Study Habits

Study Habits — there are no two the same. Some people think studying means sitting in front of the T.V. and doing homework. Some listen to the radio while doing homework, while others need peace and quiet. Time spent on homework usually depends on what the subject is and how much one has to do. The time spent on homework is usually between 45 minutes and 2 hours per night. So when doing homework, use your time wisely!

Jamie Clark listens in Yearbook class.

Taking a break in Homeroom is Tina Messmer.

Doing his homework in Mr. Yarbrough's Lit. 10 class is Mike Wright.

Working hard on his homework is Brent Sternberg.

Working all alone is Vicki Mehringer.

Friendships

Doug Verkamp and Brian Brown share their computer talents.

Craig Cook and Neil Hurst are looking up what a true friendship is.

Jason Bohnert tells a group of graphic arts students about his plans.

Band students relax on the Padre Island beach in Corpus Christi, Texas.

Missy Birkle and Miranda Burger wait for Kelly Bleemel to get her books for the next class.

Friendship involves the sharing of the selves. And one of the greatest aspects, certainly, of love is joy in personal life. Each friend must be able to give that joy and to enter into it. . . The very idea of a worthy friendship implies that the friends need and desire each other and so are continuously receptive and eager for the other's gift.

Susan Polis Schutz

Courtney Schwenk and Michelle Ofer take it easy together during their passing periods.

Senior girls are fired up for a game of Powder Puff Football.

Patiently, Sarah Buehler and April Hinkle work on their leather project during Art class.

Senior guys huddle together in support at the football game.

Brian Nord and Dereck Vogler get ready to sell JA projects to their friends.

Dances

J.H.S. dances were a big success. Many clubs sponsored the dances in order to raise money.

"It would be nice if more of the student body would come to support their own clubs and activities at the school dances because the dances are fundraisers," said Mr. Jessee.

"The dances are fun if there are a lot of people there. Throughout all my high school years, the dances are what I remember most," said Kena Meyer.

The attendance increased as the year went by. The students had a good time, behavior was good, and there was a lot of dancing, according to Vice-Principal Jessee.

Ann Prechtel and Chad Hardin dance the night away to a friendly song.

King and Queen of the Morp Dance, Brian Brown and Sara Geiger, sit together for their "formal" portrait.

Rachelle Owens and Kena Meyer demonstrate what to do during a slow song when partners aren't there.

Seniors Amy Schnarr, Julie Persohn, and Bev Schmitt have dressed up for the Halloween Dance.

Sen

Chris Weisman takes a nap through Ann Stetter's boring conversation.

John Merder walks off wondering how Tom Peters sleeps standing up.

As Jamie Clark wakes up, he realizes he's in the mini-van and not his bed.

Eric Harkness waits his turn to talk to the Guidance Counselor.

Jennifer Egler is doing her usual thing, laughing.

Weekends &

Jamey Rohlman takes a break from carrying out at Dip-pel's to say hello.

For some, the weekend was a time for rest and relaxation. Sometimes, weekends were used for fundraising. But if you were like most of us, you looked forward to the partying.

For others, the weekend was for earning money instead of spending it. Working at a job also gave us a sense of pride and accomplishment. And it often was as much a source of fun and friends as the parties themselves were.

These senior girls always know how to have a good time.

Jobs

Mick Jarboe takes pride in his job at Buehler's Northwood!

Kelley Rees shows her enthusiasm for the evening's festivities as E.G. Bartley chooses to catch a few Z's.

Janelle Schroering shows us what checking out is all about at the new Dippel's store.

Fads

Today's fads are unique. They are brought about by more than just a few popular people. Anyone and everyone who wears something different from the crowd starts a fad. Fads stretch back to the days of cowboys and their boots, but who would have thought that some day there would be such things as stretch pants?

Ryan Baer looks as though he didn't comb his hair this morning, but it is really another fad.

Showing that even girls can be cowboys these days is Kelley Rees.

Having the real razor's edge is Kevin Schroeder with his new AC/DC concert shirt.

Is Brian Brown too tired to tuck in his popular flannel shirt or was he late for school today?

The ever so popular black shoes worn by Brian Clesi make it easier to sneak around at night.

Jim Drew's unique "Gotcha" jacket looks as though it has been washed in bleach one too many times.

Either Jennifer Schiller is worried about keeping her jeans dry or this is a new fad.

Stephanie Tomlinson shows off her new style of the popular stretch pants.

Lunchtime

FAVORITE FOOD - PIZZA
THE WORST FOOD - HOT DOG
BEST SOFT DRINK - MT. DEW
WHO HAS MOST K.P. - CHARLIE KREILEIN

Finishing lunch, Sophomores Manda Luker and Denise Vollmer discuss why all the boys sit at the table next to them.

Freshman Sylvia Pund and her friends talk about the latest gossip after finishing lunch.

Senior Dale Gress gives that "What did you say about my Dodge?" look as he purchases a soft drink from the Coke machine during lunch.

Seniors Kenny Bryan, Spencer Brassard, and Jason Sendelweck can't believe Sophomore Jill Bender didn't notice the ketchup they put on her hash brown.

Hillory McClure sits in the cafeteria breaking through into the new year with her sunglasses and Jasper jersey.

Emily Tanner washes cars to raise money for the Cheerleader Nationals trip to Texas.

Jennifer Underwood and Brenda Houchin study their government together.

Angie Jochum closes her eyes and imagines what her Mountain Dew tastes like.

Brandy Blaize gives one of those looks that says, "Please, I'm trying to use the phone."

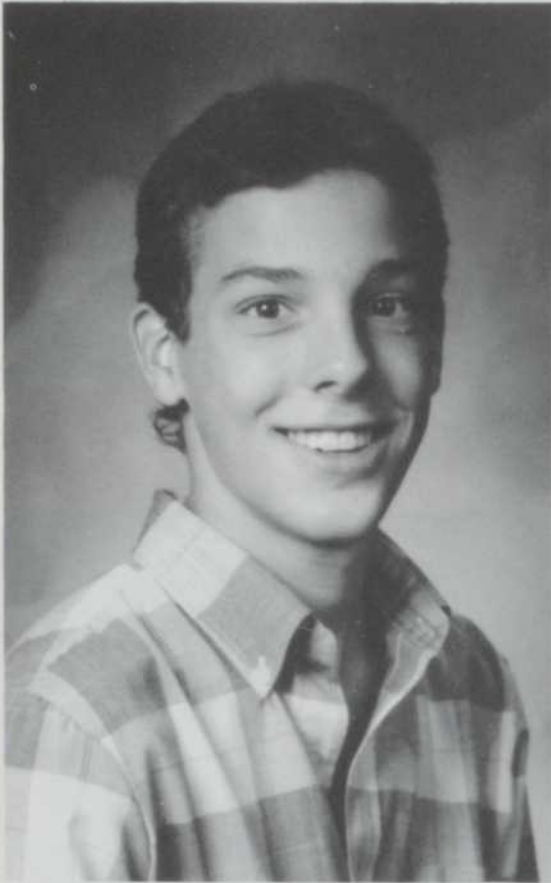

Lisa Freeman's favorite part of lunch is dipping her french fries in ketchup.

OUR CLASS

Life's Unsure Path

We remember you with smiles for the fun times we had.

We remember you through our trials lending a helping hand.

Your laughter and your friendship will always be fresh in our minds.

Even though it sometimes hurts us,
we can never forget the good times.

You were taken from us unexpectedly;
the shock was hard to bear.

But we know that you are happy and we still feel your presence here.

As we travel down life's unsure path reaching destinies unknown,

We keep your spirit in our heart
so we travel not alone.

REMEMBERS...

My Brother's Tears

I weep my brother's tears,
He knows my silent fears;
His dreams are mine to share.

Strangers with names unknown,
Walking these paths alone,
Each an echo of my own.

I sing my brother's song.
His strengths help me grow strong.

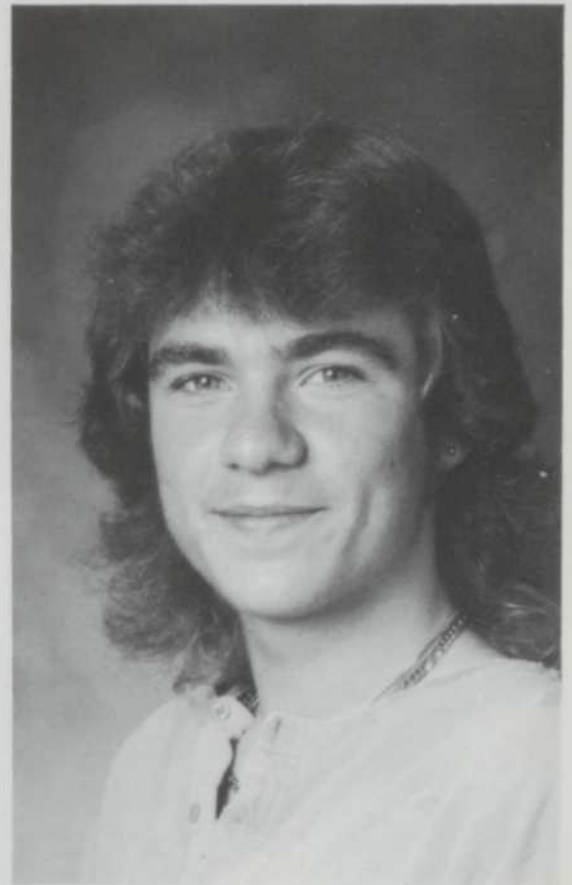

Different we may be,
He is a part of me.

Clasping his hand in mine
Joined in that endless line,

I touch the hand of my brother.
I wish I could again.

Jim Drew shows his dedication by decorating his van.

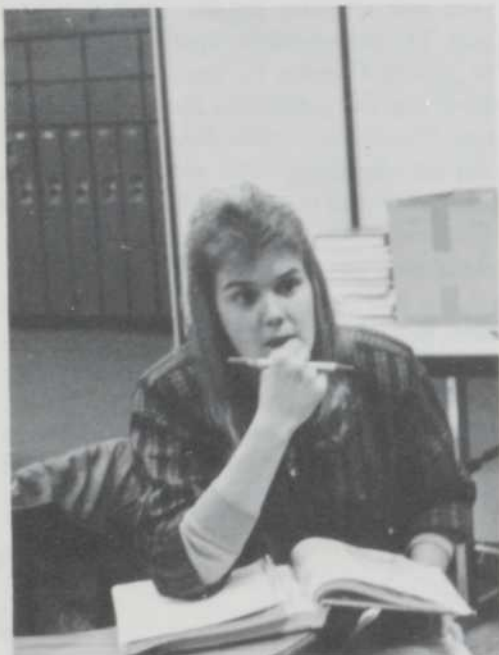

The Jasper High School Student Council and Mr. Brames, their advisor, were responsible for the organization of many projects and activities for the 1990-91 school year. The purpose of the Student Council was to provide a means for the students to have input into the policies set by the administration. The club provided a service to the school and the community. This year their activities started off with the football homecoming and elections. A Christmas toy drive and Christmas Dance was held in December. The Council was also in charge of dress-up days, spirit days, pep rallies, and a car decorating contest. They had Secret Teacher and a teacher breakfast to keep students in touch with the faculty. Other activities included a student exchange with other schools and a lock-up which brought the Student Council members together to have fun.

J-Staff

The J-Staff had fewer members this year than ever before. This placed much more responsibility and work on everybody on the staff. Even with the small staff, the 1991 J-Staff raised the most money ever for the yearbook. This enabled more color to be put in this year's yearbook. Because of the hard work, the staff members were rewarded with pizza parties throughout the year. The co-editors of the staff were Debbie Brosmer and Steve Artmeier. In September, the staff went to VUJC for a workshop sponsored by Herff Jones. In November, the staff went to New Albany for a workshop sponsored by SISPA.

What is your favorite issue of the Comet throughout the year? The COMET has two different staffs, one each semester. The first semester editor was Annette Foll and the assistant editor was Letitia Marino. The second semester editors were Amy Gettelfinger and Laura Schuler and assistant editors were Amy Cox and Brian Clesi. Both semesters' staffs produced a total of six issues. The second semester staff also toured the Evansville Courier and Channel 44. Mr. LaGrange and his staff are working toward setting more of the copy here at Jasper High School.

The National Honor Society is an organization to encourage academic achievement while developing other characteristics essential to citizens in a democracy. To be a member of the National Honor Society, a student must be a junior or senior and maintain a 3.0 GPA average or better. Initiation into the Society took place in December. Projects of the club included Computer Fun, which began in February, and Peer Tutoring, which began in September and lasted throughout the school year. Club members also "shadowed" a professional to see first-hand what someone in the member's chosen field of study does on the job.

Debbie Brosmer, Michelle Ofer, and Tonya Meyer conduct the meeting.

The 60 members come every Wednesday morning before school to find ways to help the handicapped.

Jr. Civitan is one of the few clubs at J.H.S. that was established to help the less fortunate. The club functioned to raise money and benefit the mentally and physically handicapped. Jr. Civitan had many activities such as the dunking booth at the Dubois County 4-H Fair and at the Strassenfest during the summer. In the fall they took the Special Education students to Holiday World, and held bake sales. In the winter, members planned a day of fun while helping with the Winter Special Olympics at Paoli. Jr. Civitan also sponsored the Valentine's Carnation sale and Radio-a-thon.

Academic Decathlon

The Academic Decathlon local competition was held at Jasper High School on January 19, 1991. The team took second place in small schools division. The Academic Decathlon State Finals competition was held in Indianapolis on February 9, 1991. The team took second place in small schools division and first place in Super Quiz competition out of thirteen small schools from around the state. The team members were all first place medal winners in Super Quiz competition. The topic was Space Exploration. Mrs. Stradtner in her first year as coach said that their objective is to place well academically in competition.

Art Club

Fifty-five students formed a new club to broaden their interests in and knowledge of art, to travel to shows and art related functions, and to provide support for the arts at the high school. Over Spring Break the Art Club took a two day trip to Chicago to visit the Chicago Museum of art and other places of interest. The group viewed the showroom and art work at Kimball. They also participated in setting up displays and exhibits.

The Octagon Club helped young men and women to become active and involved in solving problems that challenge the community and society. Participation in Octagon Club activities allowed students to develop as individuals while they were involved in community service projects. Some of the activities members participated in were the Big Brother-Sister Christmas Party, March of Dimes Walkathon, Red Cross Blood Drive, the Halloween Dance, 4-H Fair, and the Strassenfest. Advisor, Mrs. Hurm said, "All the officers were extremely dedicated."

The Columbian Squires' main goal was to have fun while learning. The Squires, affiliated with the K of C in Jasper, sponsored community events to benefit the public. During the summer months, the Columbian Squires had volleyball tournaments and a barbecue. In the fall and winter, the Squires sponsored a blood drive and held a dance for high school students. Then in the spring, the Columbia Squires had a Free Throw Contest and another barbecue. Money raised was given in the form of scholarships to dedicated seniors. According to President Todd Fromme, "Our purpose was to have a good time while learning how to organize our future."

Key Club

The Key Club did many useful things for the city, schools, and for the 911 system offering assistance. The Key Club painted addresses for the 911 system to make it easier for ambulance drivers to find houses. One of their fund raising activities was selling suckers to raise money for the Key Club Convention. The Key Club was a useful tool in the community.

Some of the Jatteens and Jayteens gather around to discuss their game against each other.

The Jayteens, sponsored by the Jasper Jaycees, had a very busy year. They had a chicken stand and a ring toss stand at the Strassenfest. They also helped with the Kimball picnics and held a scholarship fund drive. They played bingo with residents of the Providence Home and donated money to different charities.

The purpose of the Jayteens was to run projects in order to benefit the community of Jasper and the club itself. Community service was one of the main goals of the club.

The Jayteenettes, sponsored by the Jasper Jaycees had a very busy year. At the Strassenfest they had a booth; they had a float in the parade and organized and worked the Strassenfest Pet Contest. The girls donated a flag to Jasper High School, worked four Kimball picnics, worked at Memorial Hospital fitness run, did face paintings for Southgate merchants and bought Christmas presents for needy families. Voted outstanding were Senior member Kathy Bennett, Junior member Margo Jahn and Sophomore member Melanie Bachman.

Junior Achievement's theme for the 1990-1991 year was Spectrum for Success. J.A., organized with 28 advisors and 85 achievers, was designed to allow high school students opportunities to learn about the everyday operations of a business first hand. J.A. achievers were expected to organize a company, develop, produce, market, and sell products and to liquidate their company after two 10-week periods. Junior Achievement also had a banquet to recognize the many different companies and to reward those companies and individuals for their excellent job as achievers. The banquet was held March 18 at the Holiday Inn. Awards were given for company of the year, service company of the year, and President and Vice-President of production, marketing, finance, and personnel. Other awards went to sales company, top individual sales achiever, top attendance company, and best sales contest. Scholarships were also awarded to senior achievers. Jasper was also selected as one of the Midwest areas to start an exchange with Junior Achievement of Mexico.

The German Club took part in many different activities this year. Included in this was a Christmas tree recycling held in January, a candy sale held in the fall, and planting flowers in front of the school on Earth Day. The main goal of the German Club was the support of their exchange program. However, the exchange program was cancelled this year because of the war. The German Club tried to make its members environmentally aware of the surroundings.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club was active in the Cinco de May (5th of May) celebration at Paco's. Several club members did a dance called "The Dance of the Dirty Old Men." Another activity of the club was selling Sombrero Pops to raise money for members to visit Spain in the student exchange program. The Spanish Club had different celebrations than other classes, all in an effort to learn more about the Spanish culture.

I.C.E.

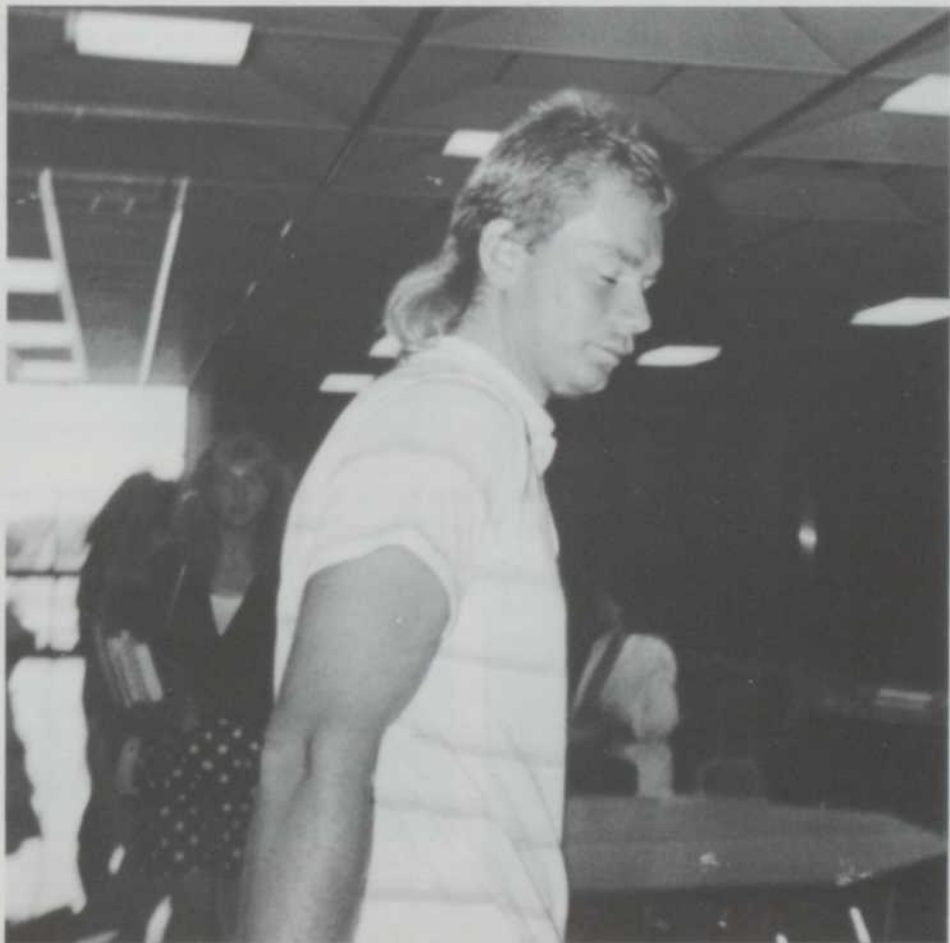

"Gotta pay my bills," says John Merder. And there is no better way to do it than to get out of school an hour early to go to work. I.C.E. is a full year class that offers 6 credits if the class is completed. There is a class related study for an hour each day and a minimum of 15 hours of work a week at minimum wage or higher. A training plan and agreement is signed at the beginning of the year by the student, teacher, parent, and employer to describe what the student will do during the year. There were 13 students enrolled in the class this year.

Consisting of 95 members, the marching band accomplished the long awaited goal of getting back into State Finals. The band's last previous appearance in State Finals was in 1984. Highlights of the season included 1st place Class 3A, F.J. Reitz Inv.; 1st place Class 4A Pike Central Inv. and Sweepstakes Champion; 2nd place Class B, Center Grove Inv.; 5th place Open Class, Greenwood Inv.; 1st Division Class B, District in Jasper; 2nd place Class 4A, South Spencer Inv. The band also finished in the top 5 at Class B Regionals in Evansville, allowing members to advance to I.S.S.M.A. State Finals in Indianapolis. The band placed 10th in Class B State Finals in the Hoosier Dome.

Another honor bestowed upon the band was being selected from bands across the country to participate in the Cotton Bowl parade and festivities. The band traveled to Houston, Corpus Christi, San Antonio, and Dallas, Texas, and visited the Hard Rock Cafe, Padre Island, the Alamo, and Southfork Ranch during Christmas vacation.

Miranda Burger, Sylvia Pund, and Jill Matheis run through their performance in the band room.

The Winter Guard consisted of fourteen members. One highlight of the season included performing in the Jasper Invitational. In other performances, there were two sixth-place finishes, one second-place, and one first-place. The Winter Guard capped off an excellent season with a fifth-place showing at Class A State Finals at Southport H.S. in Indianapolis. The Winter Guard also presented a colorful pre-game show at all the home basketball games.

Choirs Present

Beth Jerger and Julie Linette take time to smile.

The school year was a success in the choral department. From the Madrigal Dinner to "West Side Story" the students accomplished many dreams. The Madrigal Dinner was held in December, and many choir students were involved. "West Side Story" was also a huge success for the choral department and many other students within the school. Numerous awards were presented as well as letters and jackets for the points they earned. These awards were given out to the students at the annual choral banquet. The spirit award, best female actress and vocalist, best male actor and vocalist, and several mental attitude awards, to name a few, were among them.

Many of the choir members that were seniors have chosen to continue in the musical field in college. The choral department also had the opportunity to work with a student teacher, Mr. Barber, who during the second semester taught full time.

Senior Jeff Hayes tries to push everyone around, but it looks like the freshmen might not let him.

Stephanie Ard, a new student at Jasper this year, worked on the sets and stage for the production.

Sophomore Janet Fischer "takes 5" to rest and plan for the production of "West Side Story."

Forensics Theatre attended eleven regular speech meets, and assisted the Civic Auditorium production of ROMEO AND JULIET. Also, twenty-eight students attended a Shakespearean Festival at Vincennes University and some students produced, directed, and performed a spring children's play, Snow White, for the children in the community.

"Prisoner of Second Avenue" was the play the Forensics Theatre put on this fall. Jamie Allen was named best actor and Jill Eck was named best actress.

The Shakespearean Festival was a highlight. Lori Breitweiser won first and Leah Robberts won third place in designing a costume from the Elizabethan gentry class. Jennifer Rumbach won second place for palm reading for street entertainment. Damon Dillon received third place for a dramatization of Hamlet. Kerri Hochgesang and Lisa Schwenk performed an Elizabethan French horn/flute duet which won second place in music.

These girls plan for Speech and Drama.

Working hard or hardly working? Many wonder about these two as they notice it takes two people to spray paint a small piece of metal.

Jeremy Sermersheim restores this old garden plow.

Creative Minds at Work

"Enrollment in the Art Department is up this year," said Mr. Schum, "compared to when the school first moved to its new location." With the community's interest, Jasper High School has established one of the better art departments in Southern Indiana.

The Art Department offers more than just drawing and painting. It also offers a wide variety of art classes, including ceramics, crafts, print-making, sculpture, textiles, visual design, art history, and introduction to art for new art students. Art allows students' creative minds to work. A feeling of self worth and pride is achieved with every project completed.

Turning Notes Into Music

This year's band consisted of 87 members who were split between the concert and symphonic bands. Some activities done this year were the People's Concert, Solo and Ensemble Contest, All-State Band try-outs, and the ISSMA Band Contest held in April at J.H.S. Band members were also split into two pep bands that participated at all the home basketball games and the school's pep assemblies.

Singing Through to Entertain You

The Choral Department consisted of 99 choir members in Varsity, Show, Cadet, and Freshman choirs of J.H.S. Some activities were the musical, "Leader of the Pack," the Madrigal Dinner, the District Solo and Ensemble Contest, and the organizational contest. Also the musical "West Side Story" was presented in April, and the District Choral Festival was held. This year brought along a new face in the choral department as Mr. Rick Barber, a student teacher during the first semester, taught Mrs. Bubalo's classes the second semester. Mrs. Bubalo noted that, "Mr. Barber was great. He was exceptional, and a great help."

Computing New Techniques

The Business Department has broken through with new IBM compatible computers on a network system. Overall, students liked the new equipment even though it was frustrating sometimes. The average enrollment in classes was twenty students. The Business Department offered many elective courses such as Data Processing, Word Processing, Business Math, Business Law, Sales, Accounting, Personal Typing, Typing I, and Introduction to Business. However, because of "The A+ program and the Academic Diploma," students were "able to take fewer electives," said Mr. Hollis. Two students teachers this year were Tina Terwiske with Mr. Hollis and Jackie Dauby with Mrs. Ross.

Let's Talk Grammar

"Our courses covered all strands of language development: speaking, grammar, writing, and literature," said Mrs. Fromme. "These courses are all necessary for each student." Classes were smaller because Mrs. Stradtner taught full time. The year's highlights included scenes from ROMEO AND JULIET by professional actors and Cheryl Heath's presentations for English 9 classes.

Industrializing Technology

"Industrial Technology classes are extremely important to see what is happening in the real world," stated Mr. Uebelhor. "It's a problem to get people to work together, but that is what we are trying to teach our students in shop class while we also teach them the various trades," he added. This year the welding class took a trip to North American Products and saw the laser cutting process and the welding of carbide tips to saw blades. Other class trips were taken by the Electricity class to Kimball Electronics and the Wood class to Jasper Desk. The project for Industrial Wood class this year was miniature picnic tables.

Exercising Education

Mr. Brewer and Ms. Zehr taught physical education. Activities included volleyball, basketball, tennis, hockey, softball, football, and swimming. "Physical education is important to kids' education and development," said Mr. Brewer. He added, "It involves knowing rules, understanding participation, and values that will last a lifetime." Mrs. Holtzman taught health and life-saving. When asked if there was more interest in life-saving these days, Mrs. Holtzman said that when the building was new in 1978, there was only one class with six to eight students, and now the class is offered 3 times a year with 12 students per class.

Making History

The Social Studies department planned many activities, such as the Anthropology class trip to Indiana University. "We have an outstanding and dedicated department. I think there's a wide variety of teachers and teaching styles within the department," said Mr. Gobert. There are many subjects taught in the Social Studies department. Among those subjects are Citizenship, World History, U.S. History, Government, Economics, Sociology, and Anthropology. The average enrollment in these classes was about 24. According to Mrs. Hayes, Department Head, "Smaller class sizes would have given teachers the opportunity to work with more students individually."

Learning

This year these students did much traveling. They went on their annual trip to Holiday World in September and in December they went shopping for Christmas presents. Then in the spring they went to Diamond Fitness Center, Churchhill Downs, and the Louisville "Slugger" Bat Company. Also for a special treat some students went to the Holiday Inn for a special treat from the Home Ec Department.

BREAKING INTO CHEERS

Getting the crowd into the game is Amy Cox.

Goals for the cheerleaders this year were to raise more school spirit, get the crowd involved in the games, and receive Award of Excellence Finalist at NCA Summer Camp. Awards the Varsity received were first runner-up in Award of Excellence Finalist at NCA Summer Camp and a bid to the NCA National Championships in Dallas, Texas. "I think we tend to pull together more, in finals. It's sort of like a tourney for the best cheerleading squad," said Heather Chamberlain. The cheerleading squad placed 29th out of 125 teams in the Dallas competition. Carrie Cates, Audra Schwinghammer, and Kerry Mattingly were All American Finalists at NCA Summer Camp. Carrie and Audra attended the 1990 Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in New York City with 300 other All American Finalists.

Breaking Through the Records

When the team took the courts, hopes were high for a great upcoming season. Goals set out this season were to win Big 8 and Regional championships. The team finished with a 27-7 overall record and accomplished all three of their goals and almost won Semi-State.

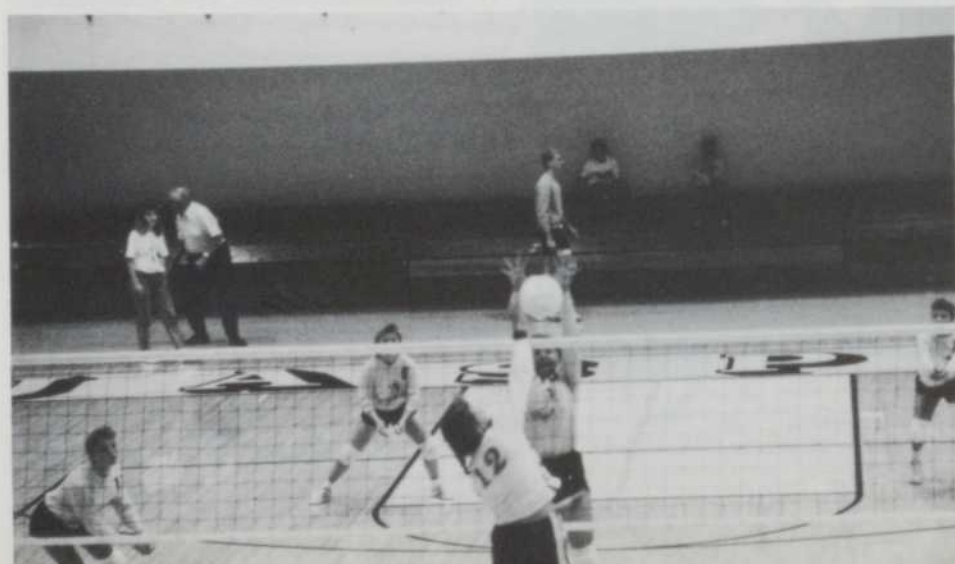

Individuals putting their names in the record book were Senior April Resenbeck, setting a new record in single match digs, single season digs and career digs. Also Kami Highsmith set the school record in single season assists. "The great success of this team was a shock to most including me," said Mrs. Zehr. "With eight Seniors gone from last year, young and inexperienced was the look, but confidence and great progress were evident very early," said Mrs. Zehr.

Breaking Through the Lines

The football team had everything headed in the right direction. They were undefeated on the regular season and were Conference Champs. They were also ranked third in the state. When asked if there were any players that deserved special recognition for their efforts, Coach Brewer said, "Since we have 48 players in our football family we chose not to single out one or two individuals." He also stated the overall team attitude was very positive, and the team leadership of captains Dave Hubster, Ben Hasenour, and Jason Lichlyter was truly outstanding.

First Trip to State Since 1978

The girls' golf team had its most successful season since 1978 as they made it to the state finals. They finished 14th in the state. According to Coach Paul East, great leadership was provided by senior team captains Amy Cox and Heather Chanley. "Their leadership was essential for the younger players on this outstanding team," said Coach East.

The goals of the boys' tennis team were to win their own invitational and the Perry Meridian Invitational, win the Big Eight, win the sectional and regional, and go to state. The team ended up winning both invitationals and the sectional and regional. Team captains were seniors Jeff Hayes and Bryan Schneider. Mr. Yarbrough stated, "The boys and their determination to succeed made this season most enjoyable." Some of the individual accomplishments were as follows: Jeff Hayes was named 2nd team All-State, Bryan Schneider was named All-State honorable mention, and John Ring and Chris Himsel were named All-State doubles.

Swim Teams: Breaking

One of Coach Graig Fischer's goals was to increase the number of team members from the previous year's four members. This was accomplished as was another goal of winning some meets. The JHS team had been winless for two seasons, but broke out this year with five wins. A highlight of the season was placing third at Sectionals, beating three teams that were victorious during the regular season. All Big 8 Team members included Matt Rendel, Chad Mehringer, Todd Dawkins, and Adam Dawkins. Matt Rendel and Chad Mehringer, both four-year swimmers, provided leadership in their roles as team captains.

Kick It Through

Goals, goals, and more goals were scored by the soccer team, one of the most experienced the program had ever seen. Coach Pete Massat said, "We took every game one at a time." The team was led by captain Jay Hamlin and co-captain Marty Sohovich. With this leadership the team went 10-1 with an undefeated regular season. Special recognition went to Jay Hamlin who earned MVP and Wildcat Award for leadership. Chris Fleck and Mike DeMotte both received recognition for anchoring the defense allowing only 8 goals to the Wildcats' 40.

Girls Sink Sectional Win

The Girls' Basketball team finished the season with a 16-4 record. The Lady Cats won the sectional and the Big 8 Conference. April Resenbeck and Jan Daunhauer were the only seniors on the team. April Resenbeck went on to be All Conference as did Junior Michelle Welp. Michelle Welp and Junior Emily Niehaus became All Sectional.

When asked his opinion of this year's team, Coach Musselwhite said, "A 16-4 record was beyond my expectations. I think that by the end of the year, we were the second best team in the Southwest Indiana."

The J.V. Lady Cats ended their season with a 15-2 record. Freshman Jill Auffart led the team in points with 143. Freshman Dana Wilz led the team with 49 assists.

Mike Prechtel looks ahead to the finish line.

Heading for the finish is "Flames," Chris Flamion.

Goals set for the Boys' Cross Country were to have a winning season, to be Big 8 champions, win Sectional, and advance to Semi-State. Goals accomplished were a winning season, and two runners advanced to semi-state. "The team was very competitive, hard working, and had a good overall attitude," said Coach Niehaus. Chris Flamion placed either first or second in 9 of 16 races. Chris and Mike Prechtel were chosen all Big 8 runners. The team support was low at the beginning of the season, but towards the end it was better. Since there was only one senior, they hope to do even better next year.

Cats Finish 16-2

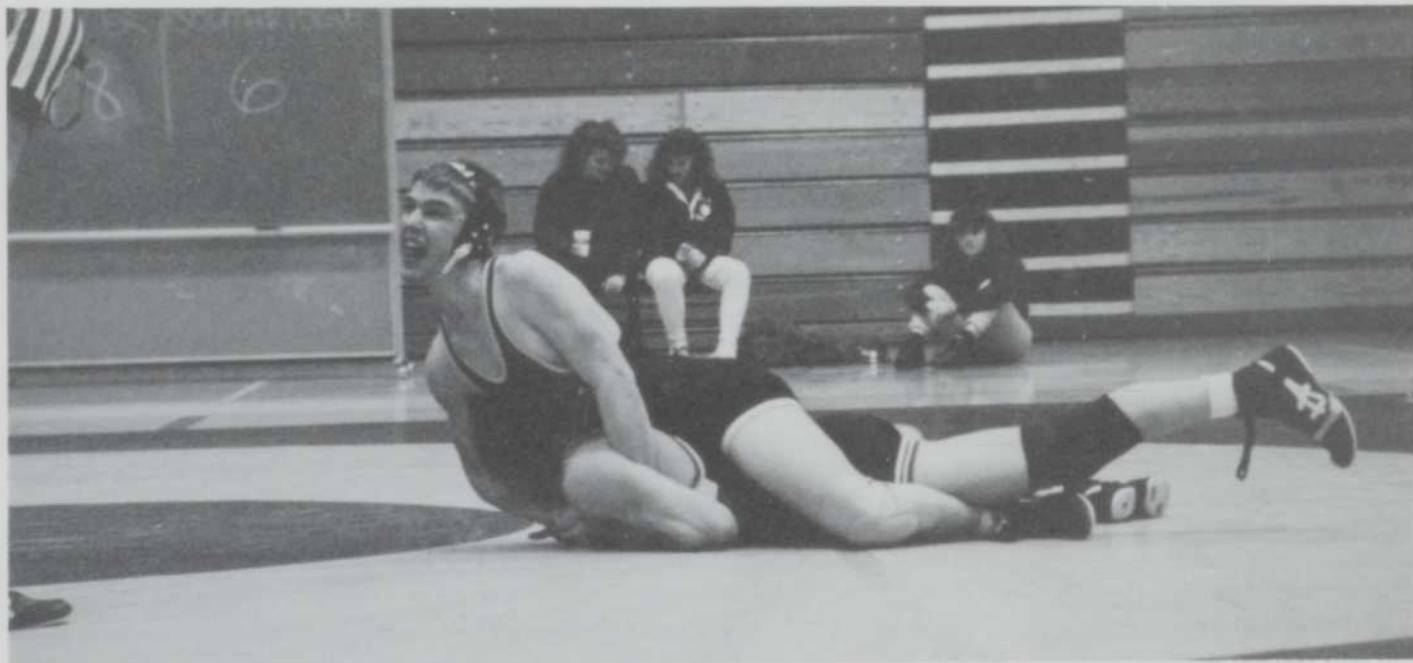

When Jasper wrestlers took the mat at the beginning of this season, hopes were high. Some of the goals for 90-91 were to win Sectional and Big 8, place high in Regional, have an outstanding record, and have individual wrestlers go to State. The team finished 16-2 overall and accomplished each goal they set, including Big 8 and Sectional champs. Also, four wrestlers placed in the Regional.

Many wrestlers went far this season. Among them were Bob Herzog and Tom Peters, who were team captains. Coach Rick Stenftenagel showed a lot of pride concerning these two, commenting on Herzog's "excellent leadership" and Peters' "good examples to be followed by the team." Sectional champs included Eric Weidenbenner, Peters, Herzog, Rick Trevino, Matt Truesdale, and Bryan Hebeisen. Matt Leinenbach placed 4th in Regional.

"We really improved throughout the year," stated Coach Stenftenagel. "We became one of the stronger teams in Southern Indiana. Bob Herzog's leadership pulled us through many meets." Coach Stenftenagel also thanked his coaching staff, Chris Tucker, Bob Schitter, and Tony Ahrens, "for doing an outstanding job."

Prom this year was a huge success! The atmosphere was great. The sky was clear and the sun was shining. It was a beautiful day. The theme for this year was Forever. The colors were black, purple, and silver. The cafeteria was decorated beautifully and the gym, where the refreshments were located, had an accent of splendor to it also. When the time came to announce the King and Queen, everyone gathered in the cafeteria to hear Alison Eckert and Mike Wagner announced. (Pictured to the right.) The Junior Prince and Princess were Kami Highsmith and Reed Kress. Prom was held from 9 to midnight and most students stayed until the end. The Junior class did a marvelous job, and were congratulated on it.

ALLISON & MIKE

KAMI & REED

Couples share a dance with the King and Queen.

FOREVER

Jill Hoffman plays the piano as couples walk into the prom.

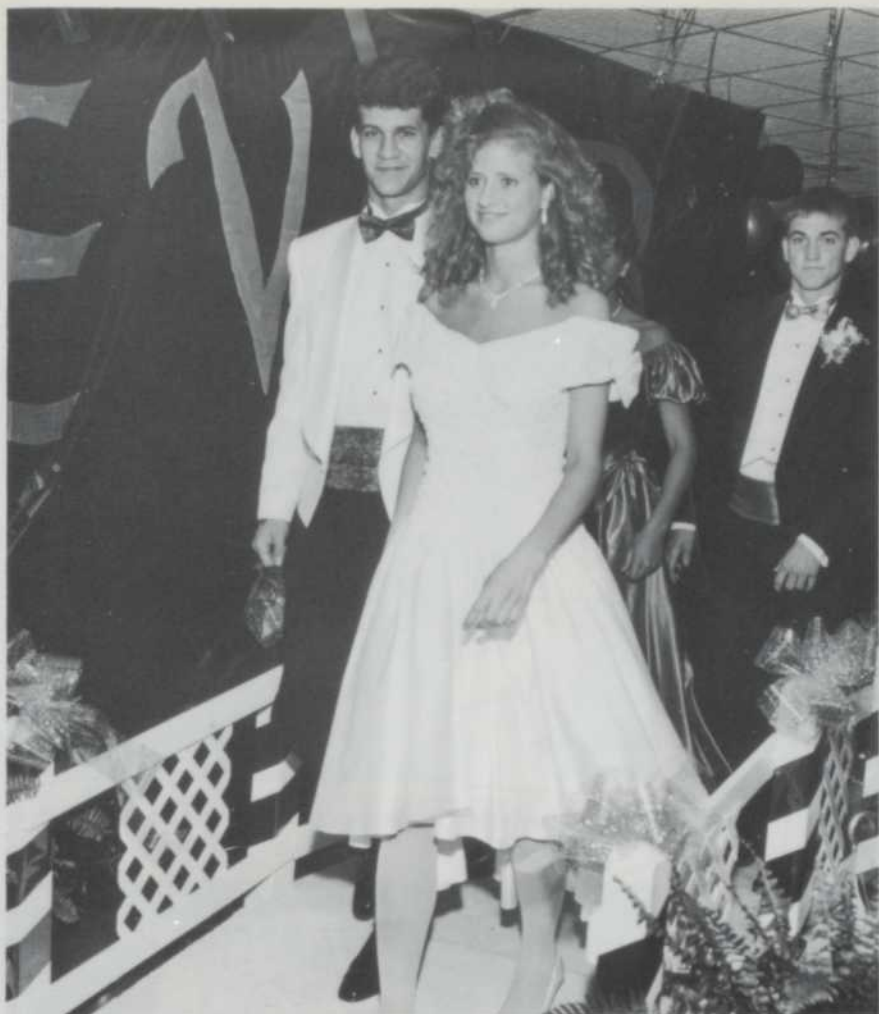

Geoff Lautzenhiser and John Merder decide to use a little "cowboy logic" when they take prom pictures.

Jeff Burress points to the ceiling and Doug Schnarr looks up in amazement.

Angie Krueger gets down to the sound of the music.

Jason Emmons, Cara Mitchell, Ryan Giesler and his date are all smiles as they walk into the prom.

Kevin Schroder and Kim Schum share a close moment on the dance floor.

Dana Durcholz and her date enjoy the finger food at prom.

It was a Hee Haw Hoe Down! Post Prom took a change for the better this year. It was held at the high school and students seemed to like this better. For many, Post Prom proved to be a very profitable night. There were many prizes just waiting to be won. There were grilled hamburgers and hotdogs to eat and a lot of new and fun games to play. The night was a success from what the students said, and the adults said the same. All the effort that was put into the Post Prom this year was not wasted. It was the best one yet!

Curt Sternberg, Jay Sermersheim, and Kevin Werner play cards as Chad Linette and April Giddens watch.

Angie Jochum and Heather Taylor get signed in at the door.

Jill Mehne tries to shave the shaving cream off of the balloon on top of her date's head.

Mr. Schultheis can still smile even though he's having pies thrown in his face.
