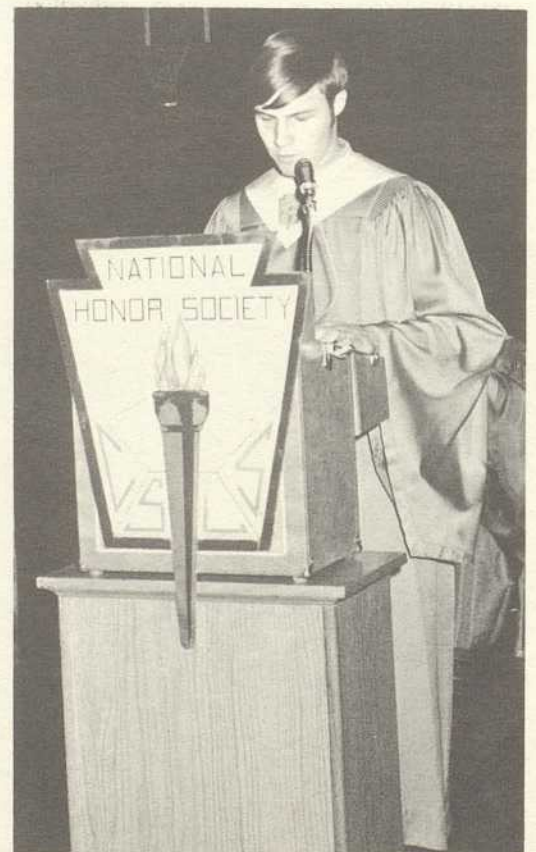

The school dress code was drawn-up by the Student Council and approved by the faculty. The Council also sponsored Earth Day as an opportunity for students to get involved in the fight against pollution. Teacher of the Year award was also presented by the Council.

Fourth Induction Ceremony Highlights N.H.S. Year

Media Club Stimulates Interest in Knowledge

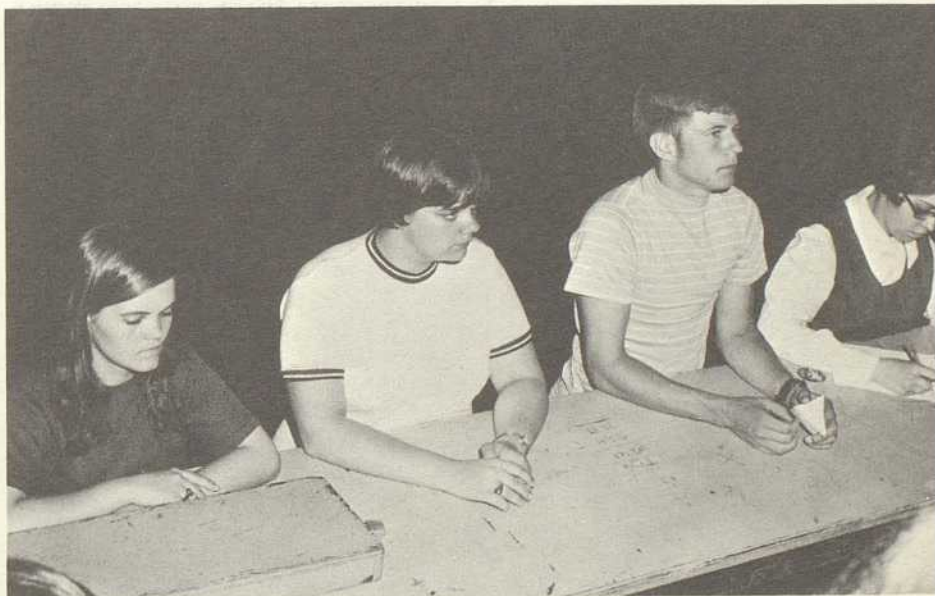

Sister Mary Boniface teaches Media Club members how to use dry-mount press.

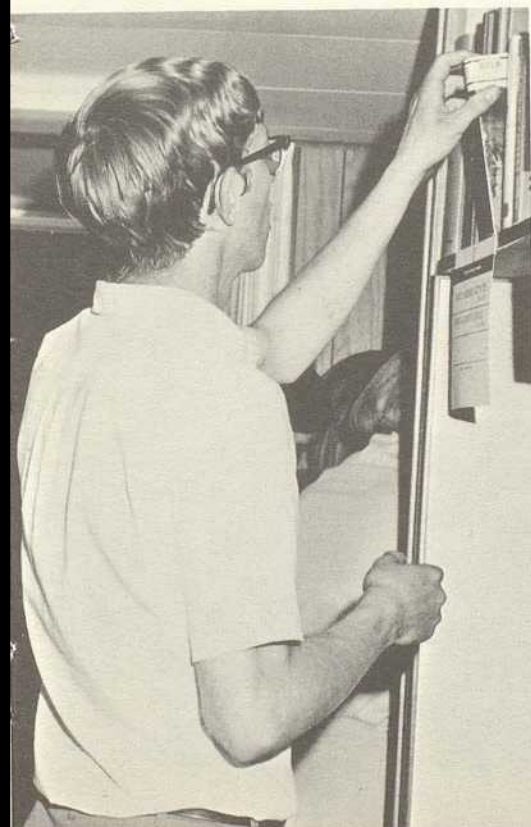

Mike Hulsman chooses a book on electronics.

June Greenwell, Debbie Van Winkle, Lavonne Weyer browse through mobile unit books.

Media Club officers for '69-'70 school year were Ruth Haake, Vice-President; Connie Bolte, Treasurer; Pat Lueken, President; and Margie Knust, Secretary.

Energetic Journalists Publish LANCE

Headline writers, proofreaders, columnists gather in publications room to produce another issue of the LANCE. Far right: Sister Mary Gervase, LANCE faculty advisor, checks galley proofs. Below: Dan Schipp and Gene Olinger discuss sports column before submitting it to typists. Rachel Verkamp prepares copy to be sent to publisher. Co-editors Donna Hancock and Patti Wilgus draw up the dummy sheet to make it appealing and enjoyable for the reader. These students deserve special commendation for the many hours of work. The LANCE is produced totally as an extracurricular project.

Our Team Knows We're

Contributing to the success of the '69-'70 season are varsity cheerleaders: Judy Ebert, Eileen Luebbenhusen, Connie Erhart, Gayla Gehlhausen, and Yvonne Spayd.

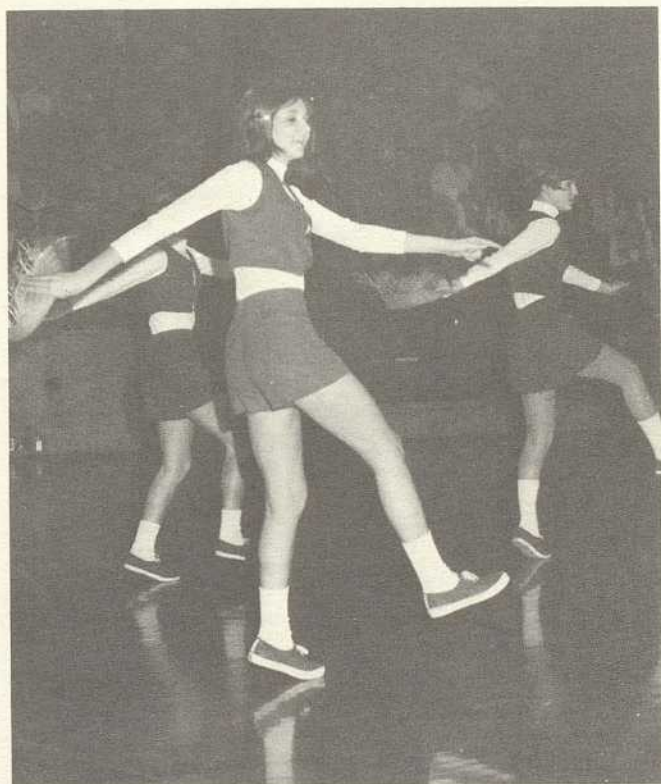

Frosh and B-Team cheerleaders: Cindy Bartley, Connie Ruhe, Cheryl Nord, help rouse school spirit.

Behind Them All the Way

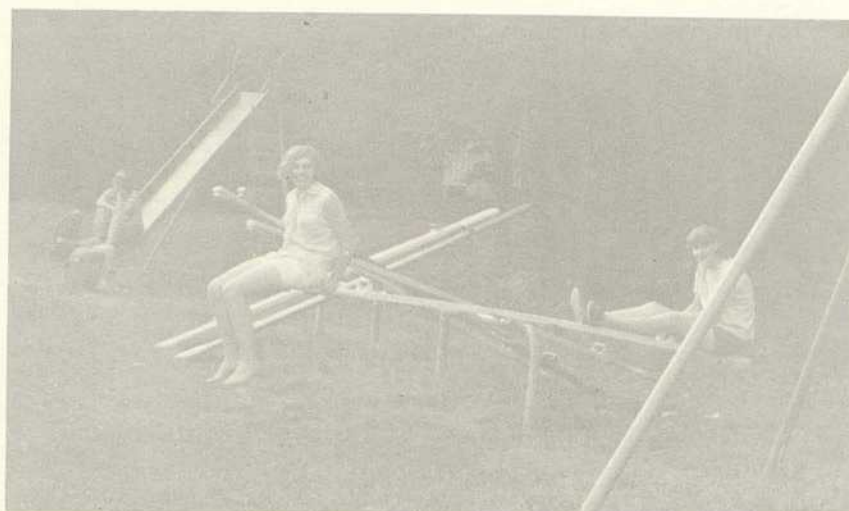

Drill team members stand at attention to salute Queen Debbie Brahm as the band plays "Sweet-heart of Sigma Chi."

Captain Linda Lueken highlighted below, and Co-Captain Sylvia Zink, featured lower left, led this year's drill team in excellent half time performances.

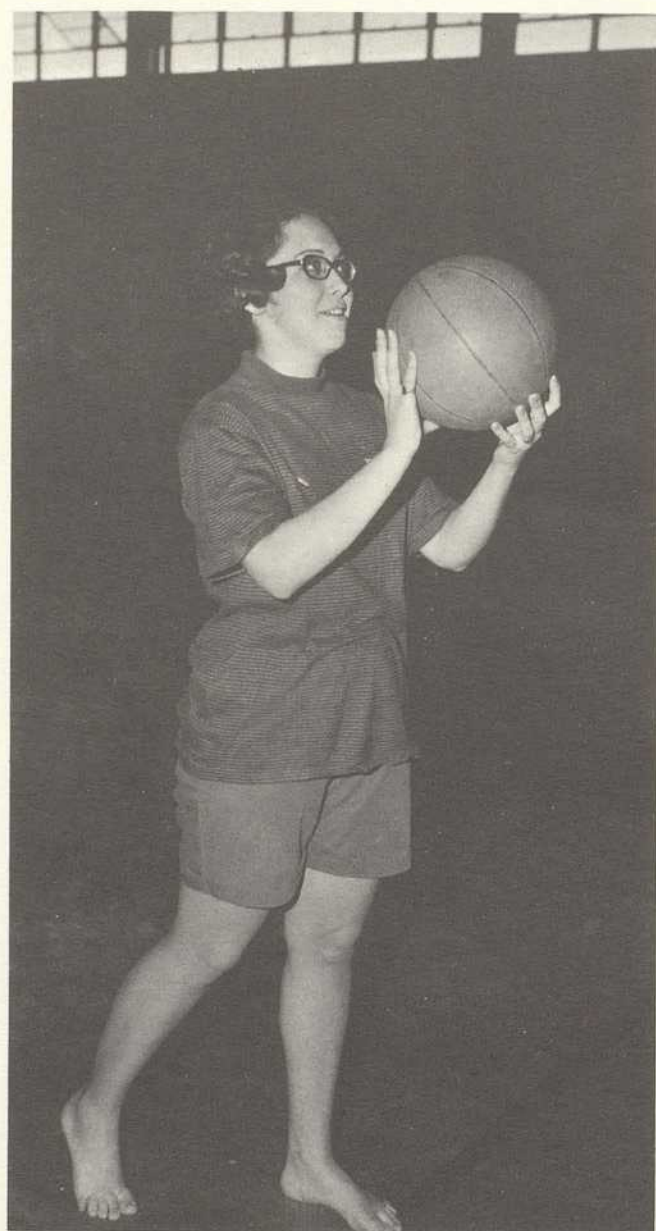

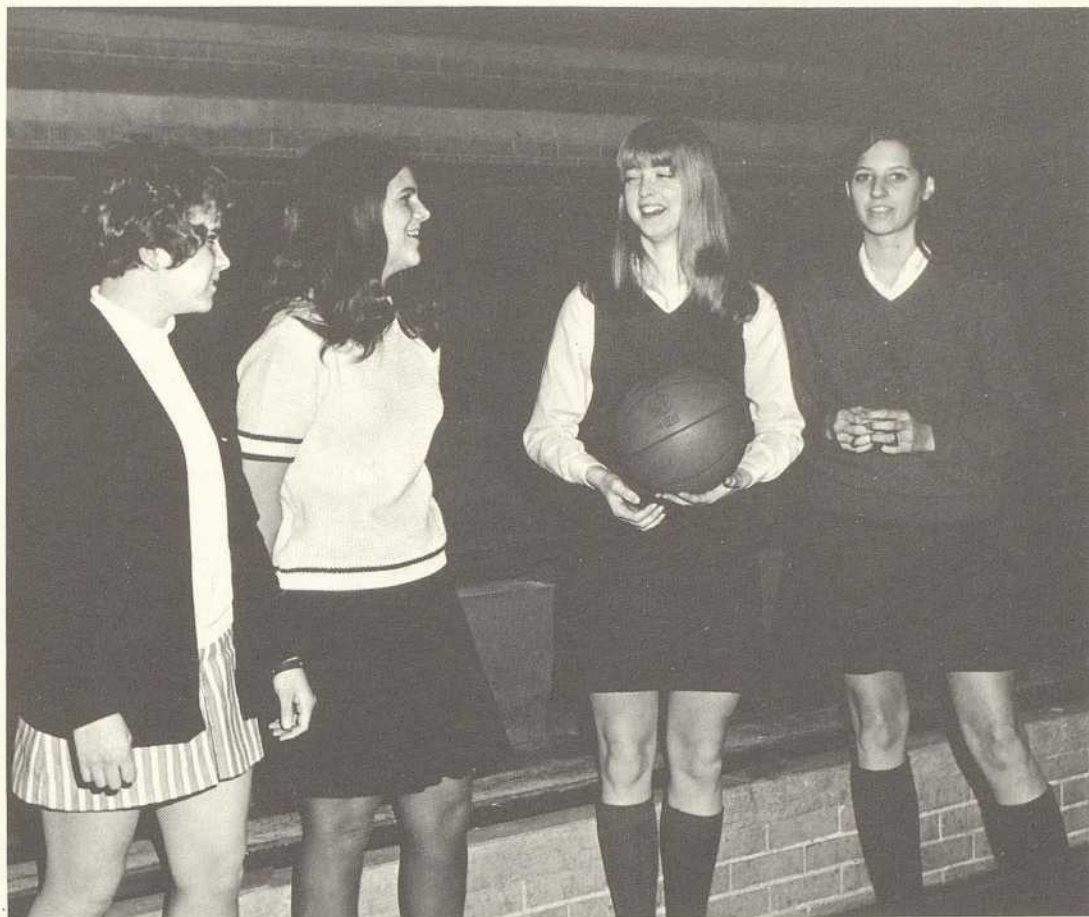

GAA Sponsors Various Sports Activities

GAA again provided the girls with a wide variety of activities to participate in. Their activities range from basketball, softball, and volleyball to bowling and roller skating.

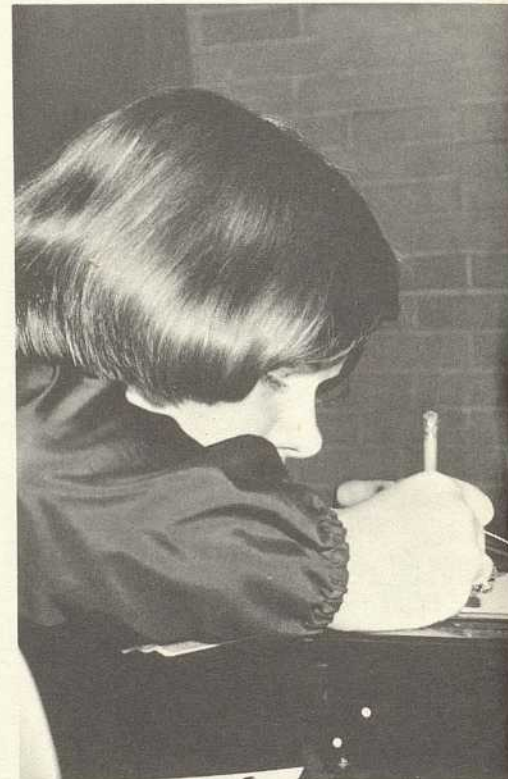

On the opposite page are the officers of GAA: Connie Erhart, Shirley Oeding, Linda Lueken, Karen Ruhe. Below: Margie Knust strikes a pose of concentration as she aims to sink a basket. On one excursion to the Ferdinand State Forest, some of the girls relax on the swings and slides after playing a strenuous game of softball.

Enjoying photos. Patti Nord and Ken Schipp select pictures for divisions.

Staff Enjoys Producing Yearbook for Students

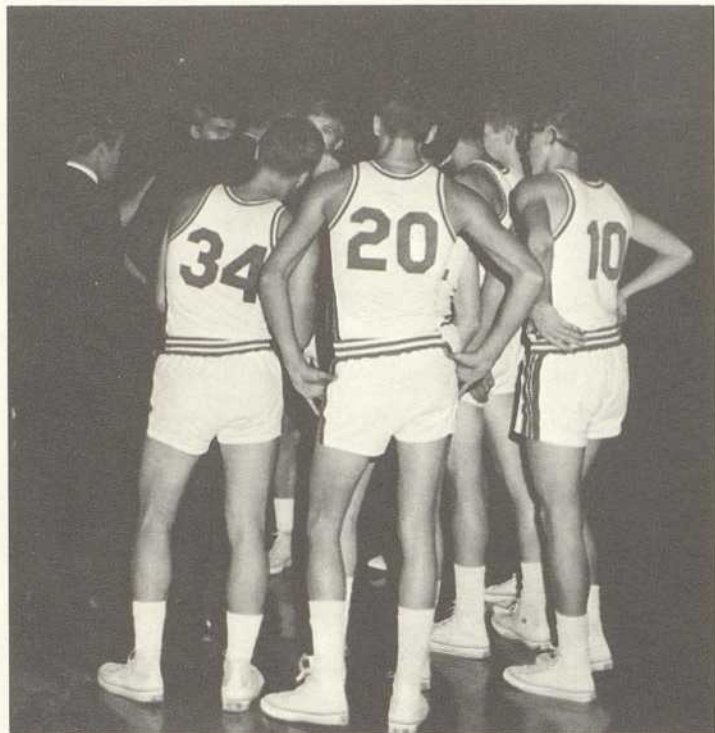

These creative seniors acquired new skills and brought forth much hidden talent in learning how to design and layout pages for the '70 CRUSADER. Since journalism is not part of the FHS curriculum, the yearbook is produced entirely outside of school hours under the direction and guidance of Mr. Guresbeck, ICP representative and faculty advisor, Sister Mary Nicholas

Crusaders Repeat as Tourney Champs

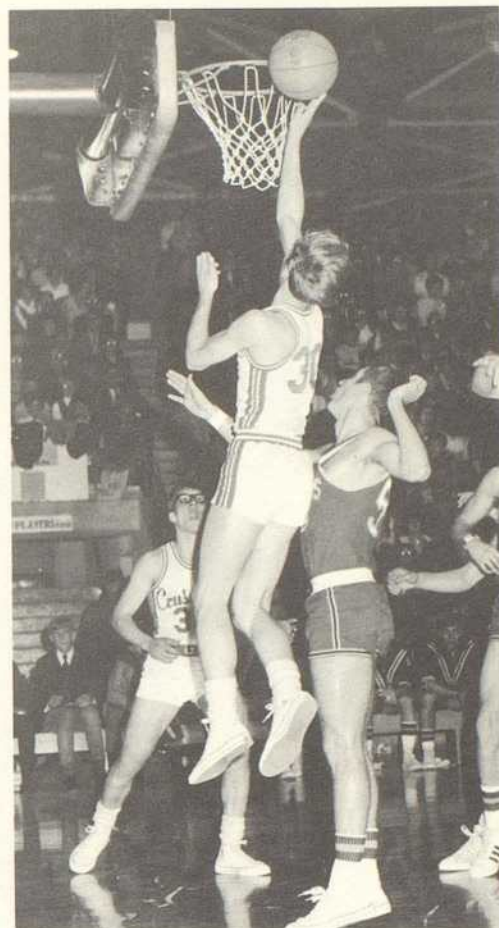

Ed Gudorf takes his turn snipping victory net.

For the third time in the last four years, the Crusaders came home from Huntingburg with the Dubois County Holiday Tourney championship trophy. The "Big Blue and Gold" captured the championship by defeating Dubois 56 to 37 in the first and Holland 67 to 65 in the final game.

Penetrating the H'burg defense, Tom Weyer (14) completes lay-up for two points.

If the success or failure of an athletic team is to be based on the outcome of one important game, many teams would go down in history as failures. But the success or failure of an athletic team should not and cannot be rightfully judged on the outcome of that one important game. Yes, the local bar-stool coaches and know-it-alls will tell you that our '69-70 Crusaders were a failure. They failed to win that one all-important game—the sectional championship. Do not believe them. Our team was GREAT! The '69-70 Crusader basketball team was a success!

MEMBERS of the varsity team, the students and faculty of FHS salute you.

Skills with Clay and Paint

Creativity was demanded of this year's art students. The state contest on pollution posters proved the quality of Steve Oser's idea and the craftsmanship with which he developed it. Mary Gerber also entered the professional exhibit at Evansville and sold one of her pieces. A scholarship in art was Phyllis Klem's reward for her time and talent spent in art creativity.

Left: Mrs. Pete Gerber lectures on commercial art; its needs, values, and opportunities. Below: Laura Leubbehusen works with oils in discovering methods of portrait painting.

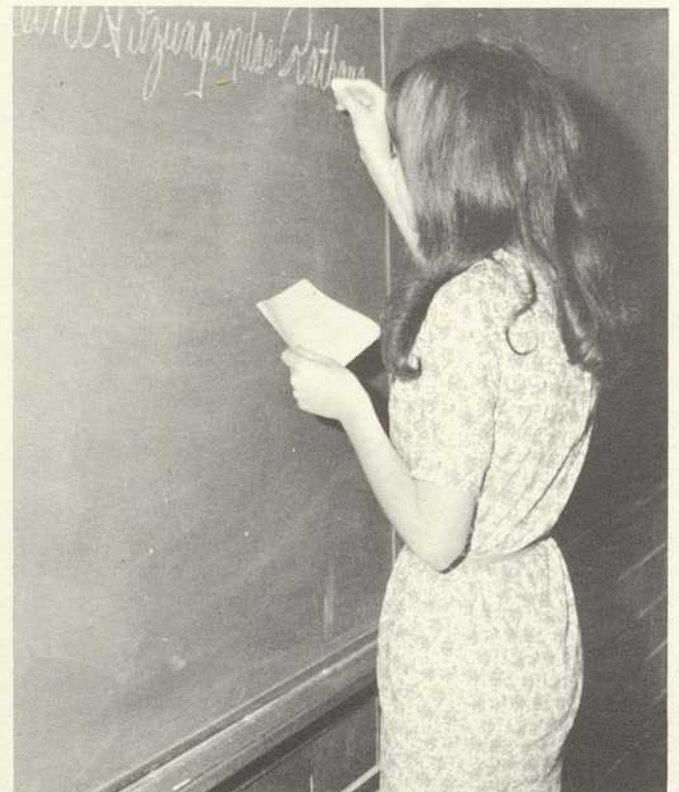

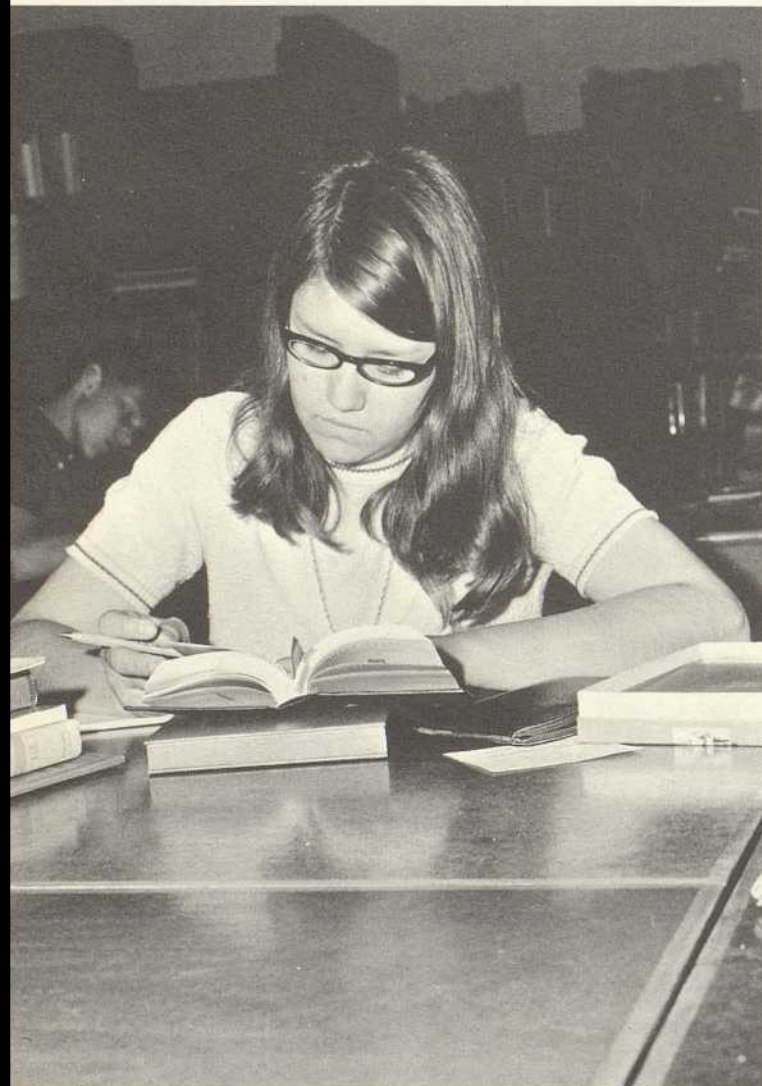

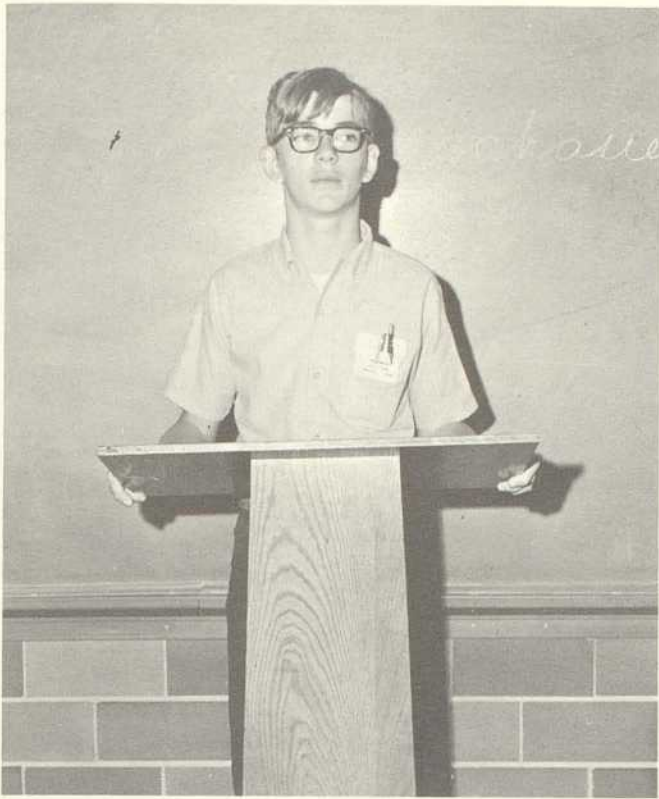

French, Spanish, German, Constitute Foreign Language Offerings; English Provides Necessary Foundation

The four-year Spanish program heads the foreign language department in number of course offerings. Sister Jossella, who is working for her Masters Degree in Mexico, provides an opportunity for interested students to go to Mexico with her each summer. Original French plays and personal accounts of her visit to France add variety to Sister Mary Philip's French classes. Two native German speakers and the slides Sister Mary Nicholas took in Germany high-lighted German lectures.

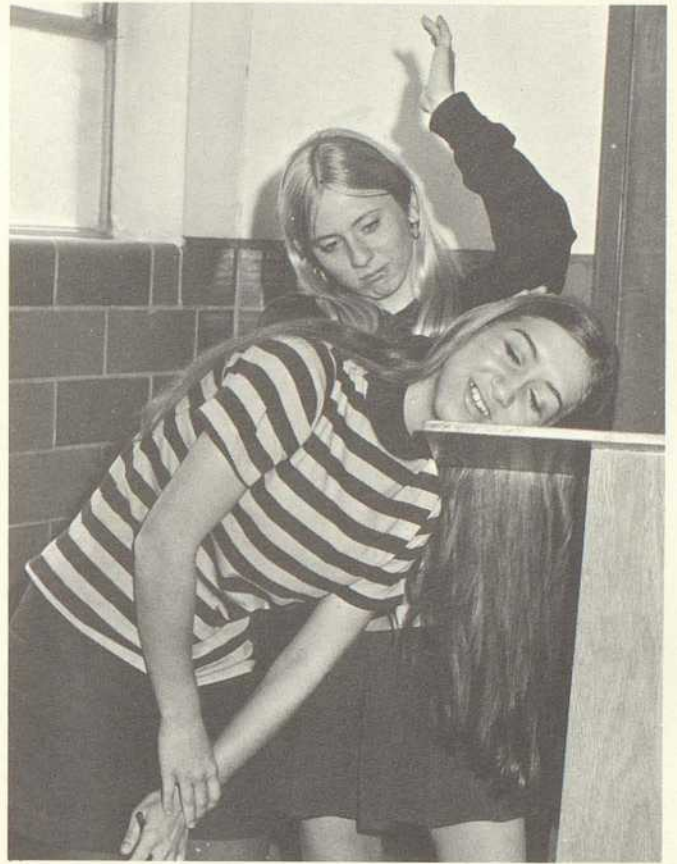

Four years of English round out the language program at FHS. A general introduction to literature the freshman year, American literature for the sophomores, English literature the junior year and World Literature, composition, Developmental Reading for senior choice compose the offerings in the English Department.

Soldier Vicki Erhart executes French national hero Joan Nord.

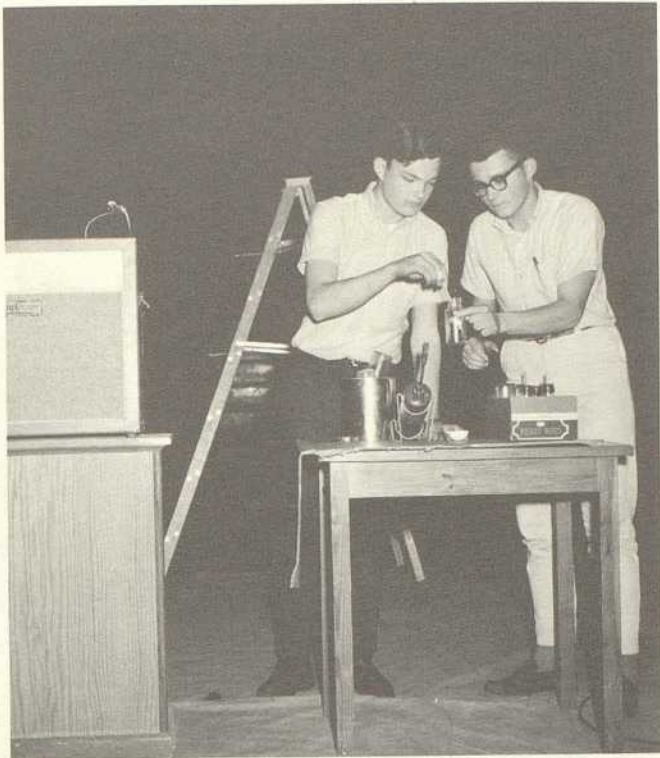

Sister Josella explains passive transformations to scholars.

Students Display Scientific Knowledge

Bonnie Lange welcomes the student body to the first science program given at FHS by the science students. Rosemarie Stallman and Bonnie Lange made the welcome sign by writing on a sheet of paper with disulfide and phosphorus. Gene Olinger and Dennis Boeglin explain the properties of hydrogen and oxygen. Rick Fleig and Mike Verkamp demonstrate what happens in a dust explosion. Mr. Hagedorn, who teaches biology, explains plant life to students. In advanced biology, Donna Hancock and Jacinta Hasenour dissect a pig. The various aspects of the tesla coil are displayed by Mike Hulsman and Terry Englert.

Home Ec Students

In preparation for the faculty banquet, Mary Alice Helming fries hamburgers while Becky Begle mixes the potato salad. Not only are cooking and baking taught in Home Ec classes, but also sewing. Mary Lou Wuebkenberg models the outfit she made in Home Ec. Sister Josepha and her students enjoyed themselves at a banquet given in honor of the student's mothers. Along with the Mother-Daughter Banquet, another highlight of the year is visiting the convent bakery. Chris Klem and Donna Niehaus listen as Sister Mary Jude explains her work in the bakery.

Current Events Demand Great Attention of

The Social Studies department of FHS consists of courses including U.S. History, world history, world geography, government, economics and sociology. It is the aim of the department instructors to help all interested students to understand the reasons for the problems which the world faces today. Each program is designed to discover ideas and principles which can prepare each student to face the future with confidence, in the security of the American freedom for individual dreams.

Other Shorthand II students, Margie Knust and Clara Hagedorn follow Betti's example. Right: Dan Hoppenjans balances the accounts in his practice set for bookkeeping. Lower right: Jerome Durcholz demonstrates Business Math abilities.

FHS business students captured contest trophy by combined efforts of all participants. Especially successful were Joe Vaal who placed first in bookkeeping, Mary Gaesser who took first place in Shorthand I, and Betti Oser who took dictation faster than any other Shorthand II contestant.

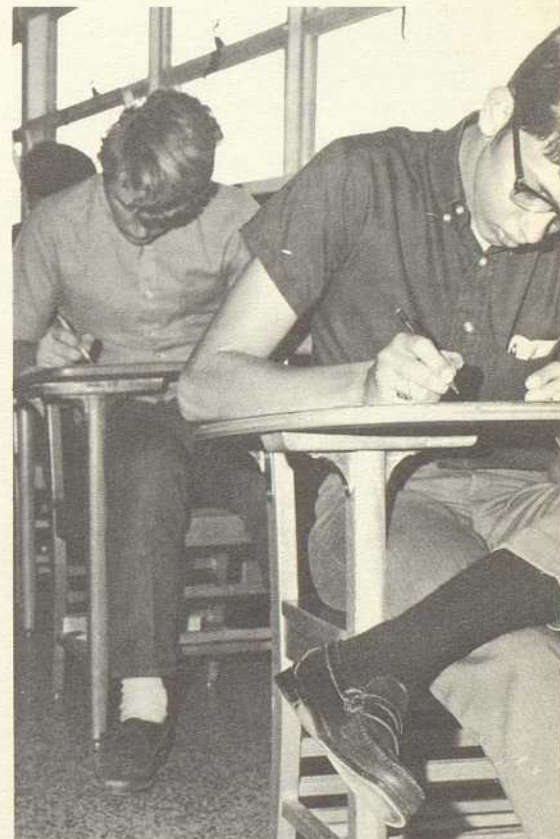

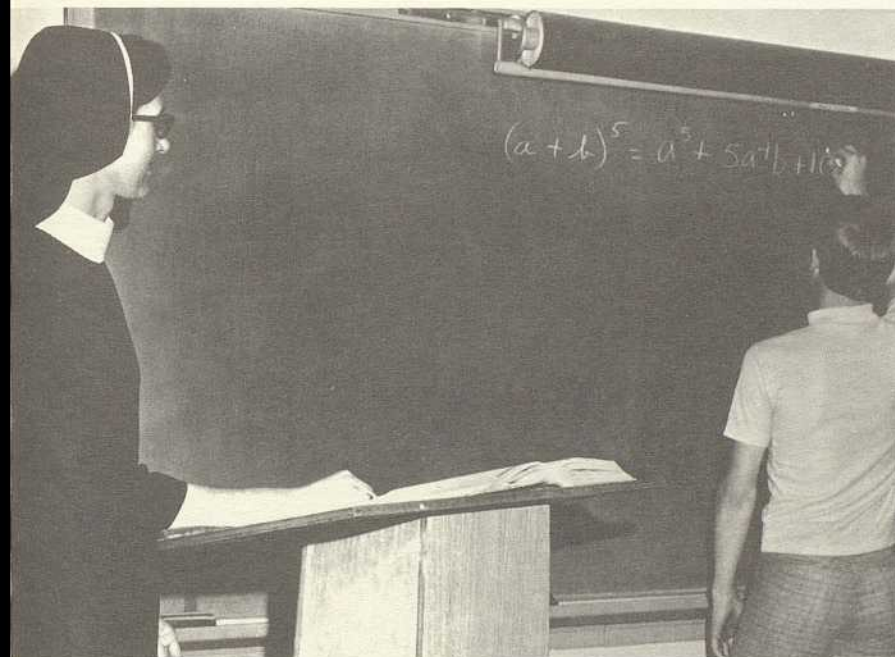

Students Puzzle Over Sums, Equations, and Formulas

What is Mike Verkamp (left) pondering over? He is trying to read a polar graph in analytic geometry class. As Sister Mary Cheryl watches for errors, Randy Nord expands an equation. Mark Oser and John Bieker (below) struggle through a geometry test.

Band, Glee Club Sponsor Various Activities

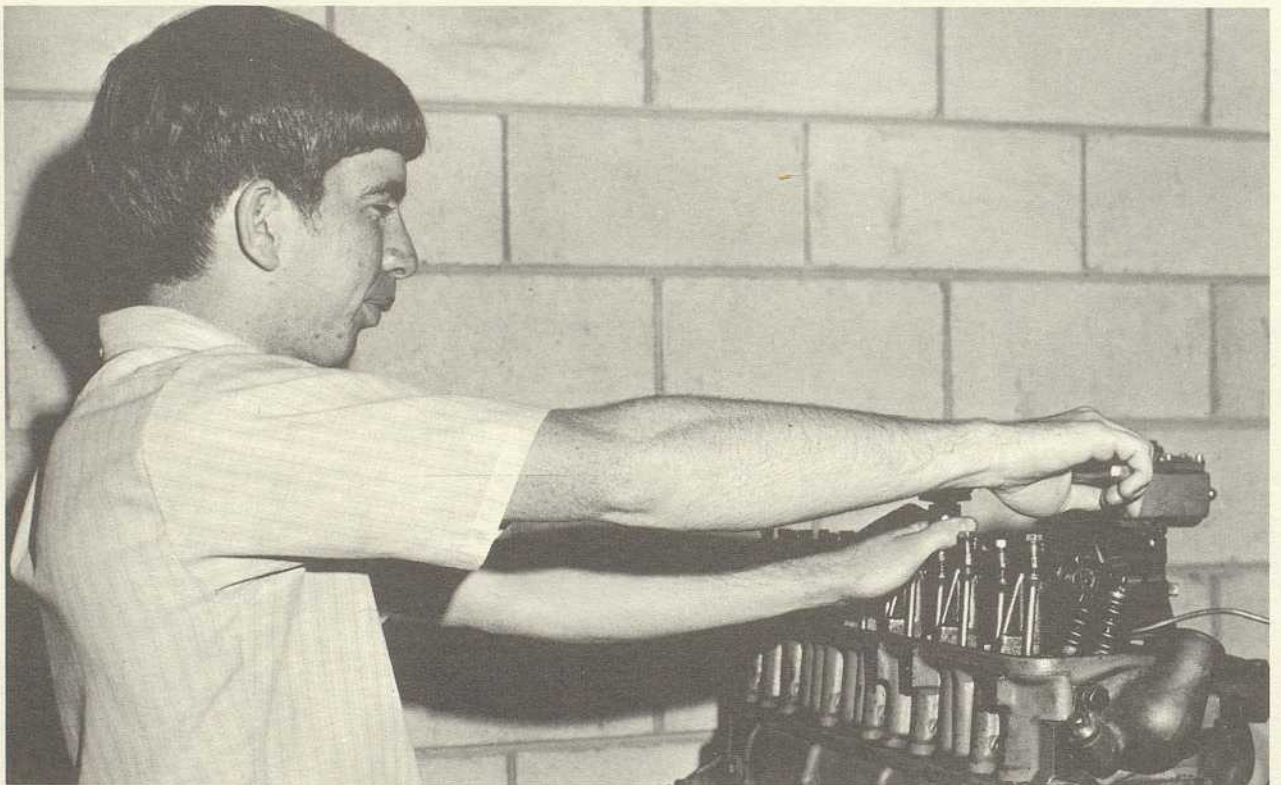

The music department of FHS widened its activities during the '70 school year. The band and glee club produced a Christmas musical and a Pop Concert in joint effort. They also went on tour to neighboring schools and attended a concert at Evansville. Entertainment was also provided by the band for the basketball games. A turkey raffle during the Thanksgiving holidays provided some of the necessary funds for the band and glee club music.

Administration and Faculty Guide Students

Mr. Dennis E. Tying, serving as the first male principal for the '69-'70 school year, is not a new-comer to FHS. During the '68-'69 term, Mr. Tying held the position of Industrial Arts teacher. He still teaches Industrial Arts to the seventh and eight grade students.

A veteran of World War II, Mr. Tying was principal of Birdseye High School before coming to FHS.

Assisting Mr. Tying in the administrative position, Mrs. Norma Sonderrmann is in charge of keeping records, administering admit slips, and doing general secretarial work.

Mr. Larry Klein, ending his seventh year at FHS, teaches Algebra I, Geometry, and Phys. Ed. He has been head basketball coach for three years and is currently a Senior class sponsor.

As a newcomer to FHS, Sr. Mary Cheryl teaches General Math, Algebra I & II, Trigonometry, and Analytic Geometry. Sister is also a Sophomore class sponsor.

Guidance Counseling is the part time job Mr. Charles Wilder undertakes while at FHS. He is also acting as guidance counselor and assistant basketball coach at Ireland High School.

Having the duties of a Freshman class sponsor, Miss Carol Taylor also teaches part time. While being a Phys. Ed. and Health teacher at FHS, Miss Taylor also teaches Spanish and Phys. Ed. at Birdseye High School.

Knowing the functions of the U.S. Government and its background history, Mr. Max Meuser has been conveying these ideas for the past seven years at FHS. Currently, Mr. Meuser holds the job of a Junior class sponsor.

Sr. Mary Boniface, a twelve-year member of the faculty of FHS, has the job of the school librarian. She is also the main librarian at Ferdinand Grade School.

Sr. Mary Beth, a Freshman class sponsor, teaches English II & IV consisting of World and American literature, and language composition. Sister has been at FHS for three years.

Home Ec. I,II,III,IV are taught by a four-year member of the faculty at FHS, Sr. M. Josepha. Sister also teaches Home Ec. to the seventh and eighth grade girls at FGS.

Former FHS graduate, Mr. Leon Olinger, teaches bookkeeping, sociology, economics and business law. The School's financial actions all travel through Mr. Olinger's hands. He has also been junior class sponsor during his four years at FHS.

Sister Dolores Marie Bodner conducts the Glee Club of FHS. Under her direction the club presented the Christmas musical and the Pop Concert in spring. The Glee Club also went on tour and attended a concert at Evansville.

Business teacher, Sister Mary Aquin Verkamp, taught part time at FHS this year where she has spent eight years of her teaching career. She also taught at St. Benedict's College this past year. Sister was sponsor of the Student Council four years.

Mr. Eugene Keusch proved himself a very versatile band director his first year at FHS. Mr. Keusch taught in all the schools of the SEDCSC. His students provided entertainment between games during B-ball season. Mr. Keusch was also faculty advisor to the drill team.

Former principal of FHS, Sister Mary Carmen Spayd, has spent a total of fifteen years here. A teacher of business, Sister was responsible for the B-ball Queen Crowning, Senior Play, and was senior class sponsor.

Sister Mary Alice Schnurr teaches a full program of art at FHS. Sister also spends three periods a day teaching art at the Ferdinand grade school. The book store is also under Sister's supervision.

Mr. Thomas E. Newlin added courses to the Industrial Arts area. He offered courses in general shop, Metals and Crafts, power mechanics and drafting. This was Mr. Newlin's first year at FHS.

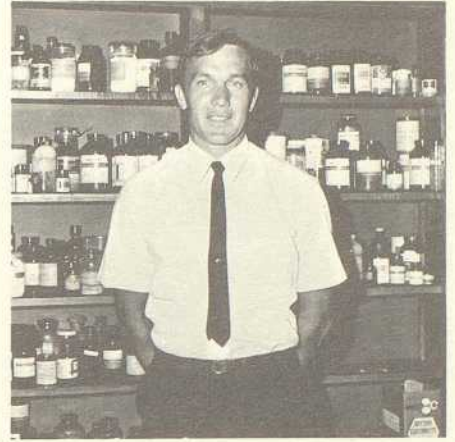

Teacher of German and English, Sister Mary Nicholas Knust, is also a former graduate of FHS. During her stay Sister was faculty advisor to the CRUSADER Staff.

Spanish teacher, Sister Josella Goebel, is a three-year faculty member of FHS. Sister has been class sponsor for sophomores and juniors, and faculty advisor for the Student Council and GAA.

Scientist, historian, athlete apply to Mr. Jim Hagedorn, teacher of biology, advanced biology, and world history. This former graduate has coached frosh B-ball, track, baseball, and assisted in Varsity basketball.

Sister Mary Gervase Gaesser, junior English teacher, has been a member of FHS faculty for eight years. During her stay she was faculty advisor for the CRUSADER six years and this year advised the LANCE staff.

Mr. Stanley Conner spent his first year at FHS in the science department. General science, chemistry and physics were his courses. He also taught science at Birdseye High. Mr. Conner's students presented the first science demonstration at FHS.

Faculty members, Eugene Keusch, Jim Hagedorn, Sister Mary Aquin, Sister Mary Gervase, meet as members of ISTA to elect a new building representative.

Three year French teacher, Sister Mary Philip Burger, has taught her students to write short plays and dialogues. Sister also teaches French at the AIC.

LaVerne Fischer and Becky Begle helped the cooks serve the meals.

Mrs. Keller prepares dessert for FHS's cafeteria.

It takes many people and many hours to have a cafeteria. The credit goes to our cooks Mrs. Gervase Berg, Mrs. Ernest Keller, and Mrs. Arnold Kemper. They had the tremendous job of having enough food available for approximately 340 students.

It also takes many hours to keep a school in beautiful condition. For the excellent job, we thank our janitors Mr. Linus Wenholt and Mr. Dennis Altman.

Waiting line in the cafeteria can be very long if your working as shown by Mrs. Sonderman.

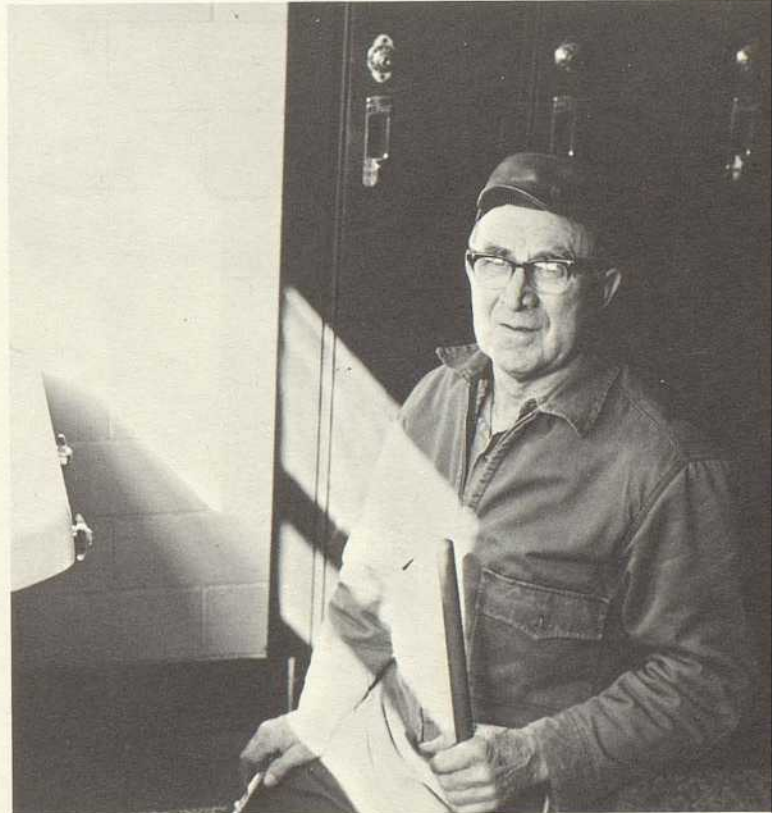

Presents Our Most Needed People

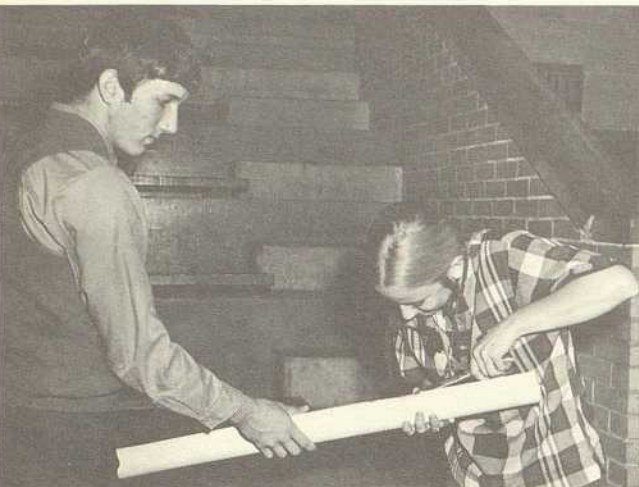

Mowing the grass is only one of the jobs which has to be done by Mr. Altman.

Maintenance is one big job but Mr. Wenholt did tackle it.

Creativity in Sophomore Boys

Alvin Hoppenjans, Dennis Balbach, Terry Englert, Kevin Gerber, John Bieker, Bill Fischer, and Albert Kluemper tossed aside personal inhibitions to show the mighty Crusaders they had real spirit. At the final home game the sophomore boys, under the leadership of John Bieker, also displayed their spirit by forming their own cheering block.

"How It Could Happen" Presented by Active Sophomores

The active Sophomores were the only class which sponsored a pep assembly during the year. "How It Happens in Other Schools" portrayed the selection of team members, the problems of the coach, and even the queen crowning. At left are the Assistant Coach Eileen Olinger, Nurse Cindy Muller, and Doctor Eric Weyer assisting the fainted Coach Brenda Barth.

Frosh Have Cool Beginning

Frosh officers, Bernie Hagedorn, Treasurer; Elaine Mehling, President; Gene Seidl, Secretary and Dan Nord, Vice-President, along with all the freshmen, found adjusting to high school life a not too difficult job. Participation and competition are two words which describe the Frosh well. They also took time to enjoy the scenery.
