FANS in the stands

Whether home or away, a multitude of painted faces, colored wigs, and camouflage ensembles remained guaranteed at Jasper ball games. In the process of elaborately disguising themselves, Jasper students revealed the very heart of Jasper High School: school spirit. Throughout the year, the resounding roar of these "Camo Cats"

*"I like getting crazy with the PIT CREW at games and showing respect to players that deserve it like Vanis Bayer."
-Kevin Schipp*

was heard at the pep sessions and games. The eyes of the cats had seen both victory and defeat, but never did they lose the gleam of spirit! The JHS student body displayed its spirit, pride, and belief in itself through the cheers and chants, and often stated all three of these aspects in one powerful warning, "You don't want none of us!"

Pumping up the pep rally, D.J. Klem gives his famous last words.

A group of Seniors shows support for its favorite basketball player, Vanis Bayer.

Juniors get loud and crazy as they send off the football team to state.

As these sophomores demonstrate, the tradition of JHS school spirit begins when one is an underclassman.

Phil Buehler and Natalie Hopf, Kate Verkamp, Amber Mathies, and Danielle Shreve cheer at a home basketball game.

STATE all the way

Parties, parades, and pep rally's-Jasper High School knows how to send teams to state, and doing so this year was more fun than ever before! JHS has always had its share of wins, and 1995-96 was no exception with swimming, football, and band all making a showing at Indianapolis. Hard work and hard play were written all over the games and practices this season. The swimming and football teams, along with the band, truly gave all they could to make their hometown proud! From rushing the fields to playing the tunes, students showed spirit, joy, and the will to win. The faithful fans plus many more were always ready at a moment's notice to cheer their teams to the top. This is the way sports are seen through the eyes of a Wildcat.

"Marching at the RCA Dome is an awesome experience!"

-Nikki Knies

Students without spirit? Not here at JHS, where swimmers Tasha Reisz, Jayma Wehr, and Julie Mehinger burst with school support!

Hoping for the best, these football players join hands during the memorable battle for the state title.

Defeat and disappointment shine through as one last glance at the scoreboard confirms the fears of Shannon O'Connor, Adrienne Ernst, Carey Chanley, and Michaela Knies.

Lady Wildcat swimmers and Coach Kristi Fulwider show that hard work pays off in the end — at the state finals.

The Marching Wildcats strut their stuff to earn a 5th place finish at the RCA Dome.

Wind, rain, sleet, or hail, the Jasper High School Marching Wildcats always give their all to entertain a crowd.

TRIPS near and far

Many students liked to travel beyond our community and into the world. What better way to have done that than with some best friends from Jasper? The yearbook staff sent Nikki Knies to Georgetown College for camp over the summer to learn the finer points of layout designing. The Art Club spent a weekend in Chicago. Aaron Jahn found that "Playing virtual reality at the Museum of Science and Industry was really, really fun!" Minneapolis was the destination of students going to the National Catholic Youth Conference,

Brad Fischer saw "another side to the people I already knew." The German Club traveled abroad, visiting Germany, Switzerland, and France. Castles, churches, and discos were the most interesting sights.

At the Museum of Natural History in Chicago, Laura Kunkel and Jill Braun sit in a Pawnee Indian hut taking in the Native American culture.

James saves the day! During a traffic jam, the German club played hackey sac on the Autobahn. The hackey sac was kicked on top of this semi, and James Wuchner had to retrieve it.

The Art Club visited the Museum of Science and Industry, just one of many stops during its Chicago trip.

This bus is "home" to Molly Hensley, Susan Temple, Angie Fromme, and Brad Fischer as they return home from the National Catholic Youth Conference in Minneapolis.

Nikki Knies is on her way to one of her workshops at Georgetown College during Yearbook Camp.

In Berlin, Germany, the German Club stands in front of the Reichstag. The students saw Munich, Poesneck, and Pfaffenweiler, also.

STUDYING with Vern

If you had a study hall, Vern probably disturbed you, annoyed you, or even made you write. But Mrs. Lechner always made sure each student had the perfect opportunity to study in a peaceful environment. In her second year of supervising study halls, Mrs. Lechner constantly searched for new ways to get students to study harder and talk less. Either by moving

"Study hall has been very productive" them to another seat or by making them write a statement a hundred times or so. Mrs. Lechner made her point clear. In addition to study halls, Mrs. Lechner also managed the bookstore, ordering books and always being on the lookout for new items for students to purchase. During her free time you might have seen Mrs. Lechner do the Blue Rose or Electric slide.

Chewing gum, study groups, talking, and hall passes are situations always handled professionally by Mrs. Lechner.

Deciding between studying or sleeping, Vicki Hurst studies economics to enrich her knowledge.

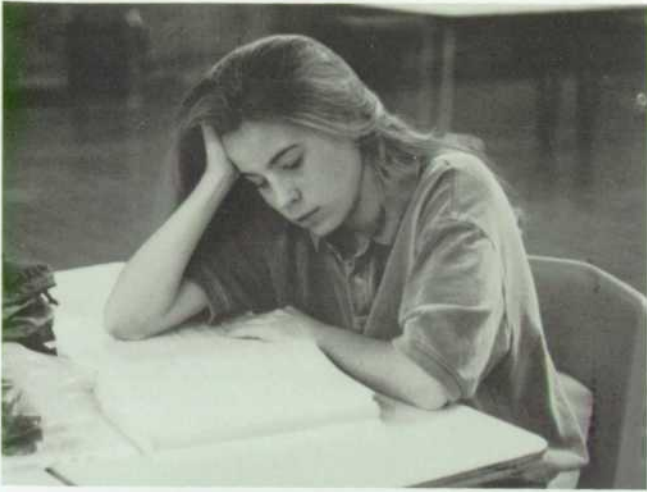

As the snow and temperatures are falling outside, Kristie Kline stops to observe Mrs. Lechner's warm sense of humor.

If you're not there, she'll find you. If you have signed makes sure she knows where you are. David Caraway

COMPETING as a class

At a JHS pep session you may have heard . . .

"If you're a freshman . . . Go, Go, Go. If you're a sophomore . . . Fight, Fight, Fight. If you're a junior . . . Win, Win, Win. If you're a senior . . . Go, Fight, Win. Each class loudly roared its part of the chant hoping they would be the loudest. Class competitions ranged from the little games such as tug of war and musical chairs at pep sessions all the way to the floats for homecoming. The prestigious title "most spirited" was awarded at the end of each semester to the class which had accumulated the most points from placings in events including hall decorating, penny jar, and a variety of dress-up days. The results of the first semester were 1st place-Seniors and runner-up-Juniors.

Audrey Vogler sighs as Emily Knies steals her seat during a game of musical chairs at a pep session.

Ahh! Who are these scaries? Have no fear! They Adam Auffart.

Juniors Jon Brandes and Klint Schwent get ready to pull their homecoming float to victory.

Shelly Kunkel and Ann Helming show that they want to be the best for crazy black and gold day.

The seniors take all as Karen Rudolph shows her school spirit.

PRICES then and now

If teenagers in 1985 thought prices were steep, they should see the cost of being a teenager now. In ten years most prices have changed dramatically. For example, a pack of Bubble Yum bubble gum would have cost 30 cents in 1985; in 1995 it cost 50 cents a pack. Senior pictures cost around $200 and up; this year seniors paid close to $300 or more. However, not all prices have increased. The price of gas has decreased by 11 cents since 1985. It used to be $1.12 but now is around $1.01. These prices have changed tremendously. However, others such as jeans, stayed virtually the same. Another example is a soft drink which still costs 50 cents. Now it seems teenagers have an even greater demand for these products.

*"I really haven't realized how much prices have changed since 1985."
-Meredith Stradtner*

A candy bar, like Ashlee Alexander is buying, has stayed 50¢ since 1985.

Jeans have not increased in price. Luckily Heather Wigand's favorite jeans are still $30.00.

In 1985 lunches were bought for 80¢. Here Jenny Renner pays Jennifer Wagner $1.35 for her lunch.

Shoes! Shoes! Shoes! There are shoes everywhere. In 1985 the price of shoes was $40.00. Now Nikes cost anywhere from $80.00 to $120.00.

This Ronald McDonald statue now sits in McDonald's new playground. In 1985 you could buy a Big Mac there for 89¢; now it costs $2.69.

One of the favorite pastimes in Jasper is going to the movies. This form of entertainment cost $3.50 in 1985, but now has risen to $5.00.

The yearbook staff is hard at work separating the $23.00 yearbooks. In 1985 yearbooks sold for $15.00.

SENIORS strike a pose

Through the years, a twist has been added to Senior pictures. They have become more of a personality portrait and less of a mug shot. Although preparation for senior pictures was stressful and time-consuming, the end result was not only memo-

*"Just call me Maverick!"
-Nathan Leinenbach*

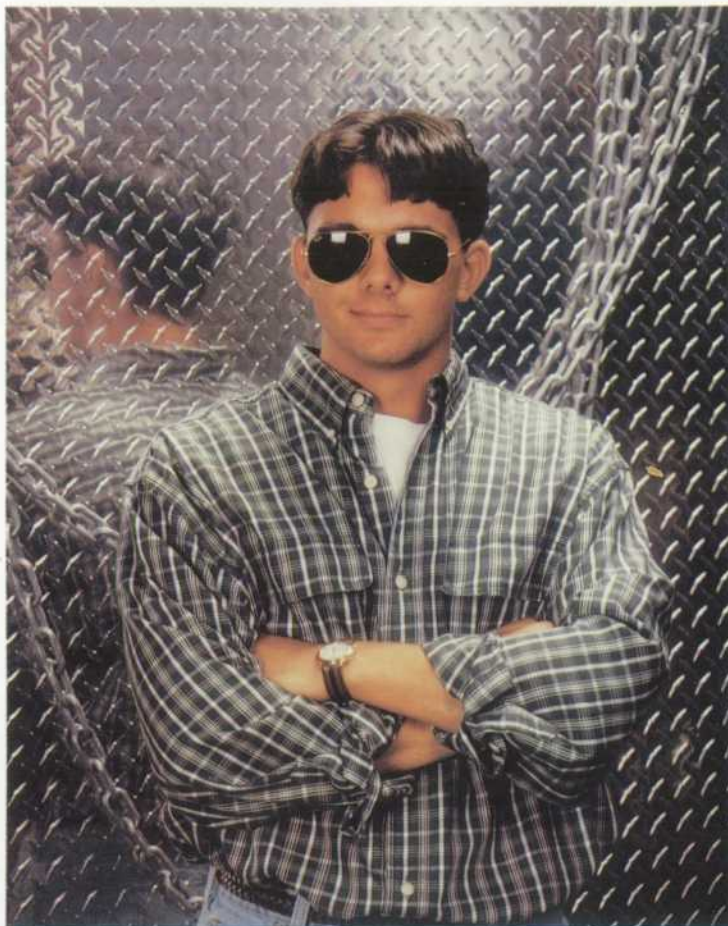

rable but well worth it.

Haunted by bad hair days and unconcealable zits, seniors kept smiling up until the last click of the camera.

From a Harley Rider's Mama to Forrest Gump, these Seniors' unique pictures will not be forgotten.

The Force is with Nick Werne as he shares his favorite pastime — soccer.

My momma always said Jon Strange looked a lot like Forrest Gump.

Accompanied by Tweety Bird, Lindsay Sutton displays her favorite cartoon character.

Flashing lights and loud sirens don't scare James Wuchner as he poses by a police car for his senior picture.

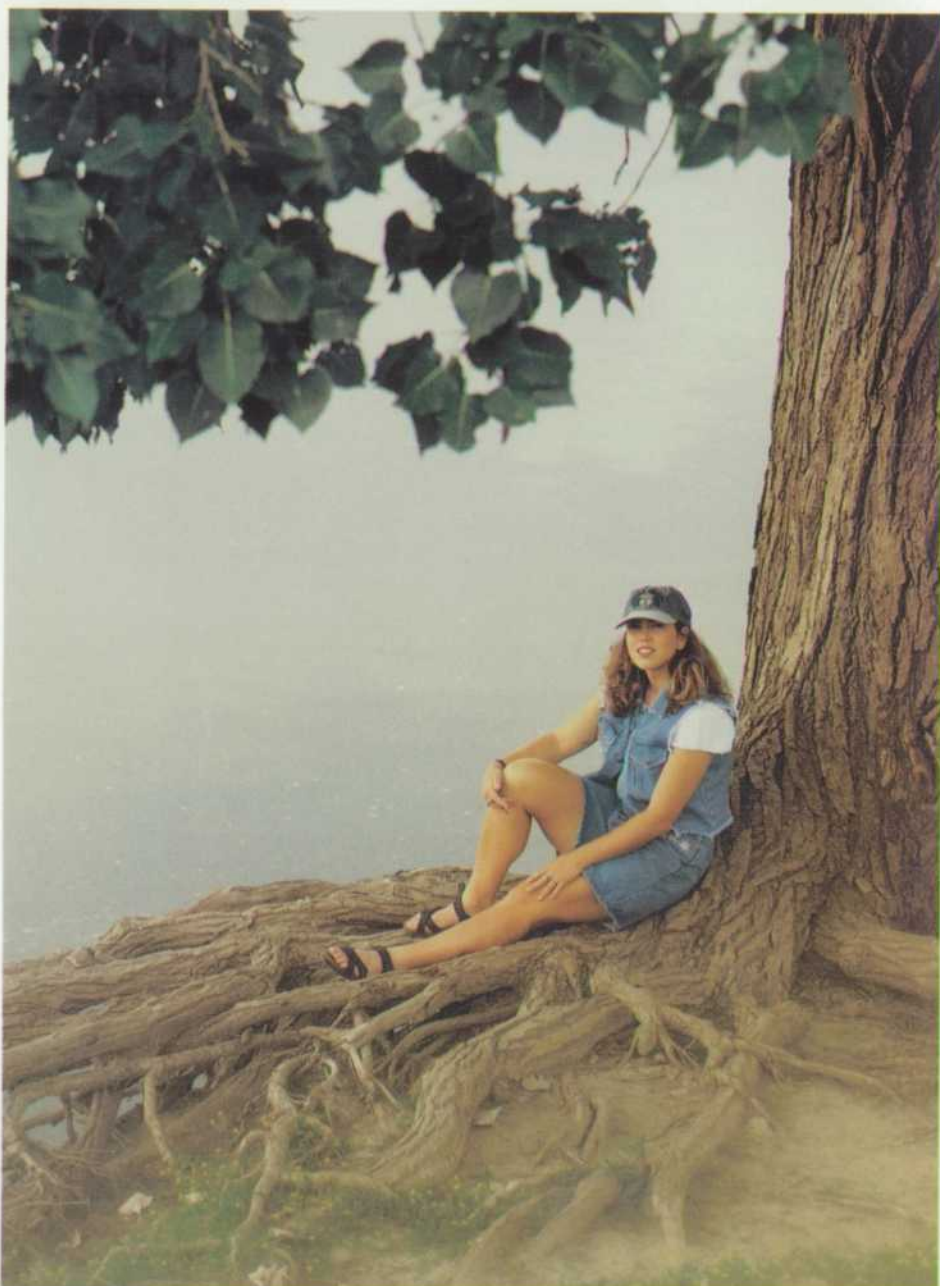

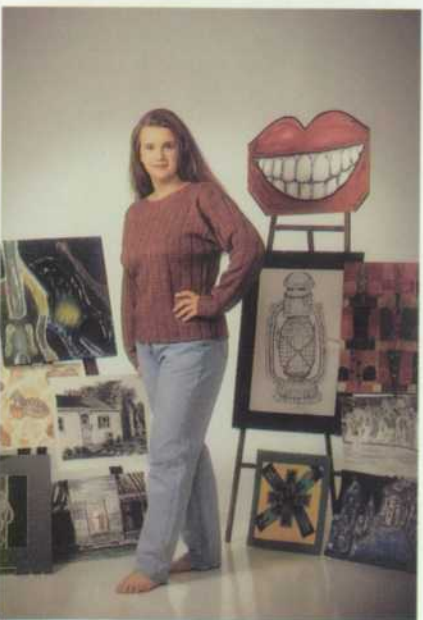

With the wind in her hair, Melissa Stroud mounts her uncle's motorcycle for her senior picture.

Laura Kunkel went out on a limb to reveal her originality.

DANCE the night away

Dances were a big success. Whether the music was fast or slow, the students always had a great time. The major dances this year included the Welcome Freshman Dance sponsored by the Student Council. This dance provided an excellent opportunity for freshmen to meet many of the upper-classmen. In the fall, the Art Club and Octagon Club teamed up to work the Halloween Dance. Dressing up in costumes proved, as always, to be a lot of fun. Snowball, the winter dance, was sponsored by Student Council. Vanis Bayer and Abby Seng were crowned king and queen. The fall MORP dance showed no difference from its tradition of success. Everyone enjoyed dancing the night away.

Senior girls Chrissy Luegers, Christa Schuler, Nicole Himsel, and Julie Mehringer show they really know how to have a good time.

BREAK from the norm

Students, always wanting variety, received the chance to see several convocations and plays. "Dream Alive!" was about black history. Husband and wife Reggie and Kim Harris sang and told many stories about great blacks in the past. "Stop the Violence," by the Blue Apple Players, presented music and drama about stopping and preventing violence. "Little Women" was the fall play. It was student directed by Senior Stacey Letterman and Junior Katherine Weikert. The music department presented "Bye, Bye Birdie." Senior Jafro Balles-tereros, a Columbian exchange student, starred in the musical as Conrad Birdie. It was his first production. Students from all grade levels were able to try out for both produc-tions.

The cast acts out the play within a play that the character Jo had written.

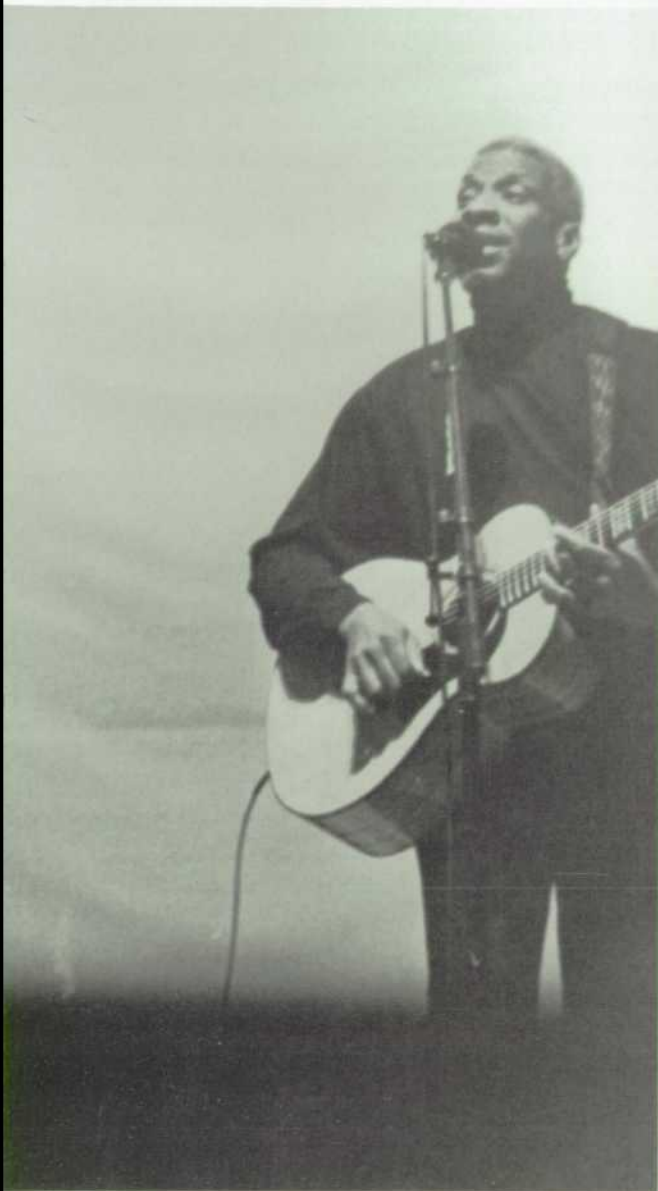

Here Kim Harris sings a story about black history. This is one of the many convocations brought to JHS students and faculty.

Carrying on the story is Kim's husband, Reggie Harris.

Mr. Jesse talks with Kim and Reggie Harris about the "Dream Alive!" performance!

FOOTBALL

As the lights at Alumni Stadium glittered on the field, the homecoming candidates shone with beauty. All of them experienced tense nerves and sweaty palms on this evening of elegance. Finally, "Somewhere Out There" was played as queen and king Karen Rudolph and Phil Kendall were crowned royalty for the season.

After being crowned king and queen, Karen Rudolph and Phil Kendall flash their best smiles.

HOMECOMING

Always king and queen crowners, never king and queen — would be royalty Kelly Bawel and Andy Giesler.

Leaping back a few centuries, these junior boys show their excitement after winning the float contest.

Being serenaded by the music, Marisa McHugh and Danny Mitchell are presented to the crowd.

Wanting their float to look its best, Karin Krieg, Tara Kieffner, and Jairo Ballesteros add some last minute details.

Molly Hensley, Eric Springston, Abby Mehringer, and Ryan Schwenk present the sophomore float to the students and the fans.

BASKETBALL

After weeks of rescheduling, due to conflict with the girls' basketball postseason victories, the Basketball Homecoming was set for February 16. There was much excitement in the gymnasium as the couples walked onto the floor to the sound of the Forrest Gump Suite. There was overjoyment and tears as Vanis Bayer and Tara Kieffner crowned Chad Blessinger and Shannon O'Connor king and queen of the homecoming court.

New York Nights

New York, New York... The Big Apple was the background for this year's Junior and Senior Prom. As everyone entered in their formal evening wear, the Ritz Hotel was awaiting them. After ascending a flight of stairs, the New York lights lit up the sky. Other New York sites were China Town, Central Park, Boardwalk, and Ellis Island.

Showing everyone how to dance, Stacey Letterman and Kris Williams do the tango.

Aaron Jahn and his prom date take time out to talk under the gazebo.

Post Prom

"Aloha from Hawaii" was this year's tropical theme for Post Prom. The fun started at 12:30 with activities ranging from pie throwing, grape eating, wall climbing, putt-putting, coconut throwing, and sumo wrestling. As if this wasn't enough, some people participated in the volleyball tournament and the belching contest. Many students and parents stayed until the very end for the grand prizes.

Collecting big bucks, Nathan Denton wins at ring toss while Chad Musselwhite tries to wake himself up.

Pulling her hair back, Allyson Ferley is ready to beat Amy Uebelhor at the grape eating contest.

DANCING THE YEAR AWAY

The Senior class danced their last high school year away on Wednesday, May 22, 1996. This last dance was provided by the PTO, and a special slide show was viewed by all thanks to the class officers and Mr. Gobert. Without a doubt, this annual dance was one of the most memorable high school events.

Which day of the week is the worst? For some reason Mondays seem to be the worst according to most J.H.S. Students. Mondays have always been associated with getting up early again after a couple of days sleeping in. For many people, this just seems to be a bad day. Recovering from a fun-filled weekend, getting back into the swing of things, and worst of all having to wait five days until the next weekend, are just a few reasons Mondays are not well liked.

Along with those comments come a few specific remarks from fellow classmates:

"I want to go home!"--Kristin Marks

"I wish I was at home asleep!"--Allison Doolittle

"The weekend is over!"--Brandi Mehringer

"I hate getting up!"--Rachelle Mundy

"When will it end?"--Steven Maitlen

What do you really know about your school? You may know the basics like name and how long it has been here, but do you know the technical things? Surveys from some students had the following guesses. We've recorded the closest ones.

- 1) Orange Lockers: 542, 729, and 850
- 2) Books in the Library: 10,000, 20,000, and 25,000
- 3) Steps in the Building: 210, 300, and 350
- 4) Average Cars Parked Daily: 425, 450, and 490
- 5) Ratio of Boys to Girls: 475:525, 520:500, and 536:510
- 6) Total Staff: 80, 83, and 85

The real answers are: (1) 564 (2) 14,051 (3) 299 (4) 475 (5) 479:449 (6) 86 Bet you didn't know that!

TOP GUN

Although the majority of the administration's diverse work during the 1995-96 school year was done behind the scenes, the results affected the everyday lives of all Jasper High School students. Mr. Vandeventer, the Administrative Assistant, was a new addition to the administrative staff, and one of his main duties was to keep the buildings maintained. As the Curriculum Director, Mr. Hayes' job included "anything that a student experiences in a school setting." Promoted to the position of Superintendent, Dr. Riggs was responsible for the overall operations in the school system, and he dealt with finances, the annual budget, and staffing.

- Art Nordhoff, Jr., School Attorney
- Jerrill Vandeventer, Admin. Asst.
- Larry Riggs, PhD., Superintendent
- Don Hayes, Curriculum Director

School Board Members: Nancy Habig, Joyce Jackle, Phil Buecher, Ron Himsel, and Bill Hedinger.

BIG SHOTS

When asked about the past year at JHS, Mr. Johnson replied, "I commend the staff and students on working for academic and athletic successes." However, the staff and students couldn't have done it without the principals and office staff. The school couldn't function without organization and support from them.

Mrs. Kendall is working hard in the attendance office, as usual, while a student waits patiently.

STRAIGHT TALK

The Guidance Department was an integral link in the education chain. Students made course requests, applied to colleges, and received information about scholarships. Each student met at least one time with Mrs. Hunefeld, Mrs. Morrison, or Mr. Weil to plan for careers and post-secondary education or work. Unique about the counselor/advisor's ability was transforming tons of information and organizing it "to fit" each student. Mrs. Eckerle worked to make sure that students and parents received accurate information by writing bulletin items and answering phone inquiries. Mrs. Frye organized hard copies into easily accessible student files and designed and produced packets of materials for every student at every grade level.

Students enjoyed getting acquainted with the new technology resource room. Here Todd Kiefer works on the Fiber optics machine.

Mrs. Morrison takes a survey among the sophomores in Mr. LaGrange's class about the career fair which involved all county high schools and Pike Central. Bonnie Richardt, substitute teacher, looks on.

Students were overwhelmed with discovering future job opportunities in the technology lab. Guidance counselors helped them understand curriculum choices leading to certain careers.

Mrs. Hunefeld explains the common scholarship application form for seniors. Jill Braun, Erik Heinz, Maggie Hensley, Alison Ackerman, and Angie Fuhrman study their handouts.

POETIC JUSTICE

The English Department was a great place to learn. Several activities took place. Mr. Yarbrough and Mrs. Ross held an Applied Computer/English class for students in a two hour block. Mrs. Burns' Excel Freshmen had a Victorian Tea Party and they sampled different types of food from the period. Mrs. Hunt, a student teacher for Mr. Yarbrough first semester, attended college at Oakland City University. All classes enjoyed the year with parties, movies, speeches, skits, and projects.

TWO IF BY SEA

Social Studies involves much more than the past. Through what is learned, a brighter future is promised. Sociology students have prepared for the trials of parenthood by caring for an 'Eggster' for two weeks. A trip to Angel Mounds taught Anthropology students about a part of the area's past. Economics classes have developed plans for small businesses and participated in the Stock Market Game. Once again, The Social Studies classes participated in the American Legion Test of Americanism and Government. There were five district winners from JHS.

THE FORMULA

With a twist of creativity, teachers at JHS have found ways to make Math more exciting. Students in Mrs. Stenftenagel's AP Calculus class have competed in Calculus meets with other classes throughout the state. They even found the volume of a bundt cake and were then allowed to eat it. Mrs. Schaeffer's students expanded on a unit in measurement to use micrometers, calipers, scales, and tape measures. With a little imagination, everyday Math problems can be fun.

Necessary Roughness

School provides students with many strengths which can help ensure a successful future. The academic curriculum instills both mental and physical strengths. The Physical Education program informs students of the importance of health, teaches them the processes of attaining physical fitness, and presents them with the opportunity to gain the skills to become certified in first aid and lifesaving.

THE COLOR PURPLE

Learning can be fun! Students who take an art class have a great time expressing themselves and learn in the process. This year was highlighted by the stay of book artist Bonnie Stahlecher. Mrs. Stahlecher stayed at J.H.S. for two weeks teaching the students how to make three-dimensional books.

BEETHOVEN

The JHS choir was bigger and better than ever. With all three choirs combined it totaled 80 students in Freshman, Varsity, and Show choirs. Varsity and Show choirs attended both district and state contests. At state, Varsity received a division I rating and Show choir also received a division I rating. The choir also performed many concerts.

Choir not only brings out talent. It also brings friendships as Seniors Tracy Kunkel and Natalie Hopf display.

Receiving fifth place at state ISSMA marching band contest in the RCA Dome was exciting. 160 students participated in the program. JHS students were very talented and were able to participate in solo and ensemble contests at both district and state level, and All-State band. They also performed a People's Concert, and at Christmas with the choir. Student director Matt Harlof, from IU, helped the staff and students. Eric Berger took the place of Glenn Weil as head director.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS

The Department of Family and Consumer Science gave students the opportunity to prepare food, sew clothing, and learn about family relationships. They received hands-on experience while developing skills that are beneficial in the years to come. Seniors in ICE and HOSA classes had the chance to get a taste of various careers, enabling them to discover what the future may hold.

THE SPECIALIST

Anyone who stepped into room 127 saw some real practical learning. The students in the Exceptional Children's Program did the regular book work, but they also got a chance to experience life beyond school. They took several trips this year to area businesses to see different job opportunities. Many students also participated in a work program where they had jobs at area restaurants over lunch. The students learned the importance of job skills and responsibilities.

Taking trips to different colleges was a part of their classes, too. They saw what life is like in college so they would decide if it was for them.

Overall, the goal of the program was to have each student achieve success.

MAID TO ORDER

What would we do if we had no cooks or custodians? We would probably have to wade through mountains of trash and eat lunch out of vending machines! Appreciating these people is very important because they do so much for us. The cooks work the entire morning to prepare enough food for 800 students. The custodians work all day to keep the school clean.

After lunch, Karla Huebner takes inventory and puts food away.

for a victory

"Refuse to Lose." The Lady Cats took this slogan to its full test this past season. The 1995 Varsity Volleyball team was led to its 32-5 record by the Senior class. Diane Seng was named to the First Team All-State and All Conference, and selected to play in the All-Star Match. She achieved four school records in kills and blocks. Also named to All Conference were Seniors Dana Brames and Christa Schuler, and Junior Deborah Seng. Schuler accounted for two school records in digs. Laura Kunkel's name appeared in the record book along with Seng and Schuler for single match assists. This year's team "had the determination and drive" to become champions in Big 8, Sectional, and Regional, according to Coach Zehr.

for a touchdown

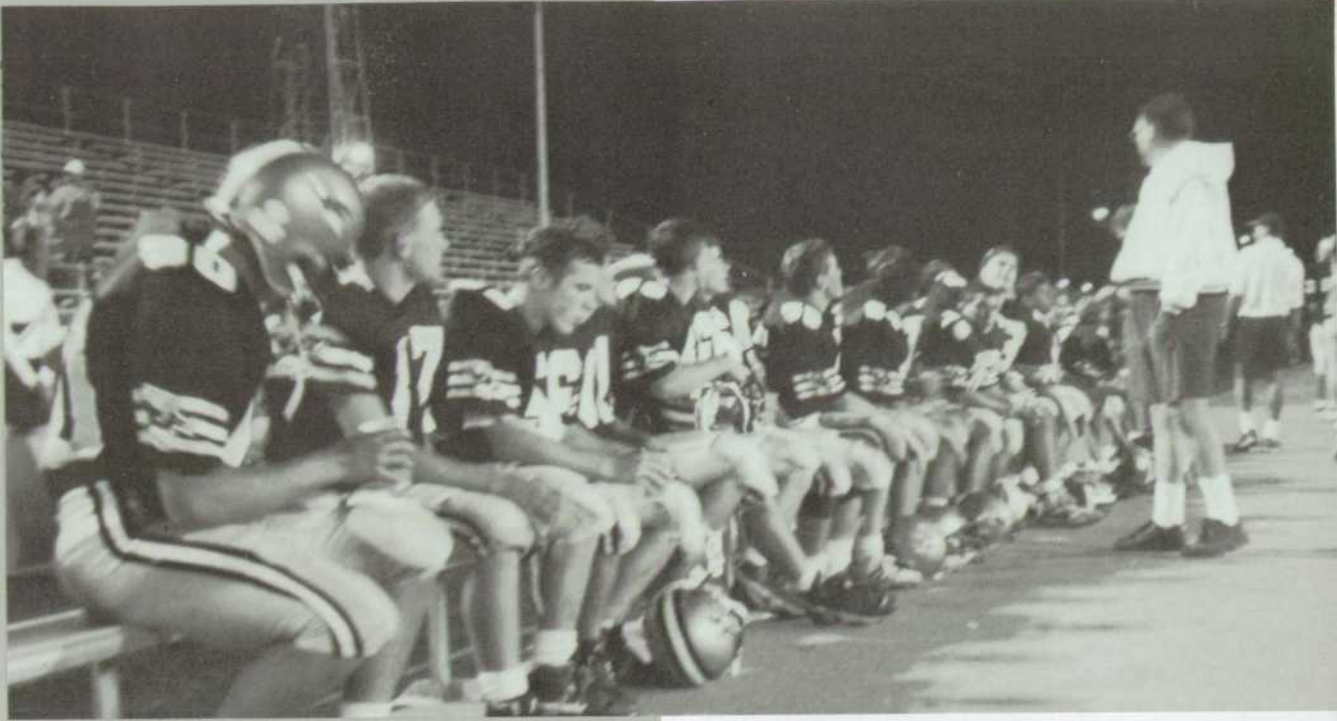

Coming off of an upset season last year, this year's Wildcats were ready for their best season ever. Under head coach Jerry Brewer, Jasper picked up another conference championship for the second year in a row. With an undefeated season under their belt, the Cats went into the tournament shooting for the top. And get to the top is what they did, as the Wildcats found themselves in the RCA Dome on Thanksgiving weekend playing for the state title. The season was a success. The Cats picked up Jerry Brewer's 300th career victory, an undefeated season, the Big 8 Conference title, a Sectional Championship, a Regional Championship, a Semi-State Championship, and a class 3A State Finalist.

Teamwork at the line of scrimmage helps Jasper have an incredible season.

With a little bit of encouragement and a few pointers from Coach Brewer and Coach Ahrens, Jasper's offense is ready to score the touchdown.

for the top

In between preparing the varsity for the upcoming games, and being used as practice dummies, the Jasper Junior Varsity football team was having its own success. Under Coach Tony Ahrens and Coach Chris Tucker, the J.V. team captured an undefeated season for the third year in a row.

Jasper Football was at its best this year, and as always the Freshmen Football was no exception. Coaches Pat True and Jarrod Land took the incoming freshmen class and molded it into a team that was to have many great accomplishments.

for the finish

The 1995 boys' cross country team, coached by Bob Stenftenagel, accomplished another steady season. "Hard work and pure determination," according to Coach Stenftenagel, helped to keep the boys on the right track. Phil Goss led the way, accomplishing a place on the All-Conference team as well as a place in the Semi-State. The team progressed in maturity and experience as the year went on.

the pace

Whether it was for individual efforts or for the benefit of the whole team, the girls' cross country team gave it their all. This year the girls made great strides which improved the entire program. Tiffany Belk qualified for semi-state with her other teammates not far behind. Working together, they were able to come closer to reaching their goals while becoming the best of friends.

home the title

This season the basketball team accomplished more than ever. After a tightly fought game with Vincennes the team clenched the Big 8 Conference title. Starting a tradition, the varsity team won a second sectional title and defeated the Loogootee Lions for our first regional championship in twenty-three years. Through their many changes and tough games the team managed to maintain a twenty and eight record. These accomplishments could only be obtained as a team, and that's exactly what they were.

Showing their defense skills, Josh Keller, Doug Wiggand, and Faruk Mujezinovic keep North Harrison from becoming the Regional champs.

On the line, Ryan Erny keeps the Cats in the game with his free throw.

it up

The highlight of the Girls' Basketball season was bringing home the sectional win, the first for the Lady Wildcats since 1983. Seniors Nicole Arensman, Jessica Corbin, Dana Brames, Jennifer Oser, and Diane Seng were captains, and, according to Coach Karen Stenftenagel, they led the team to a very successful season with a record of 16-6.

The standouts of the team were Diane Seng and Deborah Seng. Diane led the team in scoring, rebounding and field goals. Deborah had the best in assists and free throws. Both were named Big 8 All-Conference. The efforts of these two and the other players showed that hard work and dedication really do pay off.

Having a winning record was just one of the goals accomplished by the Junior Varsity and Freshmen teams. Their hard work and attitude had a bearing on their success, but it all came down to teamwork. In Girls' Basketball, the switch from Freshmen to J.V. and J.V. to Varsity happened pretty quickly. It was amazing how they kept their team morale so high to be very successful.

Most of the Freshmen and J.V. players were able to view their dedication as a building block for next season.

With help from coach Rick Stenftenagel and captains Brett Hurm and Todd Ofer, the Jasper wrestlers proved themselves worthy of their 28th consecutive winning season and sectional title. The Wildcat wrestlers spent endless hours on the mats training to be the best, and to attain their goals. The JHS wrestling team concluded with four regional qualifiers, one sectional champion, and two all-conference wrestlers. With a look of determination in their eyes, the boys' tennis team set out to conquer its foes. This year's team, although young, proved to be a tough match for anyone who stepped foot on the same court as the Wildcats. The team captains-Erik Heinz, Luke Dippel, and Klint Schwenk- led the team during the season. Their "hard work, enthusiasm, and positive attitude" added to the success of the entire team, as stated by Coach Yarbrough. Luke Dippel, Jason Braun, and Chad Stone were all chosen as All-State Honorable Mention and All-Conference. They also helped the team to win Sectional, beating Southridge, a ranked team. The confidence of the team was increased as they defeated Memorial and won the Regional tournament.

Tory Vandeventer fights to get the lead against a Southridge opponent.

Kelly Craig and Emily Eckert put speed and effort into their hurdles.

TRYING for first place

The girls' track team had a tremendous season in spite of "continual rain," noted Coach Zehr. Some of the outstanding accomplishments were the Conference Championship, finishing second in Sectional, and third in Regional competition. This year seven girls went to State, the most athletes Jasper has ever sent to the State Meet. Diane Seng received a state medal while Jami Scheu, Ashlee Alexander, Lisa Kress, and Natalie Seidl set a school record in the 400m relay.

Dana Brames throws the discus with ease.

Hearing the gun, the Jasper girls have a great start.

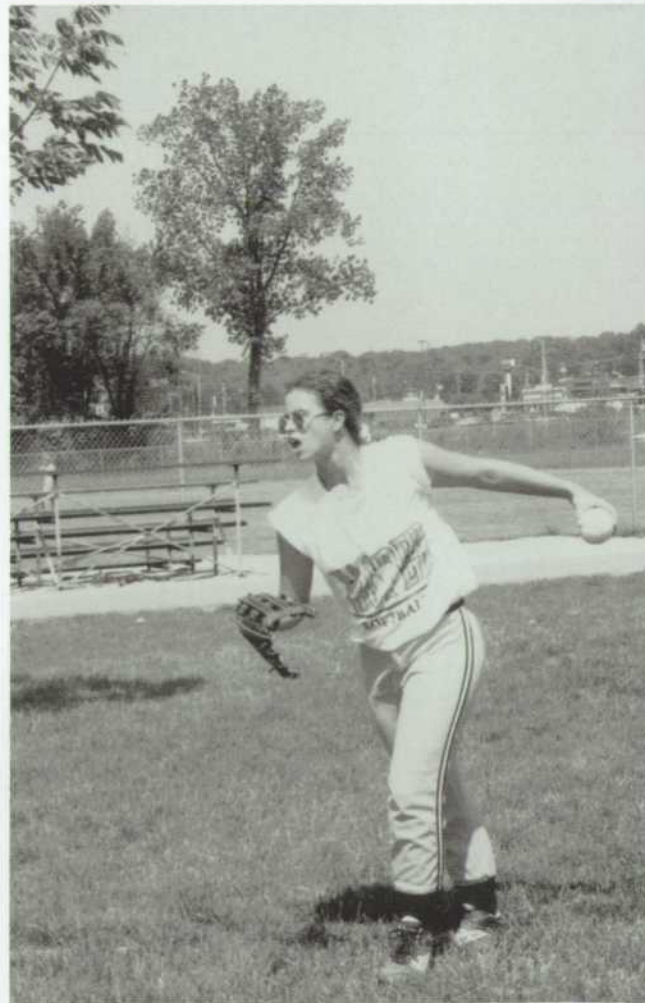

Row 1: Katie Winter, Laura Kunkel, Nicole Arensman, Libby Mauck, Jennifer Wagner, and Abby Mehringer. Warming up before a game, Lori Matthews loosens her arm.

Sliding into home, Abby Mehringer beats the ball to the plate.

The softball team improved their record this year by doubling their wins from last year. Nicole Arensman, Laura Kunkel, and Kelly Wooldridge were the three seniors who led the team to victory. The team proved to be competitive by beating many of the top softball teams in the state. Not only did the team excel as a whole, but individually also. An example of this was the hard-practicing Sophomore Libby Mauck who was an asset on the mound.

While Libby Mauck throws a pitch, Nicole Arensman gets ready to catch a bunt.

Perfecting her batting at practice, Adrienne Koval swings for a home run.

Regardless of whether they win or lose, the Jasper baseball team shakes hands with the opposing team.

Trotting home from third base, Brayden Erny scores to put the Wildcats up 4-0.

home a championship

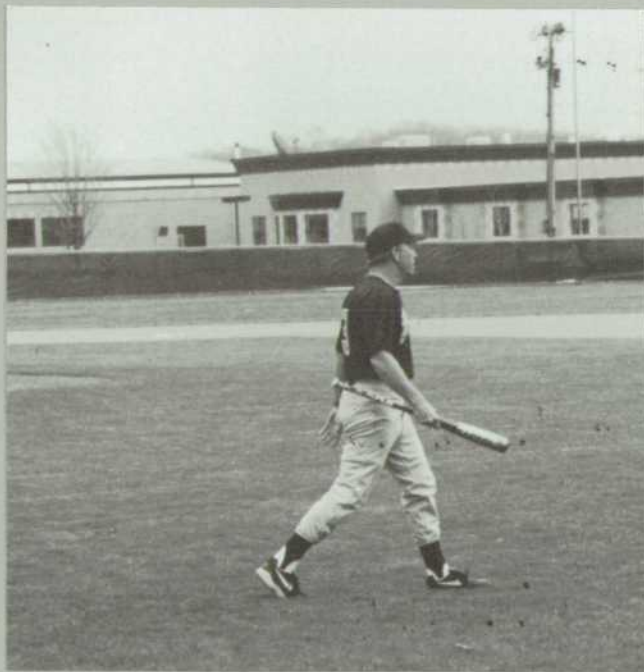

The Jasper Baseball team began their season with a number three ranking and ended it by winning a number one rank at the state finals. The IHSAA Baseball State Championship was the first state victory in the history of Wildcat baseball. As Coach Terry Gobert put it, "They got better each week and really believed in themselves." In the final state game the Wildcats set a record for the most runs and tied for the most hits in a championship game. Working hard at every single practice led the Cats on the path to the state crown and to breaking state records. "We've waited a long, long time for something like this," said Coach Gobert. Congrats, Cats!

Coach Gobert talks to Brayden Erny, Chad Erny, and Vanis Bayer about defensive strategies after an inning of play.

Walking off the baseball field after fielding practice, Coach Gobert takes interest in what one of the players is doing in the outfield.

Brad Eckerle warms up the pitcher before the start of the game.

Doug Krueger receives instructions before warming up an outfielder.

the bases

Phil Buehler, a speedy runner, swings the bat and tries to build his concentration level before heading to the plate.

Receiving instruction from Coach Gobert, Chad Erny and Ryan Erny realize what they need to do in order to get on base and help their team.

Playing outside defender Elizabeth Guard displays her defensive capabilities.

In the second year of the Jasper Girl's Soccer program, the team made tremendous steps toward becoming a well rounded soccer club. Their record of 3-10-2 was a little deceiving. All three wins were shutouts and the Evansville powerhouse found out that Jasper soccer is here to stay.

The seniors were Nikki Stork, Emily Hurst, Nicole Arensman, and Shannon Boehman. Coach French said, "These girls all showed determination and desire when we needed it the most." The captains were Juniors Adrienne Koval and Kristen Johanning, who "provided much of the leadership on and off the field."

Faking out the midfield, Adrienne Koval anticipates a pass from Elizabeth Guard.

Another great throw in by Nikki Stork! This senior brought much talent to the team.

Outsmarting the opponent, Shannon Boehman steals the ball.

Emily Hurst takes the ball out wide preparing for a goal scoring opportunity.

The positive and hardworking attitude of the Boys Soccer Team helped them to beat every Evansville team they faced. The captains were looked upon as leaders and examples for the team. Todd Ofer was a "natural leader" and Luke Carrie and Nick Werne "had skills to teach the team," stated Coach Platanos.

The offense was dominated by Luke Carrie and James Jones, while Nick Werne, Adam Kress, and Chris Aders held up the defense. Jairo Ballesteros, Oseas Villalobos and Brad Kluesner controlled the midfield. These players helped the team to a 11-4-2 record. Coach Platanos summed up the season by stating, "This team has a lot to be proud of."

Luke Carrie comes to the aid of Alex "Buster" Emmons as he sacrifices for the team.

Faking out the defense, Oscar Villalobos moves the ball towards the goal.

J.V. Cheerleaders. Row 1: Kelly Craig, Kristin Schmitt, and Jaleigh Burger. Row 2: Lauren Rees and Jami Scheu.

Senior Audrey Vogler receives Indiana's #1 Cheerleader and Academic All-State Team Member awards. Later she was named 17th in the Nation.

After the Wildcat Cheerleaders are named second in the Nation at Dallas, they celebrate with a ride on the "Texan Cattle."

CATCHING the spirit

During the '95-'96 school year, the cheerleaders had the most successful and exciting year in the school's history. The varsity squad earned their bid to the 1996 NCA National Championships in Dallas, Texas while attending camp. In December the varsity squad competed in the NCA Nationals where they placed second in their division out of 75 squads - Jasper's highest finish ever! Only 2 points kept Jasper from being the National Champs.

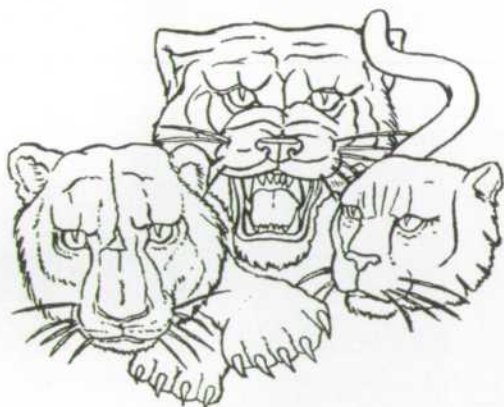

The '95-'96 cheerleading season upheld Jasper's strong reputation and helped pave the way for future Jasper cheerleaders.

Pom-poms have been used for decades as a tool to rev-up sports fans. Senior Cheerleader Angie Weisheit demonstrates how important these colored plastic strips truly are.

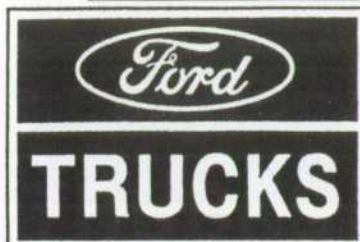

The Jasper Cheerleaders encourage the crowd to back the Wildcats during the Basketball Semi-State.

It is said an Eastern monarch once charged his wise men to invent him a sentence to be ever in view, and which should be true and appropriate in all times and situations. They presented him the words: "And this, too shall pass away." How much it expresses! How chastening the hour of pride! How consoling in the depths of affliction! ...And yet, let us hope, it is not quite true. Let us hope, rather, that by the best cultivation of the physical world beneath and around us, and the best intellectual and moral world within us, we shall secure an individual, social, and political prosperity and happiness, whose course shall be onward and upward, and which, while the earth endures, shall not pass away.

In Loving Memory
by Chrissy Goepner

Friends will always be the same in memory

Friends will never die
like smiles will never sigh

Time might change the game but friends will always stay the same

Time has torn friends apart
but they'll always be in our hearts

Like every other year the '95 - '96 staff was faced with deadlines and assignments. The staff did a great job on the most part of getting them done. We hope that everyone enjoyed this book, which will serve always as the memory of the '95-'96 school year. I want to take this time to thank all the "yearbookers" on their hard work and dedication to the staff.

Even though the seniors liked to whine and complain a lot, they all did great work. Allie you were the best of all. You were very dedicated, not missing a single meeting. Thanks for everything you did with Academics and your perfectly drawn spreads. Megan, I want to thank you for all your work as Co-editor; you did a great job on everything that you did. Way to go! Karin, great pictures. You have great talent; maybe one day you will work for The Herald, or something better. Kelly & Leslie, I am sorry that you didn't realize how much work was involved in the staff, but you did great in finishing the Senior section, and thanks for sticking it out! Chrissy, I know the extra work almost put you over the edge, but the ads section turned out awesome and I appreciated all of your effort. Tracy, you definitely did your fair share; thanks for doing all of those extra spreads. Karen, thanks for doing your work so well and not complaining. Matt, good job on your spreads, they were all very good. Jason & Angie, you stuck it out and I want to thank you for staying with it. To all seniors I wish you the best of luck in college and hope things are going well.

The Juniors were the most dedicated members of the staff. All of their work was top-notch and very well done. Ann & Beth, I wish you the best of luck next year. I hope that you do a good job. Kristen, thanks for being there to help everyone out when they were in a bind. Finally Nikki, even though I like to be mean to you, I do realize that if it wasn't for you, we would not have this yearbook. You will be missed. Good luck to all of you and enjoy your senior year.

The sophomores were very hard workers. Jayma, you did a great job in taking on extra responsibility. I am sorry that you were handed down so much. Abby, if you only had the energy at the end of the year that you started with at the beginning. Lindsay and Mandy, you guys were great! I know that if you stay with it, when you are seniors you will make the yearbook one of the best! Great Job on all of your spreads and helping everyone out when they needed it. Sophomores, keep it up!

We had many freshmen on the staff this year. I really didn't get a chance to get to know all of you very well, but I will do my best. Steve, Phillip, & Andy, great job with all you did. Good Luck with all of the women on the women dominated staff next year. Heather & Andrea, thanks for giving me some laughs about our "new honorable member." Chris, you will be a great leader when you get to the upper-classes. Stay on and keep up the dedication! Kimbra & Natalie, thanks for all of your hard work. Just don't worry so much about pictures that show hair.

Mrs. Fromme and Mrs Dauby, you are wonderful sponsors. Thanks for all of your time. We really appreciate everything that you do. Good luck with all future staffs.

If you are not on the yearbook staff and you read this let me tell you something. This staff was great to work with and worked very hard to make this a great yearbook. Thanks to the following: The Herald, Mr. Pumphrey of Herff Jones, the staff of JHS, and to last year's editor, Arny Stenftenagel for all her help, and especially to Robert McCarty Photography for all of our film and development of our pictures.
