First Glance

High school seems never ending; college was far off into the distance. At first glance, everything was fresh. With a new school year comes new beginnings, and the start of new memories. At first glance, graduation was only an event that would eventually happen.

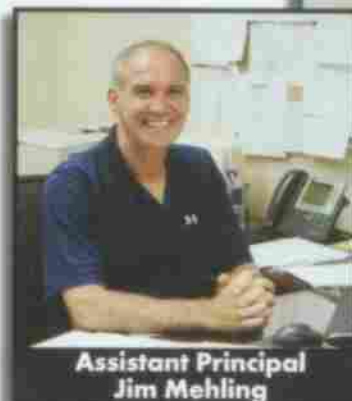

Day to day we did our assignments, and at first glance it was just another test. At the beginning of the season, sectional seemed eternities away. Never did we realize that our first glance was our first foundation, our first effort, and our first peek that eventually became our greatest memories.

The Last Hurrah

Mr. Jessee decides it's time to move on

Mr. Jessee and Mr. Mehling presided over the first semester of the 2013-2014 school year. Mr. Jessee carried the same ideas through his last semester here at Forest Park that he has valued for years. He worked to make this school a place "where everybody is somebody," and to help students "forget rule number one (we've never done that before) and try something different, but better."

Mr. Mehling steps into his new role...

Principal

After Mr. Jessee's retirement in December, Mr. Mehling stepped up to lead Forest Park through the remainder of the 2013-2014 school year. After years of experience as both a teacher and an assistant principal, this was a new challenge he was more than ready to take on. Mr. Howard smoothly transitioned from business teacher to assistant principal to aid Mr. Mehling in his endeavors. Making few changes to everyday life at Forest Park, Mr. Mehling instead focused on finishing out the year as strongly as Mr. Jessee began it.

Southeast Dubois School Board

School Board members Elaine Miller, Cecilia Hamilton, Matt Eckert, Kent Uebelhor, and Brian Partenheimer worked tirelessly to improve the Southeast Dubois School District. At monthly meetings they discussed ways in which to better the schools and carefully looked over and approved any staff additions to the Southeast Dubois School District family.

Running an entire school district was no easy task. It required the combined effort of every administrator to keep Forest Park, as well as the other three schools in Southeast Dubois School District, operating smoothly.

Electrifying Teacher, Mr. Gayso

On November 15th, the students packed into the auditorium to witness Mr. Chad Gayso accept a $1000.00 check from Peabody Energy representatives after being named a Peabody Energy Leadership in Education Award recipient. Mr. Gayso seemed puzzled at first, but stated, "I had no idea... I thought I was going to talk about being a leader. Well, I guess, I am. I don't know what to say. Thank you." The Peabody Energy Leaders in Education program rewards dedicated education professionals who inspire and motivate youth to succeed. Award recipients are selected throughout the school year by a committee of top educators and business leaders.

Athletic Department

In the athletic department, Mr. Louden and Mrs. Lindauer collaborated to encourage student participation in athletics and provided them with the resources and equipment they needed to reach their highest potentials. By participating in athletics, students learned valuable life skills such as teamwork, sportsmanship, hard work, and self-discipline.

Guidance Counselor Dee Ann Wylam

Mrs. Wylam, Mrs. Reckelhoff, and Mrs. Fleck worked together to form the Forest Park Guidance department. Their main goal was to assist students in their academic and social lives and prepare them for both classes at school and their future career so that they could achieve success. In addition to her role as guidance counselor, Mrs. Fleck served as sponsor of Natural Helpers at Forest Park.

Library

Media Specialist Natalie Howard

After earning a Bachelor's degree in Journalism and a Master's in Special Education, Mrs. Howard obtained a license in Library Science from Indiana State University. In the library, she assisted both students and staff with their search for educational resources and information to guide their learning. Mrs. Howard has spent eight years as Forest Park's Media Specialist.

Retirees

Mrs. Elaine Peters

With 14 years of service to the Southeast Dubois School Corporation, Mrs. Elaine Peters decided it was time to move on to the next stage of her career. Mrs. Peters taught art and music at Cedar Crest and Forest Park Junior-Senior High School. Having many years of teaching experience, Mrs. Peters plans to keep busy giving private music lessons and volunteering. She began her teaching career at Bowie Jr. High School in Bowie, Maryland as a music and art teacher.

"Mrs. Peters was the type of teacher that you will always remember. She was a very caring person and would do anything to assist her students."

-Sage Taylor, 11

"Mrs. Peters was a kind and respectable teacher. Besides teaching me art, she was my Circle the State teacher. She was a wonderful person."

-Alesha Schlachter, 10

"Mrs. G always made class fun. No matter what we were doing, she made it interesting and memorable."

-Paige Seger, 9

Mrs. Sharon Gramelspacher

Mrs. Gramelspacher began her career as a 7th grade math teacher at Southridge. After six years she moved to the Southeast Dubois School district, where she taught a multitude of subjects such as Algebra, Algebra II, Business Math, Biology, Earth and Space Science, Study Skills, and Real World Math. She played a crucial role in many programs at Forest Park. For example, she sponsored Destination Imagination, coordinated the Washington DC trip, and led the Junior High Spell Bowl team. After many years of service, Mrs. Gramelspacher is ready to move on to the next chapter in her life, which she hopes to spend traveling and relaxing with her husband, four children, and six grandchildren.

Mr. Larry Tenbarger

Mr. Tenbarger spent all 41 years of his career at Forest Park, where he primarily taught German as well as a few Current Events classes. Throughout the years, he hopes to have helped his students gain an appreciation for a different language and culture. Mr. Tenbarger also coached both boys and girls tennis, co-sponsored Beta Club at Forest Park, and led several trips to Germany. Although he considered himself very fortunate to have taught there for so long, Mr. Tenbarger was ready to retire from FP and spend more time with his wife, two children, and two grandchildren. He also intends to continue working part-time at Holiday World and to become more involved in church and community activities.

Auf Wiedersehen Herr T

"I loved taking German with Herr T and just seeing him in the hallway. He will be sorely missed next year."

-Kiersten Hasenour, 12

"Herr T always goes the extra mile to help his students."

-Jordan Buechler, 12

Missing Mr. Jessee

After ten and a half years at FP,

Mr. Jessee moves on to a new adventure

After spending thirty-two and a half years in education, ten and a half of which he served as principal at Forest Park, Mr. Jeff Jessee chose to retire after completing the fall semester of 2013. Although his initial drive to become an educator, love for the students, certainly still existed, Mr. Jessee explained that new regulations, mandates, and constantly changing technology made his role as "educational leader of the building" far different from the one he originally chose to pursue. This title, he stated, no longer fit him. "It always was about the kids," Mr. Mehling said of Mr. Jessee. To his last day, the principal Forest Park students came to love ensured that this statement held true.

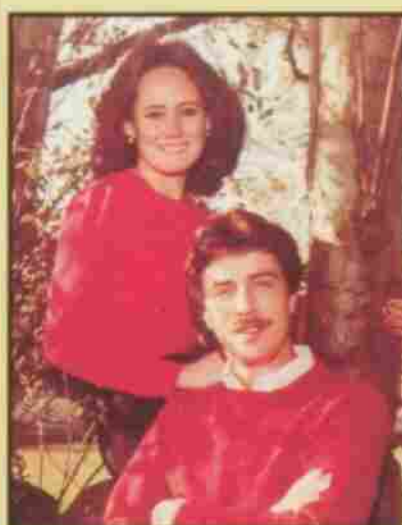

Above: Mr. Jesse takes time to console junior Cailynn Aders with a hug as she tears up on Mr. Jessee last day at Forest Park.

Quilt of Memories

Seniors Kereston Hochgesang and Brandon Luebbehusen present Mr. Jessee with a quilt that the Renaissance club had made from old Forest Park t-shirts.

A Family Man

Mr. Jessee and his wife Leah have three daughters, two of whom graduated from Forest Park, and a grandson, Wyatt. Mr. Jessee also remains close to his 96-year old father via Facetime.

Q&A with Mr. J

What are some of your favorite memories from your tenure at Forest Park?

Obviously the athletic success we have had as well as the success in the Marching Band program stand out. A fond memory for me would be the graduation ceremony for the class of 2011. At the last minute, I switched the alphabet and we called the seniors up to get their diplomas from W to A. Coleb Williams had his named called first for the first time in twelve years of school. It was a fun/crazy atmosphere for a few minutes.

Where did you come up with the phrase "public school paradise"?

A restaurant I like to go to is Jimmy Buffet's "Cheese Burger in Paradise." While checking out the gift shop I picked up the sign "Welcome to Paradise." Forest Park has been that for me due to experiences I had at other schools. The students here created the "Public School Paradise" because of how great they are.

What do you hope to have left behind at Forest Park?

I hope I have contributed to the student atmosphere that "Forest Park is a place where Everybody is Somebody." Forget rule number 1 (We've never done that before) and do something different, but better. "Take the road less traveled." Always give a smile. It doesn't cost anything and it's good for the soul.

Seniors

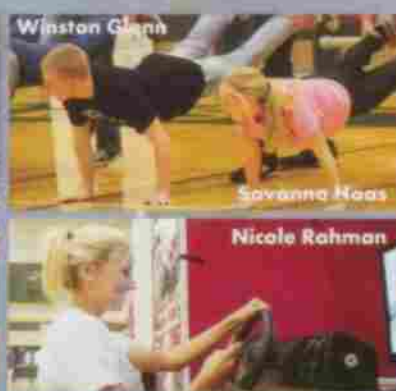

At first glance, senior year was the end of what students had known for the last thirteen years. Most had never thought this moment would come so quickly, but many chose to embrace the unknown of what the future may hold. As graduation crept closer, this final year took on a new meaning as the senior class grew stronger and created new bonds with one another. Although the students all chose unique paths to follow, they will never forget the friends, memories, or even mistakes made during their high school years.

Class of 2014

Graduation

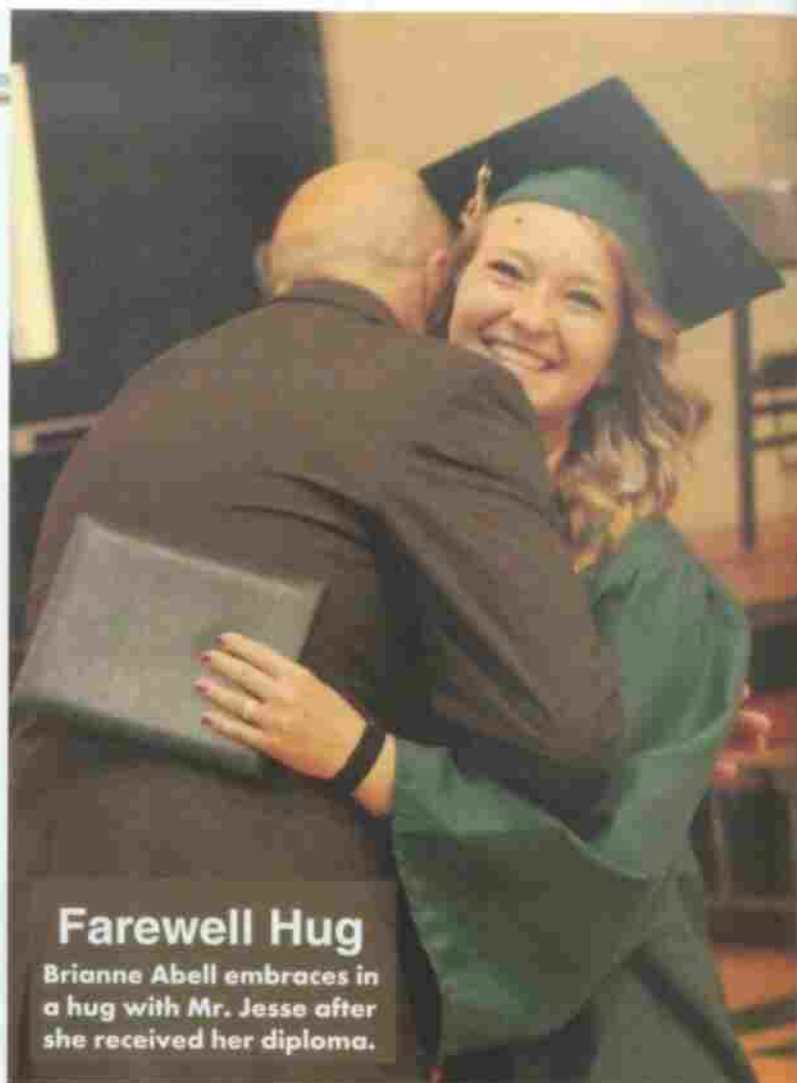

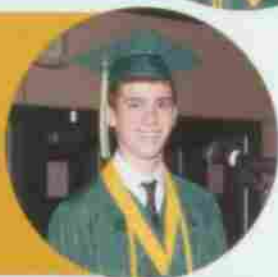

The last class to have Mr. Jesse and the first fifth graders at Cedar Crest Intermediate.

The class of 2014 started out as three different schools. Ferdinand Elementary, Pine Ridge Elementary, and St. Anthony Elementary all came together as one class in the fifth grade. The class of 2014 marked the end with great memories and traditions. Fourth graders from Ferdinand Elementary were the last class to put on a Christmas play, while St. Anthony Elementary fourth graders were the last class to attend the school and Pine Ridge Elementary. They were the first class to go through both grades at Cedar Crest Intermediate, and the last to have Mr. Jesse as principal of Forest Park. The class of 2014 made many memories along their thirteen year journey. In their future ahead, many more memories will also be made.

At first glance high school seemed like a frightening, never-ending place. We as underclass never thought that one day we would miss it. The upperclassmen seemed intimidating, and many of us tried to stay out of their way. At first glance many things appear as they are not. After we realized high school is not a scary place and the upperclassmen are encouraging, insightful and supportive, the two worlds merged to become one family.

Emma Auberch-lind

The oldest of six children, Emma Auberch-lind enjoys her five horses in Copenhagen, Denmark, which is fifteen minutes from Denmark's largest city. Her father owns his own plumbing company and her mom has her own blog. She really enjoys how the people in America are nice and the sports and clubs here at Forest Park bring people together. While she was attending school here, she lived with the Olinger family. Kade and Shelby attended Forest Park at the same time Emma did. After Christmas Emma moved in with the Brosmer family, in which Braylin and Bryce also attended Forest Park. She participated in volleyball while in America, girls' basketball manager and managed the girl's track team as well. She went to school at Seegerskolen.

Snowed In

Students Enjoy Days Off

After the celebration of Christmas and the New Year parties ceased, winter storms struck, causing Forest Park students to stay at home. With this free time, many kids participated in sled riding, drinking hot cocoa, baking, watching television, or catching up on sleep. In total, they missed eight school days, but because of the low temperatures, law makers decided to send schools waivers that stated the days missed because of the polar air would not need to be made up.

1. A big fan of snowboarding, senior Bryce Bettag hits the peaks, as in Paoli Peaks, to get his fill on the snow.

2. Sophomores Mariah Morgan and Taylor Nordhoff enjoyed the days off by spending time playing in the snow together.

3. Senior Jason Brier visited Hemlock Cliffs over on one of his snow days. Hemlock Cliffs is located within the Hoosier National Forest that includes huge sandstone formations like the one Jason is pictured with.

Chargin' Em Up

Forest Park Becomes Technology Savvy

This past school year was the first year for Forest Park to have Chromebooks and offer a class for it. The Chromebook course was headed by Mr. Kyle Greulich. To help decide between Chromebooks and iPads, some administrators went to Chicago to see the Chromebooks implemented in schools. One main factor for choosing the Chromebook over the iPad was the keyboard. The ease of typing on the Chromebook keyboard compared to the iPad screen touch made the decision for the administrators simple. Students would be able to type papers effortlessly and in a timely manner.

"I really like using the Chromebooks. It makes it extremely easy to access my homework, and I am able to contact teachers through e-mail."

At first glance high school dictated the anxiety and excitement of a fresh plate. Every following day is another step on the path of life— a tiptoe to the future. Each student aspired to reach new goals, conquer new fields of study, and reach the sky. At first glance, the clouds appeared untouchable, but 180 days of determination accomplished the unimaginable. Whether students strived to be an astronaut, a physical therapist, a farmer, a teacher, or a football player, Forest Park provided the tools. Ironically, it never appeared to be so significant at first glance.

Ag Got Swag

Agriculture takes learning to a new level

Students made the trek outside to the Ag building every day in order to learn Natural Resources, Plant and Soil Science, or the Fundamentals of Agriculture from Mrs. Annette Applegate. These classes used a hands-on approach to educate students about the world of Agriculture and allowed them to make discoveries through their own experimentation. The students also gained an idea of what a career in Agriculture would entail through projects proposed by Mrs. Applegate that stimulated real-world situations.

1. Junior William Kempf and sophomore Nick Weigel collaborate on a research project.
2. Seniors Christian Arnett and Bryan Hurst prepare a presentation for their Natural Resources class.

Agriculture

More than ... Drawing

After a year of erase marks and smooth brush strokes, art students from all grade levels displayed their creative artistic talents at the Spring Extravaganza and the Krempp Gallery. Art students continually worked on projects for the art shows that were held during spring. Unlike other electives where the talent was shown all throughout the year in plays and concerts, the art shows were one way for students to showcase their work to the community. Creating a relaxing atmosphere, free from stress, Ms. Tammy Taylor taught Introduction to 2-D and 3-D, Drawing, Photography, Ceramics, and Visual Communications.

Light'n It Up

The Colorguard Lit Up Lucas Oil with Another State Title

If anyone was wanting to view a visual sensation, they could have witnessed it this year through the Forest Park Colorguard. Trying to describe electricity through movement was their task at hand. Throughout the season, the colorguards' specular performances assisted the Marching Ranger Band in capturing another state title. The colorguard's neon green uniforms lit up the field, while their iridescent flags and luminous rifles set the stage for a breathtaking performance. Once again, the colorguard left the spectators in awe, leaving them wondering how next year's show will top this unforgettable one. This year the colorguard had an amazing group consisting of 26 members, 10 of whom were graduating seniors.

1. Junior Emily Schipp and senior Jessica Erwin arm wrestle at the beginning of the show to portray power and energy.

2. The 2013 Colorguard.

Focusing on the Details

Cadet Teaching, Teaching Seniors Leadership Skills

Whether they helped students or the teacher, cadet teachers had many positive effects on students. The cadet teaching program at Forest Park showed insight into the world of teaching. Senior students were assigned to help a teacher complete tasks such as grading work, passing out papers and assisted students along side the educator. Some of the tasks could be simple or they could be a challenge. This program is headed by Mrs. Janel Reckelhoff.

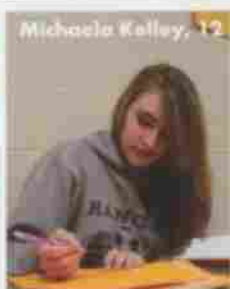

Cadet Teaching

1. Senior Nicole Rahman works with a student at Ferdinand Elementary while she cadets for Ms. Hoffman's class.

2. Senior Megan McCutcheon, who cadets for Mrs. Hauser, works with two junior high students.

3. Casey Merkley, senior, works with one of her students for Mrs. Lindauer.

"I like to help children on a daily basis and know that I can help them learn in a small way."
-Chloe Dilger, 12

Why Cadet?

"I enjoy seeing my kids outside of school and hearing how excited they are to work on projects. I am glad I can help make their day a little more enjoyable."

Band

BACK to BACK

Marching Rangers captured a second consecutive band state crown.

The Marching Rangers presented their 2013 electrifying show titled Powerhouse on November 2nd at Lucas Oil Stadium. After a challenging season, the Marching Rangers captured the ISSMA state title for the second consecutive year.

Claiming Gold ratings at Regional, Semi-State, and State, the Rangers actually never won a contest until State. "If you asked anyone involved with program, they would tell you that this has been a tough season with a lot of ups and downs," commented band director Chad Gayso.

After their win, members of the band jumped vigorously and screamed with excitement upon reaching the tunnel of Lucas Oil stadium. All the late night and Saturday morning practices finally paid off with the highest prize, the state title. "I am just so happy for our students. They have worked so hard and dedicated so much to this program," stated Gayso. They never gave up and their dedication was rewarded. They peaked at precisely the right time, turning in an electric performance.

Words Apart

English classes Encompass Life

According to the famous poet and author Walt Whitman, the English language is the accretion and growth of every dialect, race, and range of time. Junior English students were aware of the writing of Whitman and experienced how import the written word is by acting out characters through poems. Speech, debates, and creative writing were just a few items covered by Ms. Shobe, Mrs. Bartley, Mr. Emmert, Mrs. Pund and new sophomore teacher Ms. Leah Helming. The junior class participated in a Civil Rights' Week while the freshmen class gave presentations over The Odyssey.

1. Senior Blake Altman uses junior Kristion Luttrell for part of his prop for speech class on how to perform CPR.
2. Sophomores Noah Lindeman and Matthew Nonte work on their rebuttal speech for their debate over whether or not public schools and private schools should be allowed to go against each other in sports.

Sharing Words

Words hold meaning and being able to convey them effectively is just one component of the national Poetry Out Loud competition. For the fourth year, students under the direction of Mr. Emmert performed the first round of the contest during sixth and seventh period in the auditorium. Winner Raven Blessinger, junior, was a two-peat champion as she won last year as well. Senior Madeline Pelzel was runner-up. There were 18 participants this year.

FACS brings the real world to class everyday

If you have ever walked through the hallways and smelled something delicious, you can bet it was coming from the classroom of Mrs. Brenda Allen. From apple dumplings and baked Alaska to fried squirrel, Mrs. Allen's classes stimulated the taste buds of students who had passed through the junior hallway. Her FACS classes have prepared many students for the future and have often let students break free from the usual classroom setting.

1. Shane Haas, sophomore, and Aliya Haake, freshman, carefully slice tomatoes for homemade salsa.

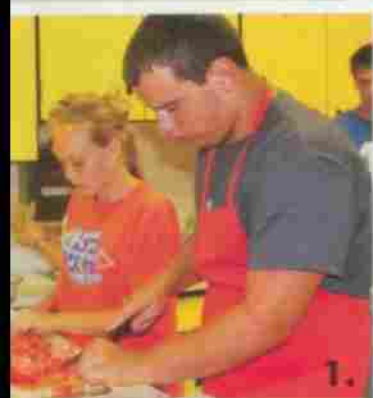

2. Natalie Jacob, junior, and Lexie Lane, sophomore, clean up their kitchen after dicing juicy tomatoes.

Traveling the World

Classes in the foreign language category allowed students to take either German or Spanish. Spanish was led by Ms. Fleck and Mrs. Hauser. German's lone teacher was Mr. Tenberge. In the Spanish classes, Day of the Dead and Cinco de Mayo were celebrated in festive fashion. A Spanish club was a new addition to the program. The club was making plans to travel to Mexico this summer. The Spanish III class took a field trip to Louisville Ballet. The German III class took a trip to see Eva Kor, a Holocaust survivor, at the CANDLES Holocaust Museum in Terre Haute. After the museum, the students enjoyed lunch at a German restaurant. The foreign languages classes offered many opportunities and experiences for their students throughout the year.

1. Juniors Taylor Tretter and Cassette Fehrbach intently look at photos, while visiting the Holocaust Museum.

2. The German III students enjoy a delicious German cuisine while classmate junior Travis Nord keeps the noise level under control.

COMMIT to being FIT

PE & Health teach students about wellness

A precious few classes skimmed the importance of healthy attitudes and choices, but P.E. teachers Mr. Ross Fuhs and Mrs. Emily Hauser highlighted health themes all year in a dramatic spotlight. To multiple students' delight, P.E. acted as the one class where they could work their muscles with exercise in games such as dodgeball, volleyball, basketball, and many more. Although health class did not allow for the same freedom of movement, students learned how to pick healthy foods, healthy lives, and healthy relationships.

By the Numbers

Test scores prove F.P. excels in Math.

Math, either you get the problems or you don't. By the test scores it seemed Forest Park has an understanding. Math is like many other subjects where you build on to prior knowledge. To know the students understand the material, teachers use mathematical games or make the students go up to the board to go over their homework. This past school year Ms. Nicole Loehr was added to the amazing staff as an Algebra II and Pre-calculus teacher. Others who taught in the Math department

Experimenting with Excellence

Labs lead the way in Science classes

Science classes allowed students to explore their interests in Biology, AP Biology, Chemistry, AP Chemistry, Physics I and II, Earth and Space, and Animal Life Science. The Science Department was known for doing many hands on experiments in all its classes. In Biology, students extracted strawberry DNA. In Chemistry, pupils separated compounds. The Animal Life Science class dissected piglets, while the physics classes applied concepts to real life. This year the department also welcomed new Biology teacher Ms. Leah Miller.

Getting into the Past... Presently

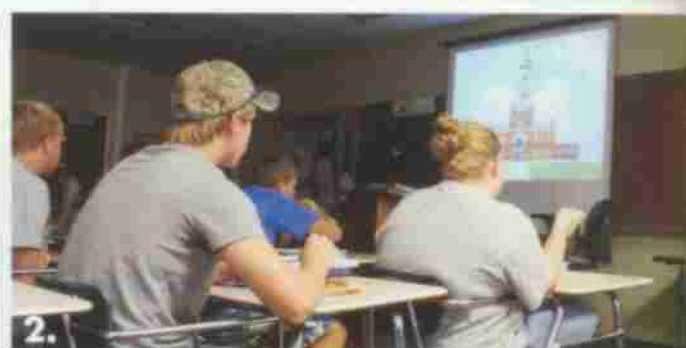

We began by winding back the clocks to "prehistory". When set and ready, we progressed along with the era, all the way to our current moment in time. In the quad, Mr. Brady Gunselman played as the comical Government, Economics, and Psychology teacher, while Ms. Leslie Shobe enriched students in Sociology, and Ms. Marty Niehaus coached the importance of U.S. History. On the far end of the school, Mrs. Tara Uebelhor and Mr. Tony Hasenour educated kids of foreign places in World History. Together, Mrs. Tara Uebelhor and Ms. Marty Niehaus shared the duty of covering World Geography.

There is more than computers to Technology

When students thought about Technology courses, their view may have drifted to a curriculum given by computers, not so when speaking of the Forest Park Technology Department. From working with wood to metal, students explored more than the computer side of technology. Courses offered were EDD, Construction Systems, Manufacturing System, Transportation, and Principles of Engineering. The department had new faces this year. Mr. Drew, who's past job was a boilermaker, joined the Forest Park staff. Mr. Berg was a math teacher at Forest Park and was moved to the technology department after Mr. Johnson retired.

Real World Learning

Business classes make it real

Students are coached all year long about how high school is preparing them for the real world. Classes in the business department prepared students for the real world by putting them in positions for experience. Mr. Jeff Durlauf, Mr. Jared Howard, and Mrs. Sarah Pund shared the role of informing students on how to type papers, create powerpoints, and use excel spreadsheet in Digital Citizenship. Mr. Durlauf also taught students about real life situations through Marketing, Accounting, and Interactive Media. First semester of the 2013-2014 school year Mr. Howard helped students discover what career field would be best for them in Career Planning. Due to Mr. Jeff Jessee retiring after first semester, Mr. Howard stepped up to the role of vice principal, which led to Mr. Kyle Greulich teaching Career Planning during second semester.

Visual Communications capture the moment

TELL 'EM!

Junior Morgan Zehr informs the yearbook class about upcoming school events.

At nearly every school-related event, a member of the yearbook staff stood ready with a camera to photograph Forest Park's biggest moments as they occurred. Throughout the year, with the help of their teacher and advisor Ms. Tammy Hoffman-Taylor, they compiled these pictures into a book to create a long-lasting memory for students. In addition to learning photography, students in Visual Communications had to master skills in writing, layout, and design. The class also taught staff members responsibility by requiring them to sell advertisement space to local businesses and by holding them responsible for attending and photographing the events that they were assigned to cover in the yearbook.

Mr. Charles Bradley led the effort this year in the Theatre Arts department. He and his students worked hard to perform two plays as well as several skits at the Chorus Extravaganza. Keep Calm and Dance On

is a
Time to Dance

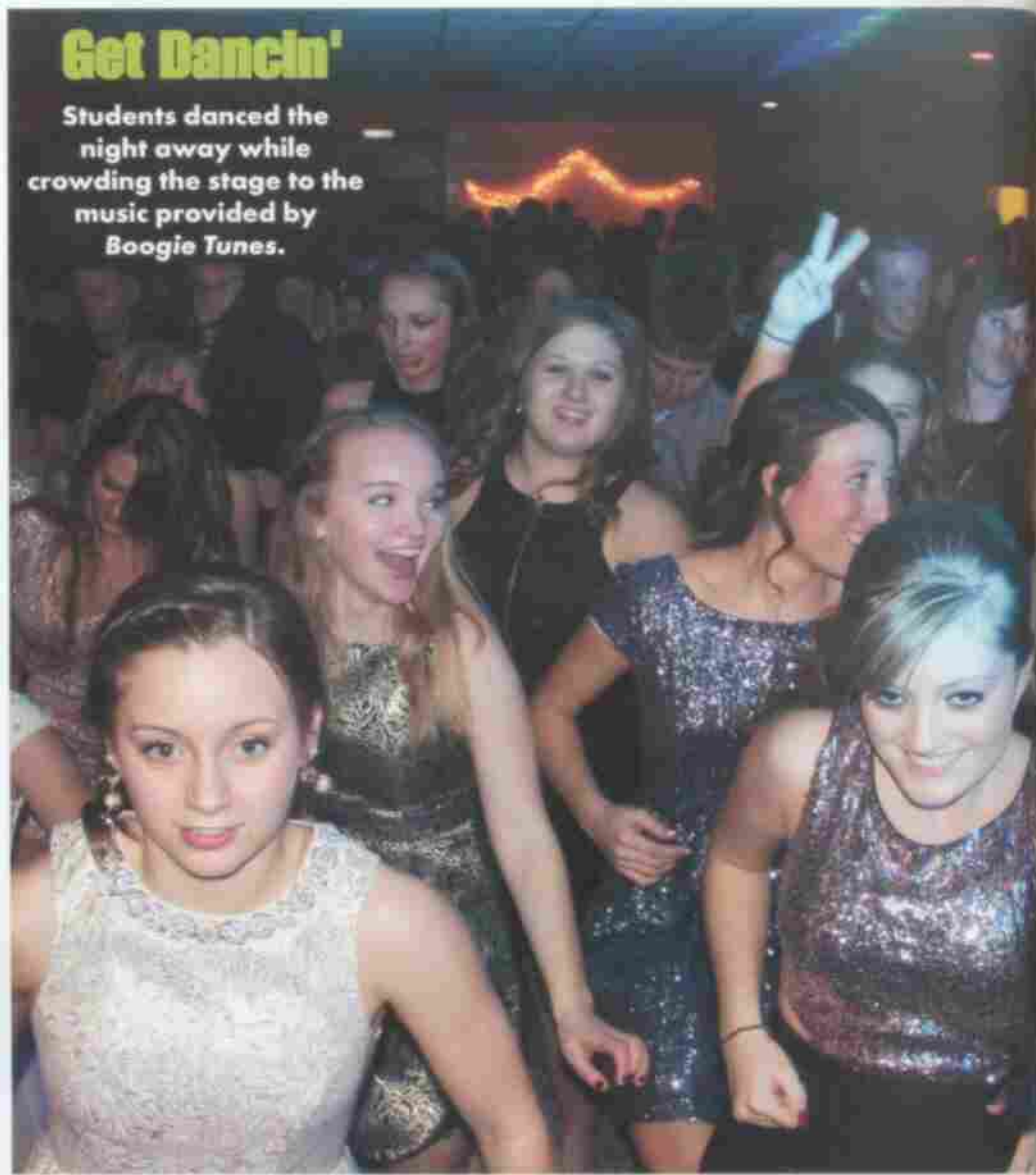

On January 4, 2014, at Holiday Ball, Forest Park students laughed, danced, and had a splendid time at the St. Anthony Community Center. Dressed in formal attire, students tried their newest moves on the dance floor, while balloons bobbed near the ceiling, and soft drinks, and snacks refreshed any famished dancers. This year the dancing, singing, and memories forged new memories of a successful Holiday Ball.

Below: Sophomores Bryce Theising, Gavin Hoffman, and Jaxon Cronin stand on the side while others dance the night away.

Cheers and Chants

Forest Park never failed to show support at all sporting events. From volleyball games to track meets, a sea of green could be noticed. Cheers and chants took over gyms during the winter, and football fields during the fall. The Ranger crowd yelled louder and contained more spirit than opposing cheering sections. Wearing green, unique outfits, and of course, 'Merica, Ranger Nation showed their support loud and proud.

Ready for a Ride on the Carousel

Forest Park proudly presented Rodgers & Hammerstein's musical Carousel. The show was pronounced the "Best Musical of the 20th Century" by Time Magazine. Set in 1873 in a small New England village, it portrayed the life of Billy Bigalow, a carefree carnival worker played by senior Jason Brier, that met and married innocent millwork Julie Jordan, played by senior Michaela Kelly. Bigalow soon lost his job only to learn he will soon be a father. Determined to provide for his family, Billy found himself as an accomplice to a robbery. When he got caught in the act, rather than go to prison, he took his life only to then be sent back to Earth fifteen years later where he met his daughter and saw the life he left behind. The cast and crew worked hard and put on a fantastic show that really took everyone for a ride.

Most students spent their breaks at home or working a part-time job, but for the Music Departments at Forest Park it was time to travel. Every four years the Marching Rangers take a trip to reward the students for their dedication to the program.

Head west young man and that is exactly what the Marching Rangers did. During the three day Thanksgiving break, the band ventured to Fort Worth and Dallas, Texas. During their travels, the band toured the Dallas Cowboys stadium, the Parks at Arlington, The Bureau of Printing and Engraving, a guided city tour of Dallas, South Fork Ranch, the 6th floor Museum, the Dallas Observation Deck, the Fort Worth Stockyards, and the Fort Worth Symphony. Along with the sites, the band got to eat at a fine Italian restaurant, Boca Di Beppo, and were entertained at dinner by knights jousting at Medieval Times.

A Chorus takes a bite of the Big Apple

An unforgettable journey began at 5:15 a.m. for Mr. Bradley's musical students on Monday, March 24, 2014. After 15 hours of driving and occasional stops, the group arrived in New York City.

The first day in the Big Apple included breakfast at Ellen's Stardust Diner, a visit to the Top of the Rock, a shopping trip on 5th Avenue, a tour of Radio City Music Hall and the Metropolitan Museum of Art, dinner at Fino (an Italian Restaurant), and to top it off, a Broadway musical, Newsies.

The second day the group started off by eating breakfast at the Embassy Suites hotel in Secaucus, New Jersey, which they were staying at. Then they loaded the bus to travel to lower Manhattan to visit the 9/11 Memorial to remember and honor all of the men, women, and children who lost their lives that day. They next went to Broadway to watch The Fantasticks, a funny and romantic musical. After the musical, Mr. Bradley's class ate at Heartland and Brewery Chophouse, a family-style restaurant, then shopped on Times Square where a group photo was taken and some witnessed a marriage.

On Thursday, the class woke up, ate, and loaded the bus for the Today Show where some were shown on live TV. Then they went on a humorous tour of the city which lasted almost all day. At the end of the tour, there was a Dinner/Dance Cruise. The cruise went by the Statue of Liberty and under the Brooklyn Bridge.

After the Dinner/Dance, the group loaded the bus to go home but ran into some bus trouble. They were stopped for an hour before beginning their journey home. At 3 p.m. the students were, "Back Home Again in Indiana".

Naturally Helping Others

It takes talented students to be a natural helper. Not just anyone can be a natural helper. Every year students from each grade pick two students that they go to for help for their problems. The top six students that get voted are then a natural helper. Students from Natural helpers go to a retreat every year to learn how to help others with their problems. They also help at concessions and teach the junior high about bullying.

Making a Difference

FCCLA lends time and efforts to others

Family, Career, Community Leaders of America has always provided many services for the community and continuously makes a difference, even in the smallest ways. This year, the club made blankets for children at Memorial Hospital, painted pumpkins during Halloween with local kids, and prepared breakfast for the staff members. Future Farmers of America

Learning to do

The FFA motto was to make a positive difference in the lives of students by developing their potentials through aquiculture. With the guidance of Mrs. Annette Applegate, sponsor and teacher, the proof lied in the success of the program. The students have benefited from hands on experiences along with work exposure.

During the school year, members take part in the annual Truck and Tractor show, fruit sales, teacher appreciation lunch, FFA convention, and the Member Auction. Members had many opportunities to extend their knowledge with future farming and agricultural experiences throughout the school year.

Member Auction

FFA members go on the block

Forest Park FFA club has been having their annual "Member Auction" for many years. During the auction, each FFA member takes his or her turn and stands on a platform. They then get auctioned off for an amount of money. The Auction was held on February 23, in the cafeteria. Each member was auctioned off to a farmer, parent, grandparent or whomever attended and wished to buy the worker for eight hours. The members volunteered to do chores such as driving a tractor, work on the farm, clean house, pick weeds, throw hay, and many more. Members have the summer months to do their independent jobs for their bidders.

DI lets their creative side show

Both Destination Imagination teams went into this 2013-2014 season with a positive outlook. Everyone's hard work definitely payed off, showing immensely at the competitions that they were apart of. The Tension Builds team placed second at the state finals, moving on to the global finals; unfortunately, conflicts with track and graduation prevented them from making the trip. The FP Funsters team placed fifth at state finals, ending their DI season. With only two graduating seniors this year, the club expects great things to happen in next year's season as well.

Renaissance

Encouraging Excellence

Incentives Help Motivate Students

Renaissance is a service club that gave incentives to students who maintained their grades while they balanced their athletics and academics. Multiple committees were vital for the club and helped run activities. Some of the activities they provided to the students were pep sessions, doughnut days, dress-up days, and multiple other activities for our school. Renaissance had a big part in all of our school activities and is headed by Ms. Amy Hawkins.

The Importance of Clubs

Why students participate in clubs and organizations

Megan McCutcheon

"FFA is a great club to learn practical skills such as forestry and public speaking. The field trips are a lot of fun and you also get out of school! FFA has definitely helped me to prepare for the future."

Miranda Lindauer

"I enjoy being in Student Council because it is a great club to help my school. We do a lot of different fun activities. I like being able to represent my class as treasurer and help my peers."

Aaron Braunecker
Freshman

"I feel honored that my classmates chose me to be apart of Natural Helpers. Going to the retreat this year has opened my eyes, and I learned new ways to help my peers when they are in need."

Left: Members of the DJ teams take a break before their competition begins. Participating in clubs help students build relationships with peers and develop leadership skills.

Many schools and community organizations have sponsored clubs for students. The clubs at Forest Park provided opportunities for youth to participate in activities, interact with peers in a supervised setting, and form positive relationships with adults. Some clubs focused on a specific area, thus allowing members to develop their skills and interests in that area. Other clubs provided an array of activities from which adolescents can choose. There were a number of reasons that students have benefited from participation in clubs and youth organizations. These reasons have to do with the activities, roles, and relationships available to students when they participate in clubs. Activities are important in several ways. Activities that have been offered by clubs enable members to learn valuable skills. Many of the activities offered by clubs help students to extend and elaborate on the more formal knowledge learned in school.

Club membership provided an opportunity to participate in new roles. The leadership roles that were available in clubs provide a valuable experience that is not generally available to students. Other roles, such as being a helper in a service club, a soloist in a music club, or an artist making scenery in a drama club, enable identity exploration.

Honor Clubs

Clubs that require more than participation

For some clubs all students had to do is show up to meetings during school time and they could become members of that club. The two clubs at Forest Park that required more than participation were NaHoSo and Beta.

In order to be selected to these two clubs students had to have a certain grade point average and in order to be in NaHoSo, students had to adhere to a code of conduct. Forest Park has been known for its academic success in the past years and these two clubs highlight and reward that area.

"Beta's not just a club about grades. It's about leadership, improvement, and aspiration. Every year, Beta leads students across the United States to the bigger, the better, and the bolder. I guess I'm just proud to be apart of that."

Heading into the season, the girls' cross country team expected great things from their squad. Coach Philip Wolf was hoping one of his cross country teams would make it to the semi-state level - mission accomplished. While it did not come easily, the girls' team secured a qualifying spot at the Brown County Semi-State after finishing fifth place at the Crawford County Regional. The Lady Rangers capped a productive 2013 campaign with a 16th place finish at the Semi-State at Nashville, Indiana. Senior Nicole Rahman led the Ranger pack with finishing 80th overall with a time of 20:56. Nicole was backed by freshmen Amy Troesch (82nd), and Sara Pund (101st), sophomores Emma Frazee (107th), Gabby Hasenour (157th), and Sabrina Becher (165th), and senior Savanna Haas (173rd).

The award winners for the season were: senior Sarah Brasier (Top Academic and PAC Scholar Athlete), sophomores Sabrina Becher (Mental Attitude) and Gabby Hasenour (Most Improved), and freshman Amy Troesch (Most Valuable Runner and Top Newcomer).

BOYS' CROSS COUNTRY

Success is not always measured in wins and losses, but rather in the individual goals being reached. Despite what the scores represented throughout the season, the boys had a year filled with lessons that will enhance future teams. While not always scoring near the top, the boys always put forward their best efforts. The team earned their way to the regional race, but came out on the short end as a team. Individually, junior Trey Dooley and senior Cody Flamin made it to Semi-State. Junior Trey Dooley represented Forest Park by finishing 47th overall with a time of 16:48.

Award winners for the team were junior Trey Dooley (Most Valuable Runner), senior Cody Flamin (Top Academic and PAC Scholar Athlete), freshman Evan Hamilton (Top Newcomer) and Caleb Hasenour (Most Improved), and senior Sean Verkamp (Mental attitude and PAC Scholar Athlete).

BOYS' TENNIS

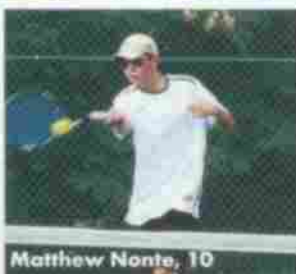

The boys' tennis team swung into action as they ventured through their season. The team anticipated a year of learning because of their youth and inexperience. They graduated two seniors, Bryan Hurst and Kade Olinger. The year ended with a tough loss against Jasper in the first round of sectional. "We have to take this as a great learning opportunity. We want and need to get better... watching them and playing against a team like Jasper can help that process," commented coach Dean Blessinger. The boys' skills can only get better as they continue to practice throughout the rest of the year.

The 2013 award winners were as follows: Senior Bryan Hurst (MVP, All-Conference, PAC Scholar Athlete and Coaches Award), junior Matt Miller (Mental Attitude), and sophomore Andy Schlachter (All-Conference and Most Improved).

According to senior Kiersten Hasenour, "Senior year made me love tennis even more." This year's team had their season dampened by Mother Nature's rain, but still ended a successful season on a positive note. The girls' tennis team made it to the finals of the Jasper sectional by defeating Pike Central 3-2, but fell to No. 6 ranked Jasper by 5-0. When the season came to a close, the Lady Rangers had a winning record of 9-6. MVP honors for the season went to senior Amie Weyer while senior Keresten Hochgesang nabbed Most Improved. Senior Maddison Beckman received the Ranger Spirit award and senior Kiersten Hasenour was given Mental Attitude. Weyer, Hochgesang, and senior Jordan Buechler also made the PAC All-Conference team.

make strides with record Numbers

BOYS' GOLF

The Boys' golf team was making strides, both in performance and the number of players on the 2014 team. Just two years ago, the Rangers fielded a squad of only six members, but things certainly changed this year with a roster of 17 strong. With a good mix of veterans and talented newcomers, the Rangers left coach Chris Tretter optimistic about the season.

The golf award winners for the 2014 season were seniors Winston Glenn (MVP and Short Game), Cole Wendholt (Mental Attitude), Drew Weyer (Consistency), sophomore Colton Glenn (Most Improved) and freshman Bryce Brosmer (Newcomer of the Year).

Senior Winston Glenn fired a personal best 38 at the Jasper Quad. Winston lead the Rangers during the match.

The Longest Yard

Having a lot to prove after a tough season last year, the football team walked out with their heads held high. They succeeded in making Forest Park history by beating Heritage Hills for the first time ever.

When it came to the sectional, the Rangers did not have an easy road. With two ranked teams, three others with winning records and another persistent power house, there was no simple draw for the Rangers in the 2A Sectional tournament. Forest Park had the difficult chore of facing No. 1 ranked and undefeated Evansville Mater Dei on the road. The Rangers lost to the Wildcats 49-7. The Rangers finished their season with a 2-8 record.

Dakota Begle, senior, made the All-Conference team as a kicker. Senior Josh Voegerl also made the All-Conference team as a running back Honorable Mention. Seniors Austin Egloff, Tristan Begle, Dakota Begle, Josh Voegerl, and Bryce Bettag received academic All-Conference. At the team banquet, awards were given to Mickevin Wilson (Most Improved), Austin Egloff (Defensive Line), Ethan Knust (Offensive Line), Alec Hassfurthner (Receiver), Josh Voegerl (Running Back), and Bryce Bettag (Tackle, Mental Attitude, and MVP).

SPORT Q&A //

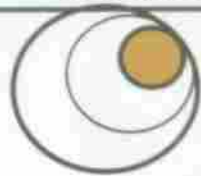

What did it feel like to make Forest Park history by beating Heritage Hills for the first time ever?

Reece Heilers, 12 //
"Defeating Heritage Hills was an amazing feeling. Not only did we conclude the season with a win on our home field, but we also made history. I will never forget that night for the rest of my life."

Bryce Bettag, 12 //
"After the second half, I knew we were going to walk off that field with our heads held high and a dub under our belts...I didn't go to sleep that night because of the gross amount of excitement built up in me."

SPIKE

IT UP

The volleyball team experienced a season of highs and lows. Throughout the season, they came close to defeating many top contenders, including the Evansville Mater Dei Wildcats, whom the team battled and lost to in the first game of sectional. After the Lady Rangers took the Wildcats to the wire twice this season before coming up short in the end, everyone felt that magical third time would be a charm and the victory they were longing for.

But it was not meant to be. Coach Jamie Giesler stated, "The girls were ready and did not expect to lose. The kids gave it everything they had. Mater Dei just had a better game than we did."

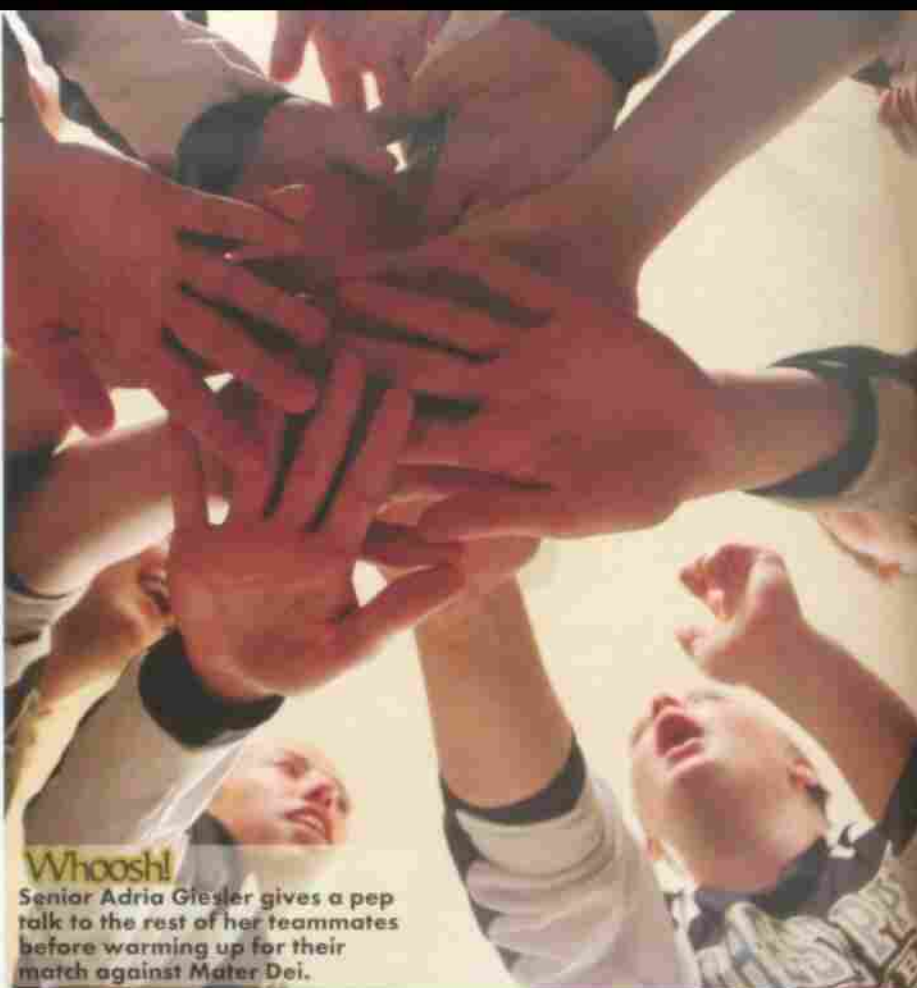

Award winners for the 2013 team were: seniors Chloe Dilger - PAC All Academic and Aces, Adria Giesler - PAC 2nd Team, North/South Elite Team, Assist, Points, and Serving, Devin Schaefer- Blocks, and Emily Wiseman- PAC All Academic Team, juniors Heather Buechler- Mental Attitude, and Lydia Lange- PAC 1st team, North/South Elite Team, Kills, Digs, and MVP.

Cheering down the hallway behind Buechler Arena, senior Devin Schaefer claps hands with the rest of her teammates to get pumped up for their game.

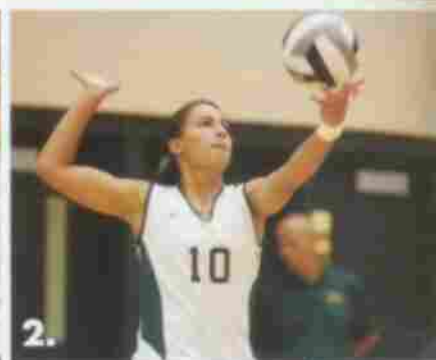

1. Senior Adria Giesler runs out of the huddle to clap hands with other starters.

ASK THE JUNIORS

What are some things you see your team needs to improve on for next year?

LYDIA LANGE

"I think the team definitely has a good outlook for next year. If we step up our communication and positivity, we can definitely get somewhere!"

ANNA HAGEDORN

"Next year we need to really focus on improving with every game and have our eyes on a title from the very first practice. If we do that I know we will go far."

Our TIME has COME

Lady Rangers nab their second Sectional Title

The time for the Lady Ranger soccer team arrived. After many hard-fought battles and a season full of ups and downs, the Lady Rangers came out on top, winning sectional for the second time in school history. "Unforgettable," senior Rachel Lueken said when describing the team's successful season. "After being on four different teams here at Forest Park, this one has given me the most memories I will cherish forever. From team bonding to camp, our team really grew as one unit." The Ladies finished off their season 9-10-1. Freshman Madisyn Hunt and junior Madison Knies made All-Conference and senior Rachel Lueken received Honorable Mention. Madison Knies was awarded MVP honors, junior Hailei Gehlhausen was named Most Improved, senior Demi Jahn received Mental Attitude, and senior Rachel Lueken nabbed the Defense Award.

Victory at Last

For the second time in Forest Park history, the senior members of the Lady Ranger soccer team hoist the sectional trophy in the air after beating North Harrison 2-0.

"I was so happy beating Heritage Hills for the first time in ten games we have played them. It was especially sweet since it was in penalty kicks and that is how they beat us in sectional the past two years."

"After two years of losing to them, this is the icing on the cake. The best feeling in the world," said senior Cassie Dilger.

Tabitha Steckler, 12

The first round of sectional play felt a little like déjà vu, but this time the tables were turned. The past two years the Patriots dashed the Rangers sectional dreams in penalty kicks. This year Rangers came out on top.

The Rangers survived two rounds of overtime and two rounds of penalty kicks to defeat Heritage Hills. Senior goalie Tabitha Steckler held the Rangers at a 3-2 advantage during penalty kicks. Seniors Rachel Lueken and Cassie Dilger and junior Madison Knies notched the three goals for the Rangers.

Rangers capture first-ever regional title

The boys soccer team had a phenomenal season with many accolades under their belt. For starters, the team won a back to back sectional title by knocking off two state ranked teams: No. 13 Washington Catholic by a score of 2-1 and No. 12 Mater Dei by a score of 1-0. During the regular season, the Rangers and Washington Catholic Cardinals played to a 2-2 tie making the victory extra sweet. The semi-state semifinals at Floyd Central High School would play out to be another nailbiting game with No. 5 ranked Speedway falling to the Rangers in a 2-1 overtime victory and advancing to semi-state, where they fell short by only one point.

The award winners for the 2013 season were: seniors Dakota Begle (Golden Foot, MVP), Cody Flamion (Mental Attitude and All Conference), Cody Tempel (Most Valuable Defense) and junior Ben Englert (Most Improved and All Conference). In addition, senior Spenser Sermersheim and junior Cole Henke were All Conference Honorable Mention. Also, Flamion was chosen District Top Team Player, Begle was Second Team All District and coach Brent Sicard was District Coach of the Year. PAC Scholar Athlete honors went to Begle, Tempel, Flamion, seniors Blake Altmann and Brandon Luebbehusen, while Flamion, Luebbehusen, Englert and junior Austin Bromm were chosen Academic All District.

Cheerleaders lead Ranger Nation

The Ranger cheerleaders stood as an influential group of innovators for the Ranger Nation. The girls started out by leading the crowd at the football games whether it was pouring down rain or freezing cold. Their season started in the summer and ended after the last basketball game. The cheerleaders spent countless hours practicing to guide the enthusiastic Ranger teams to a victory. This year the squad had a strong senior base. Steering the way were seniors Amie Weyer, Jenna Bieker, and Tiffany Singer. As the season came to a close the awards went to freshman Adley Spayd (most improved), junior Tabbi Bolte (mental attitude), and senior Jenna Bieker (MVP). Also, PAC academic honors went to seniors Amie Weyer and Jenna Bieker.

"My favorite part of cheer is growing so close to the team throughout the season. We had our ups and downs, but as a team we worked through them and came out stronger."

The Last of Firsts Senior Sectional Champion

Winston Glenn, Senior

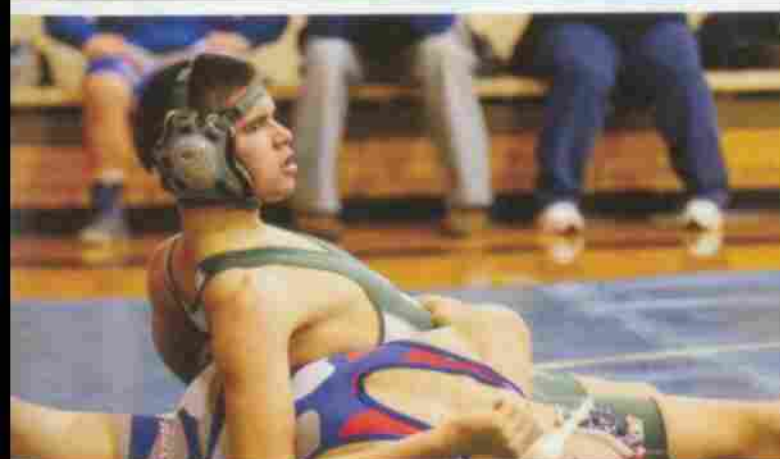

"Once you have wrestled, everything else in life is easy."

Winston has had the opportunity to wrestle for Forest Park his four years in high school. During his career with the Rangers, he has had many pins, never before having a sectional title in his name. This year he captured the individual championship at the 132 weight class. With his hard work and dedication to the team the past four years, this was a greatly deserved accomplishment.

Take 'em down

Celebrating senior night, Leighton Fleck, senior, works on getting a pin during the match against Mitchell.

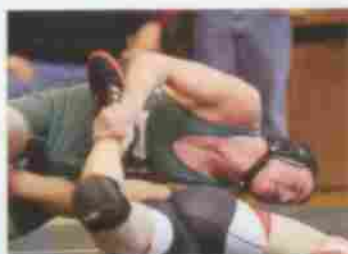

PINNING down the Competition

Wrestlers focus on quality, not quantity

The mantra of the wrestling team that was prevalent all winter long was to focus on getting players to wrestle at their highest level and not worrying about weight classes that were not filled.

Knowing they could only fill nine of the 14 weight classes at the Southridge Sectional, the Rangers were far from discouraged. They wanted to make the most of opportunity they had. The team qualified all nine of their wrestlers to the regional competition and in the process, finished a solid fourth at sectional. Even though this season for the Ranger wrestling team was not one of pure victory, the boys still proved themselves well. The twelve determined young men advanced from sectionals to regionals. Seniors Cody Flaminio and Winston Glenn both progressed towards semi-state. Though neither of them went further, it was safe to say that the team had a season to be proud of. The award winners went to four seniors, Cody Flaminio (Coaches Award), Leighton Fleck (Most Pins and Mental Attitude), Winston Glenn (Most Pins, Most Takedowns and MVP), and Tyler Recker (Most Improved).

"Our motto is it's not about the number, it's about how we wrestle. I thought we did a real good job."

BRINGIN' THE HEAT

Lady Rangers heat up the court despite injuries and illness

The Lady Rangers basketball team came out on fire. Despite having to cope with a few illnesses and an injured player, they continued their heat streak and brought their best to sectional, but sadly, they were not able to defeat the Tell City Vikings.

At the end of season banquet, senior Ashley Reckelhoff swept four awards: MVP, Defense, Assists, and Three-Point Field Goal Percentage. Sophomore Mariah Morgan took both Steals and Assists while Rachel Hopf earned Free Throw Percentage and Rebounding. Senior Kereston Hochgesang received Blocked Shots, and junior Lydia Lange nabbed Field Goal Percentage. Reckelhoff and Lange earned All Conference while Hochgesang was Honorable Mention. Hochgesang and Reckelhoff were named PAC Scholar Athletes, and Reckelhoff also received HBCA All District honors.

SPORTS: BOYS' BASKETBALL

Playing with HEART

A Team That Never Backed Down

The Forest Park boys' basketball team's season was full of highs and lows, but one thing was for certain, they played with heart. "I think that this season was full of ups and downs. We came to work each and every day and worked as hard as and with as much heart as any other FP team. This team came together throughout the season and formed an unbreakable brotherhood," quoted junior Ben Englert. The boys captured big wins against county rivals Dubois and Jasper and finished the season with an 11-11 record. MVP, Wendy's Player of the Year, most assists, most steals, most deflections, best 3-point percentage, and best free throw percentage awards went to senior Joel Weyer. Ben Englert nabbed best field goal percentage and senior Cody Tempel received the mental attitude award and most blocked shots. Senior Dakota Begle was awarded most rebounds, junior Damon Wilmes got most charges taken, and sophomore David Lusk nabbed most improved. Begle and senior Austin Egloff were named PAC Scholar Athletes. Weyer was picked for the All-PAC squad and Wilmes received honorable mention.

Girls' team take the Conference title Bowling

This year was the girls' first ever Blue-Chip South Conference championship with an undefeated season. Mallory Dale, sophomore, placed fifth at sectional while Amy Bockelman, senior, came in second. The girls advanced to Regionals where they placed fourth. Although the team had an impressive placing, no one advanced to Semi-State. The boys' record was 6-4. Senior Adam Woodall was the only boy bowler to advance on to Sectionals. Adam placed fifth at Sectionals.

Award winners for the 2014 season were: seniors Amy Bockelman (Academic All-State and high average), Chad Hoppenjans (high series), Shane Fendel (high game) Logan Kelley (Academic All-State), and Adam Woodall (Academic All-State and high average). Sophomore Mallory Dale (high series) and freshmen Dillon Hasenour (most improved), Hailey Thayer (most improved), and Julia Woodall (high game). The girls team also received trophies for winning conference and sectional titles.

Sports SUPERSTITIONS

The POWER of Pre-game Rituals

Most people have seen or heard of athletes performing ritual movements before competitions, from a football player blessing themselves before a game, to a golf player with their favorite putter. For a spectator watching it may seem odd or a little strange; however, in all sports, superstitions are widespread and are a very common practice. Some people may not even realize that they do such practices until they look back through the years. We, the yearbook staff, searched the fields and courts to find players who had some superstitions of their own here at Forest Park. Luckily, we found an abundant amount of athletes who partake in pre-game rituals. These are only just a few of the responses that we collected from fellow students.

Senior Trent Bayer shares with us that he wears the same helmet and does not strap his batting gloves when he is up to bat in baseball.

"I listen to the same song to get me ready for my game/meet."
-Shelby Loudon, 9

"Before every game, I flip the baseball up and try to catch it behind my back. If I catch it, I know the Baseball Gods are on our side. If I don't catch it, I keep doing it until I do."
-Cody Tempel, 12

"I draw a smiley on my hand before every golf match for good luck."
-Drew Weyer, 12

Eating chicken strips, praying and wearing their lucky socks before each cross country meet, seniors Nicole Rahman and Savanna Haas reveal what gives them the upper hand on the course.

Sophomore Zach Brasmer listens to "Survivor" by Eminem before every match.

"I have a four-leaf clover that a teammate gave to me. I laminated it and keep it in my right sock, my jumping foot, to bring me good luck when I compete."
-Anna Hagedorn, 11

Throwing for a State Title

Junior Noah Braunecker qualified for state

Coach Karl Hinson had an idea that the two biggest strengths of his boys' track team this spring would be their throwers and distance runners. Coach Hinson was correct. Junior Noah Braunecker made a trip to the State finals in the shot put and discus while senior Cody Flamion made it to Regionals in the 3200m run. Noah grabbed 22nd place in the discus and 26th in the shot put during the state meet.

The award winners for the 2014 season were senior Cody Flamion (most valuable distance), juniors Noah Braunecker (most valuable thrower), Tyler Henke (Ranger award), Emerson Thayer (most valuable sprinter), sophomore Blake Emmert (most valuable jumper), and freshman Blake Mohr (most valuable freshman).

Giving it his all

Junior Noah Braunecker gets ready to release the discus at the IHSAA State Track and Field Finals. Noah had plenty to be proud of that he not only advanced to state, but he participated in two events.

Oprah Winfrey said, "Running is the greatest metaphor of life, because you get out of it what you put into it." Girls' Track has done just this, not only with running events but also field events. From coming in 4th place at PAC to junior Taylor Tretter conquering the pole vault record, and placing 2nd as a team in the Sectional and advancing 10 to Regional, the Girls' Track team has accomplished just what they wanted to this year.

Award winners for the 2014 season were senior Tori Lange (Ranger award), juniors Taylor Tretter (Jumper award and PAC All Conference), and Lydia Schnieders (Thrower award), sophomore Emma Frazee (Distance award) and freshman Madisyn Hunt (MVP, Freshman award and Sprinter award).

ONE FOR THE RECORD BOOKS

Junior Taylor Tretter set a new school record in the pole vault by clearing 9'0" during the South Spencer Quad meet defeating the old school record of 8'9". Taylor says this about beating the school record this year, "It was shocking and pure joy. I've been wanting and training to beat the record for so long and to finally get it was exhilarating. I was shaking so bad and didn't stop smiling for two straight days."

Ready, Set, SWING

The softball team encountered a few coaching changes in their 2014 season. Kyle Greulich stepped in as the new head coach and Kaci Schwinghamer and Leah Miller also coached for their first time. Coach Greulich has had his share of coaching experience during his time at F.P. Not only did he head the wrestling program for a short period, but he also was the assistant in baseball and boys' tennis coach and even spent time on the sidelines during basketball season.

This year's team consisted of six seniors. "We have a great senior class that will provide leadership both on and off the field," said Greulich.

After taking care of the Perry Central Commodores 7-6 in eight innings, the girls fell to No. 10th ranked South Spencer Rebels in the final game of the sectional.

Senior Adria Giesler earned all conference recognition as an infielder.

"This year we had amazing seniors who were able to lead us throughout the season while still making us laugh. I will miss all their support and humor next year."

Always staying positive, the boys' baseball team fought through every game. Although their battles were close, not every competition ended the way they would have liked it to; however, the eight seniors carried a fun and upbeat attitude throughout the season, even with the several rescheduled games due to rain. The Rangers fell to defending state champions and No. 2 ranked South Spencer in the first round of sectional play. "I will say this about our guys, they could have dogged it. They could have given up a long time ago and they didn't," commented Coach Jarred Howard. "They stayed at it and continued to compete, so I'm proud of them for that."

JV Girls'

Practice Makes You Perfect

Practice, Practice, Practice. The more you practice the better that you will get. That is what the JV Girls' team did this year. They practiced many times to work on perfecting their skills to hopefully move up to Varsity during the season, or advance on next year. The JV teams' number one goal is to prepare the players and teach different techniques to improve their ways.

JV Boys'

Practice Makes You Perfect

When they were younger, almost all athletes had the dream of becoming a professional player. Everyone knew that it will take time, hard work and dedication to take your game to the next level. The junior varsity teams were the next step for the competitor, giving an extra year to build upon their skills. Both teams finished their season with respectable records. The biggest gain was the experience they will take to the next level.

Starting the Tradition

Freshman sports gain experience

Volleyball

Working hard and experiencing new fundamentals, the freshman volleyball team excelled on the court. The girls were coached by Ms. Nicole Loehr, who was in charge for her first season. She said, "The girls worked very hard and improved every game, and had a passion to keep improving. It came through when the girls beat the county rival Jasper." With their hard work, they finished the season off with six wins and seven losses.

Boys' Basketball

Defying the odds is what the freshman basketball team did. This past season the boys started and finished strong. The boys won their own tourney in late December by defeating Princeton in the final game. As a first year coach, Jordan Johnson commented, "The guys played very hard and improved every game. The biggest game the boys had was when they won their own tourney, in the middle of a seven game win streak." The boys capped the season off with eight wins and eight losses.

"I am extremely honored to have received this award in memory of such a well-respected and admirable young woman, Mary Kay Ruhe. I feel grateful and hope that I have lived up to the example she has set."

-Chloe Dilger, senior

Mary Kay Ruhe Award

Following in her older siblings footsteps, Chloe Dilger started playing sports as soon as she could in elementary and junior high school. During her high school career she participated in volleyball and track. She was also a member of the dance team, which was not included for this award since the girls do not get letters for it. She enjoys each one of her sports, but being asked to choose a favorite, the decision was volleyball. She said, "I feel most carefree and the least amount of pressure in the game." During volleyball this year she made the All-Conference Honorable Mention. This was just one of her many accomplishments. Through her high school career Chloe had the chance to advance to track regionals multiple times on the relay teams and win four state champion titles with the dance team. Before making these accomplishments, she has always recited Philippians 4:13, "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me." As Chloe graduates high school her advice to younger athletes is this, "Believe in your own strengths and capabilities. Don't over think anything or let negative thoughts get to you."

Senior Blanket Awards

Male Senior Award

Starting most of his sports in kindergarten or 1st grade, Cody participated in soccer, cross country, track, and wrestling during his high school career. As one can see Cody had a lot on his plate playing four sports, but he played because he enjoyed the games. Soccer was his favorite sport because he had played since a kid and loved the team aspect of it. During his last year of high school the soccer team made it to semi-state, which started his senior year off to a great start. This was just one of his qualifications for semi-state in one year. The other two were in cross country and wrestling. Before running the 3200 relay at every track meet Cody started by running a mile warm up and always reminded himself to "never let good be good enough." As another one of the seniors that will be greatly missed leaves, his advice to younger athletes is, "Have fun, do your best, and put in the extra work to make yourself better."

"This award means so much to me because it shows that all my hard work has paid off and all the extra hours I have put in to have succeed in my sports world."

-Cody Flamion, senior

Last Glance

Hallways stripped of decorations and studying has ceased. Students emptied the hallways taking one final look back on the school year with satisfaction of accomplishment, sadness of leaving their safe ground for the past twelve years, or both. Taking one last glance through the school year, one might highlight a boys' soccer team making a run for school history, dancers bringing home yet another gold at state, and the band defending their state champion title. Last glances happen once in a lifetime. They are that of a last page in a book—the final sentence before one moves on to bigger and better things. Take one last glance at the friendships and memories, for these bonds will last a lifetime.

Holiday World
& Splashin' SAFARI

A large central photograph of a young woman with long blonde hair, smiling, wearing a black and yellow letterman jacket and holding a soccer ball. To her left is a vertical strip of three smaller photos: a girl in a red shirt sitting in a field, a boy in a white jersey with the number 7, and a boy in a green and white shirt. To her right is a portrait of a young woman in a leopard print top, and below that, a portrait of a young woman in a purple scarf. The background of the entire collage is a soft-focus image of a field with yellow flowers.
